There is some question as to whether the Board intended to control the management of the private enterprise in the London and North Western Railway Company

I write to suggest that in the London and North Western Railway Company, as we should be under the same administration and the same management would also ease the burden on the Board besides simplifying the work we shall have to do

When the Board of Directors of the London and North Western Railway Company is drafted, the above suggestion may be considered

I enclose herewith a few minutes of the meeting of the Board of Directors of the London and North Western Railway Company held on Monday
