which is due to issue at the present time for a consideration other than cash.
Full and precise particulars of the consideration for which the issues in 7 (a) are to be made.

To whom are the issues in 7 (a) to be made?

8. Who are (a) the promoters, (b) the proposed directors, of the Company; what are their business addresses, and what is their experience in a business of this nature (i.e., please furnish names of firms with which they have been connected)?

9. If it is anticipated that the Company will obtain any contracts or sub-contracts from Government departments, a statement should be furnished giving full particulars (e.g., name of Government department, reasons for expecting such contracts or sub-contracts, &c.).

10. Please furnish in support of your application any additional facts which you think ought to be brought to this Department's notice.

11. As it may be necessary to refer this application to other Government departments, for certain information, delay will be avoided if you will kindly furnish three copies (in all) of your answers to the above questions. Carbon copies will, of course serve the purpose.

The issue price will be at par, but with the right to pay a commission of not more than 12½%.

The proceeds of the issue will be expended as to one-half in the purchase in the United Kingdom and shipment of copra drying plant and transport requirements. The balance will be mainly utilised in erecting buildings locally in Zanzibar and as capital for the purchase of Copra there.

In this Country, say £10,000.

Abrd, that is to say in Zanzibar, say £10,000.

The above Cash Issues will be placed privately, with certain Merchants interested in Copra.

It is not proposed to offer any part of the Issue to the Public.

The Issue will be made to certain Manufacturers and Agents interested in Copra and their friends.

The Shares which it is desired to issue as fully paid are 5,000 in Deferred Shares of One shilling each.

A consideration for the said Issue is for management of Company's Business.

The name of the person to whom the full paid shares are to be allotted is Mr. E.J. Dyer.

The Promoters of the Company are the Auxiliary Syndicate Limited, 62 London Wall, E.C.2.

The proposed Directors of the Company are Mr. E.J. Dyer a member of a Mincing Lane Firm and a Gentleman of position to be nominated to supervise the financial arrangements of the Company.

The manufactured material (copra) will be available for the British market from which it has been debarrred in the past owing to inferior quality due to the need of that machinery which it is now proposed to provide.

Zanzibar copra has been hitherto exported almost exclusively to Marseilles and, before the war, partly to Germany.

For the reasons mentioned above little or none was exported to this Country. In the ordinary course of trade, imports are paid for in exports. It is therefore submitted that by providing the comparatively inexpensive machinery and plant needed from England this Company will be able to produce a high class soap suitable for the British market to the value of something like £200,000 annually and that the greater part of this sum will be turned to Zanzibar in the shape of British produced goods for use in Zanzibar and the adjacent mainland. The foreseen sequence is that by exporting £10,000 or thereabouts in cash from this Country to the British Protectorate of Zanzibar an import and export trade valued at nearly £400,000 would be created between England and this Country.

Apart from our own personal investigations the Government Colonial Reports of Zanzibar strongly confirm the need of outside interests, preferably British, providing the necessary up-to-date drying plant by means of which the local copra industry (the second largest in the Protectorate) would benefit to an extent that would mean the welfare of the local planters and the promotion of the industry, and would consequently be profitable to England's prosperity.

Yours sincerely,

John C. Gandy

In receipt of your communication of the 8th instant
I beg to give you the following further information.

Institution of the Promoting Syndicate. This is a Private registered Company incorporated on the 10th December 1908 and its business has been mainly the finding of capital for Industrial and other Undertakings.

Business experience of Mr R.J. Dyer. Mr Dyer has had a partaken in the actual production of Copra all his life.

Previous to the War, he visited the Far East on several occasions as expert for Copra production.

Since the War he has been engaged on War Organisation work, mainly in connection with the Admiralty.

The Organisation which Mr Dyer founded himself and is General Manager and Secretary of, is the VEGETABLE PRODUCTS COMMITTEE FOR NAVAL SUPPLY.

This Committee has been successful in providing the Fleet with 40,000,000 pounds weight of fresh garden produce, through the medium of 400 Branches which Mr Dyer has himself established through the Provinces.

In the Report of the Committee of that Organisation issued

EAST AFRICAN TRADING SYNDICATE LIMITED.

We are in receipt of your communication of the 14th inst.

The Auxiliary Syndicate Ltd who are a Private Company, would be glad to know for what purpose their Balance Sheet is required.

A Balance Sheet will not be prepared in the ordinary course at the close of each financial year in June being, and would be incomplete, contain no reference whatever to the proposed amalgamation required.

This service to be rendered by them to Mr Dyer would merely consist of the creation of a new entity called the East African Trading Syndicate Ltd and the transfer of the capital thereof, ~~from~~ from their various Companies.

COMMITTEE FOR THE FLEET.

The Committee for the Fleet, which was formed in 1914, has been instrumental in securing the supply of vegetables throughout the United Kingdom and its Colonies and Dependencies. The proceeds of £4,000,000 were received from the sale of products raised at the Seafarers' Markets held in the last year. This sum, which is nearly equivalent to the total cost of the war, is really an efficient contribution, morally and materially, being the result of the efforts of the Naval Forces. The gratitude of the men for these gifts is fully testified by the innumerable letters sent to the Fleet by the thanks to our many branches of the Naval service. These letters always bear the signatures of the Admiralty and the Vice-Admiralty, and are therefore qualified to call themselves "Official". Our Patron, His Majesty, has given his approval of the work of the Committee, and our Admiralty also, has been good enough frequently to express its cordial appreciation of our organisation, and also on behalf of the Officers and men of the Grand Fleet, expressed, on his own account, and also on behalf of the Officers and men of the Grand Fleet, his earnest appreciation of our services, and the valuable help we give in the care of our men's comfort and health in the most difficult conditions. These official views were fully endorsed in a striking speech delivered by Admiral Sir Lionel Goss, in which it may be permissible for me to quote the following extract:

"It is hardly possible for the lay mind to grasp what these vegetable and fruit supplies mean to those men who have been obliged to remain almost continuously on their ships for over two and a half years. Their importance might easily be overlooked if one were to consider that they were an invaluable factor in keeping the men in good health and fitness, without which they could not possibly do the work expected of them. Therefore, those associated with the Vegetable Products Committee could happily assert that their work was of priceless value, for without a vegetable food, the men of the Fleet could not have so thoroughly performed their work in the past, nor will they be able to do so in the future without a continuance of this splendid work as efficiently and as generously as in the past two years."

This was followed early in the present year by a letter addressed separately to each of the Honorary Secretaries of our Branches, by Sir Oswyn A. R. Murray, K.C.B., Permanent Secretary to the Admiralty.

The letter is so eloquently descriptive of Fleet conditions on active service and forms such a signal tribute to the work of our Organization, that we may be excused for reproducing it in this report:

"I am commanded by my Lord Commissioner of the Admiralty, to acquaint you that they have recently but much regretfully discontinued upon the Navy by the Vegetable Products Committee by supplying and/or dramatic which we represent, the ladies taking an active part in the presentation.

Says, being under somewhat unusual conditions, the ladies of the Fleet could only show theirrough life-space occupied, and compared to the space available, which was less than half that of the ships, during a time of war, were considered to be a remarkable achievement, particularly when one remembers that the space available was, as far as possible, divided among many other activities.

The Great Western Railway Co. have been most generous in the facilities they have given us in the past, and we thank them sincerely for the excellent service rendered by their men.

During the early days of the Fleet we have had the great privilege of using the services of Mr. H. F. J. Haynes, General Manager of the Great Western Railway, and his courteous and considerate attitude towards our needs has greatly assisted our work.

Now that we are no longer dependent on the Great Western Railway for our supplies, the British Railways Board have been equally considerate and helpful in giving us all the facilities of their system.

In addition to the supplies of material, the ladies of the Fleet have received the services of the Engineers of the British Railways, who have been most helpful in fitting up the various places of assembly, and in making arrangements for the delivery and collection of supplies, the result being a considerable saving in the cost of transport.

It is a pleasure to record that the British Railways Board have now put us in touch with the Managers of the principal road haulage companies, and we are grateful to them for the support they are giving us.

Navy Pints.—In our reports for the preceding year we had a special tribute to the remarkable way in which many of our ladies were saving supplies by the utilization of special marks solely for the use of the Fleet. We are glad to report that this excellent work has now been carried on throughout the Fleet during the last twelve months. A great deal of care has been taken to ensure that the marks used are clearly legible, so that they may be readily identified.

School Children's Work.—We again wish to express our thanks for the splendid work done by the school children who assisted us over the past twelve months. A great many thanks are due to the old ladies and their daughters for their continuous and tireless efforts.

We are also expressing our thanks to the members of the Fleet for their continued interest in the welfare of the Grand Fleet.

Prizes from the Grand Fleet.—With presents and mementos presented which we grantfully acknowledge from the Grand Fleet, and generally presented prizes which we gratefully accept, after a public appreciation, and much flushed enthusiasm to those of our Branches which have shown a marked increase in their services to the Fleet.

Our Branches are doing a most wonderful work, especially the Preston and Swindon Branches, the former showing an increase of 16% in the value of their contributions to the Fleet. Every instance these ladies and quantitatively and financially, in a manner that is most gratifying.

Harvest Thanksgivings.—It is a particular pleasure to note the large increase this year in the Harvest Thanksgiving presentations to the Fleet. The quantities have been substantial, and the sum not far short of double of those of the preceding season.

Government Support.—We are glad to have this opportunity of recording our appreciation of the continuous and unstinting support given to us by the Admiralty and other Departments of State, and particularly of the support given us by the Admiralty in view of the import restrictions and difficulties which we are able to implement upon our Branches, and the various exemptions granted to us by the Admiralty in respect of the Naval Bases, and certain supplies for our Fleet.

Community Help.—We are especially thankful to our admirals and Navy Board members for the continuous support given by the Board of Admiralty, and the various additional services of the Admiralty whose records and such documents as exemptions from import restriction, imports of which we are able to implement upon our Branches. Above all, the Fleet is very grateful to the Admiralty for the many privileges we owe our best thanks to the Admiralty, Admirals, and Admirals of the Fleet, and to those serving in the Fleet.

On this thanksgiving we express our sincere thanks.

The Great Western Railway Co.—A special mention must be made to the Great Western Railway Co., in providing us with the facilities for the use of their own men for the delivery and collection of supplies, and the men employed in the delivery and collection of supplies, the result being a considerable saving in the cost of transport.

To Our Aircraft

We are very grateful to the Air Ministry for the constant and unstinting support given to us by the Air Ministry in respect of the delivery and collection of supplies, and the delivery and collection of supplies.

The Navy's Cinema Fund

We are grateful to the Admiralty for the support given to us by the Admiralty in respect of the delivery and collection of supplies, following the implementation of the Cinema Fund.

The implemented Cinema Fund at the beginning of this year, in addition to the £1,000,000 already allocated for the Fleet, will add an additional £1,000,000.

The implemented Cinema Fund at the beginning of this year, in addition to the £1,000,000 already allocated for the Fleet, will add an additional £1,000,000.

Mr. Montagu, the chairman of the Cinema Fund Committee, is Chairman, and it also includes the Commanders-in-Chief of the Home Fleet, and the Lords of the Admiralty. In giving his support, Admiral Sir Quigley stated as follows: "The benefit of the sum from your trust in the matter cannot be easily grasped, and I do not like to say what the minds of the members of the Committee are yearly withdrawn from the sum £1,000,000, and thereby become idle who are continually renewing their work."

In his letter, Mr. President suggested that such a sum within the following year, the £100,000 which might generally be expected to profit, should be given by the Admiralty.

He further stated that the proceeds of the £1,000,000 should be divided equally among the men and women of the Fleet.

His request was gratified in being able to report that the members of the fleet in general and the Admiralty, that our public spirit and devotion are outstanding, which are the foundations of the comfort and welfare of these gallant men and women.

Our Honorary Treasurers.—A very hearty measure of thanks is due to our Honorary Treasurers, Messrs. Charles T. Eales, Browning and Hussey—the well-known Chartered Accountants of London, S.E. 1, C.C., who receive and look after our cash, donations, and other contributions, and who have voluntarily given their generous and invaluable assistance.

Honorary Auditors.—We are also deeply grateful to Mr. D. G. Wark, Mr. G. T. T. Herbert, and Mr. J. L. S. G. for their valuable audit of our accounts.

Honorary Advisers and Consigning Agents.—The following gentlemen, the Messrs. Joseph Stevens & Son, Limited, and Mr. Edward P. W. Newell, have been of great assistance to us throughout the year.

Over-Sea Funds.—A very special mention must be made to the Royal Naval Officers' Association, and to the Royal Naval Association, who have been of great assistance to us throughout the year.

To Our Branches.—Though somewhat redundant in respect of our earlier remarks, we sincerely thank the ladies of our Branches for their generous and valuable support.

In part, we nevertheless, feel compelled to give special expression to our unqualified praise for the fine work of our Branches. Indeed, no words can adequately represent our debt of appreciation and gratitude, so cordially endorsed by the Admiralty and the Navy's personnel, for the splendid and patriotic work carried on for so long by the Honorary Secretaries and their Committees and helpers to whom we extend our heartiest congratulations and warmest thanks. We believe that their work sustained week after week, in all weathers, for over four years, constitutes one of the most remarkable records of sustained voluntary effort of which the war has produced so many striking examples.

Mr. E. Jerome Dyer. — We also desire to record our sincere admiration and deep appreciation of the exceptionally able organising capacity and devoted voluntary labours of our Honorary General Secretary (Mr. E. Jerome Dyer), to whose initiative this organisation owes its existence, and under whose skilful, competent direction and management it has achieved such conspicuous success.

Head Office Work. — It consists of organising new depots, advancing Branches, supplying speakers to them, sending supplies and providing them with books, news-labels, advice and general information, and in this way assisting the Branches to get up their work of collecting and distributing supplies. In this season of the late winter and spring, when supplies from the Home ports are scarce, the work of the Head Office is, of course, limited to the preparation of lists of supplies required by the Branches, and the sending of these lists to the various depots.

Branch Work. — This consists of reporting to the Head Office, weekly, the amount of supplies sent to the Branches, and the amount received by them; of sending reports, covered by a weekly news-label, to the members of the Branches, giving news of supply, and of the progress of the work; of sending to the Head Office a weekly account of the amount of supplies sent to the Branches, and the amount received by them; and of sending to the Head Office a weekly account of the amount of supplies sent to the Branches, and the amount received by them.

with ref. to the application
by the East African Trading Syndicate limited which was submitted for obsrns in form note of the 28th of March, C. 26197, nothing has as yet come to the knowledge of the enterprise or its promoters, but the ~~Co. but the Secy State~~

is anxious that the Jangtze Cotton industry should be developed as much as possible on sound lines... On these general grounds therefore he would be glad if the next general business for the Bank of Capital could be handled ~~in the~~ ^{signature of} ~~considering~~ ~~that the~~ ~~Capital~~ ^{with regard to} ~~Committee~~ are satisfied with the terms proposed by the firm of
