Dear Sir,

I am to be pleased that you should be here certain this regarding the general situation, & we shall appreciate very much indeed any advice and information which you may be able to place at our disposal. To enable you to judge our requirements, we are taking the liberty of going further fully into the details of this transaction.

The company Meat Packers, Inc. has recently signed contracts for its plant. Its plans include the shipping in a number of complete units, based on our previous orders for 1st class, 2nd class and 3rd class for details for the manufacture of preserved meat.

It is our belief that the plant will be completed by the end of the year. We are at present in the process of securing the necessary equipment and materials. We are also endeavouring to secure the necessary quantity of cattle. We are at present in the process of securing the necessary
quantity of cattle. We are at present in the process of securing the necessary quantity of cattle.

Yours faithfully,
The Secretary

Cold Storage Department of the British Government during the war. It might mention here that we have a number of English and Australian shareholders.

The Agricultural Department here, however, think there are about 5,000,000 native cattle in Tanganyika Territory not served by any such works. We are of the opinion that their quality would be quite suitable for the manufacture of canned meats.

In the earlier part of the war, of course, a great deal of the best of these cattle were exported, but now it is considerably in the reverse of the Territory under consideration.

Could you give us any information regarding Tanganyika Territory and suitable water power or what resources it has as to operating our works? Our estimate would be from 5 to 10,000 tons of water, and could handle an estimated 100,000 to 200,000 cattle a day.

Is it not possible to get the cattle to the water power plants? We are of the opinion that you would find it possible to get the cattle to the water power plants for information give these things.

We think, of course, that operation would be possible at the present time, but we are of the opinion that in future of any sort would be suitable into the water of rivers in which the fish would be abundant. In this way, any pollution of the waters would be avoided.

The main point we wish to stress is, of course, that we want to operate at a distance from existing land works so that the cattle may be purchased on as reasonable a basis as possible.

Enclosed we wish to hand you a rough view of one of our proposed works in operation, and also a plan of the main.

...very grateful
