the procedure in these cases is that the patient is admitted to a public asylum, where he is treated as a private patient and the cost of his maintenance is borne by the State, so that he is placed in a private home. If the latter course is adopted you will be required to pay the difference of any between the cost of his maintenance in such a home and the amount granted on his behalf from National

Heads

4. If you will state which of these two courses you wish to be followed, and in the
