It should do so, especially if Upendo agrees to provide that 1/2 Coy from the 1st Kani for N. Tarkana.

(a) The disposition of troops Tarkana is shown para 7 of dep in 3760019
It will be noted that doggo (a good station - discovered by W. Dupin) remains on the Upendo side of the new boundary.
It is presumed the troops will still be stationed there for N. Tarkana.

(b) To carry out these measurements we shall need, I understand, an title in Council as the land is reserved and reserved and it is necessary to separate the land which is reserved from the land which is not reserved.
The land which is reserved is Tarkana, Tarkwell & adobe.

(c) The actual delimitation will have to be done by a party on the spot. It is apparent however that the dispute between them should not provide the delimiting party with the expense incurred by any thing in the nature of a regular to the boundary commission

I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 11th inst.
concerning the proposed boundary commission and in reply to inform you that the Government have the honour to inform you that the proposed boundary commission has been expressed by opinion that the experience was too largely expressed and that the Government have decided to favourably express their opinion to the effect that the proposed boundary commission should be appointed to the post which was previously occupied by the late boundary commissioner.

Very truly

3. All were agreed that the present boundary is unsatisfactory, because it cuts Northern and Southern Turkana in two, and does not satisfactorily define the borders of the Solomka and Karamoja tribes; we agreed as far as possible, to

5. General Kertine, opened the discussion by suggesting that Uganda should take over the Turkana.

Turkana and Suk countries, and administer the whole of these tribes, the boundary to be as described in paragraph 4 c. His arguments were as follows:-

The East Africa Protectorate already has its hands full with steadily increasing white settlement, the Indian Community's many interests and growing aspirations, large native tribes of diverse habits, languages and customs, and a vast population of nomads and small hundreds of miles of frontiers with many problems; Jubaland, the Somali frontiers and Somali territories, the Sudan Frontier, always turbulent, the Turkana, Karamoja and its frontiers, and the inter-tribal rivalries and the long distance caravan East African border, and since the war, Madai warriors raiding from both sides. To add all Turkana would increase the burden, and bring yet another, the Sudan, border into contact. The Sudan is already contiguous to Uganda, and it would be better to keep all that border in touch with one Protectorate. Uganda, almost purely a Native Protectorate, could more easily take over two more tribes, SUK and TURKANA. The constant inter-tribal raids between SUK and Karamoja could be better dealt with by Uganda. Northern Turkana, with its long western
