June 23rd, 1915.

Sir,

With reference to Mr. Harcourt's despatch No. 18, King's African Rifles, of the 13th April last, I have the honour to inform you that I consider that in all cases in which European members of Regular and Volunteer forces serving in this Protectorate have to be sent home for reasons of health a free passage should be provided.

I further consider that leave at Army rates of pay should be conceded to all such officers and men while in England until such time as they are reported to have recovered from the wound or illness for which they were incapacitated - subject in every case to such limitations as may be imposed by law.
