have no objection to an arrangement by which the Government of India would accept the certificate of the East Africa Protectorate that a certain note had been surrendered in a damaged condition and that it had been destroyed and ~~that~~ another note had been issued in its place, without requiring that payment should be made for the substituted note. It would be understood that the numbers of both notes would be reported to India.

3. The Treasury also point out that rules would State's views as to what rules should be made in the Protectorates with this object.
