Imperial Loan £3,000,000 - allocation of expenditure.

States, with regard to "warehouses and Reclamation of Forestland" that cost of construction of buildings was not included in sum of £3000 mentioned in Gen. Manager's letter dated 10th Nov 1914. Provision of £3000 for permanent way for Sidcup has been included under "Reclamation of Forestland". Reclamation under Parliamentary term but send prompt intimation of these sums had proved insufficient.

It appeared from 37/46 that the filling in would cost £3000 & the building construction £4000 more & that this was no provision for the latter.

It now appears that they will be able to construct their buildings for £3000 instead of £4000 & that provision has been made for this under the £3,000,000 Loan.

As regards this last point, the Schedule to the Loan Ord is merely provided, under (b) 7,

"nature & situation" minor works £22,800. The despatch (36128/14) giving the details for which we constructed the Schedule,

Filling in Foreshore £3000 which is no doubt the item referred to.

But, if we were not justified in interpreting Mr. Eastwood's relaxation of foreshore as including the construction of sidings, it seems ~~undoubtedly~~ equally unreasonable to require filling in foreshore as provision for the same purpose. So far from the money having been provided for the construction of sidings, the foreshore to allow this £3000 for the sidings seems to be yet another re-allocation.

Very possibly the explanation is that Mr. Taylor's £3000 for filling in, in 36/18/14, & Mr. Eastwood's £3000 for relaxation, in 7009 <sup>14</sup>/<sub>15</sub>, represent the same sum, & that the former has been overlooked hitherto & is now regarded as available for the construction of sidings. I think we need not object.

? Ask: & approve of the £3000 provided foreshore, ~~with~~ ~~to~~ ~~the~~ ~~Foreshore~~ ~~to~~ ~~be~~ ~~used~~ ~~for~~ ~~the~~ ~~£3,000,000 loan on "filling in foreshore" being applied to the construction of sidings, and but point out that as a further advance of loan funds cannot be expected for some time temporary provision will have to be made for meeting the cost from some other source if it is denied to complete the siding scheme without delay. 2. With regard to the item for "Warehouses and Reclamation of Foreshore", the cost of the construction of sidings was not included in the sum of £3,000/- mentioned by the General Manager in his letter of December 14th, 1914 which was enclosed in my despatch No. 1049 of the 2nd idem.† It was recognized that the work would take some time to carry out, and the provision was asked for the reclamation alone.

3. The permanent way necessary for the sidings, if second hand material be used, would not necessitate the expenditure of £3,000, and the provision for this part of the work has been included under "Reclamation of Foreshore, Kilindini, £3,000" in the new
