It is no longer permanent disposition of net revenue can be determined. The question of war expenditure liability now under consideration by the Government. Cannot find any warrant for assumption that the railway would eventually be Imperial. Pending decision on military expenditure the issue of loan should be decided in any way so as not to meet a claim of liability must be decided with regard for existing conditions.

Mr. H. ...
Mr. J. Liddle

The Treasury maintain their view that the net revenue of the Uganda Railway is at their disposal. Their view is supported in connection with the question of Kenya's liability for a share of war expenditure, but is of general application, and it should not be odd to apply net revenue to financing new development (and still less to make reductions of rates in local interests) without finding that whatever the Exchequer shows but have first claim to the cost. As regards the relation of the war liability to the loan, the sentiment at the end of the letter is unexceptionable, but with regard to it is a question of some financial concern is that the requirements of

Sir,

With reference to the letter of the Secretary of State for the Colonies, dated 13th August 1920, in which you requested me to inform you of the views of the Treasury as to the permanent disposition of the revenue derived from the Uganda Railway, it is determined apart from the question of the liability of Kenya for war expenditure which is now under the consideration of the Cabinet, that a statement was made by Mr. Churchill in the House of Commons on the 6th August 1920 with regard to the application of the profits of the railway and of course reference to the circumstances then obtaining and by Lord Curzon in the arrangements made at any time warrant for any assumption that the amount given that the railway would eventually be the property of the Imperial Government has been waived.

REC'D
12 April 1921

Sir,

The Lord Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury have had under consideration Sir Herbert Read's letter of the 2nd ^{to} (2540 KAR) and 7th ^{file} (1562A) December 1920, regarding the application of the Pensions Increase Act 1920 to pensions awarded in the East Indies and other Colonies, with special reference to pensions awarded in the East Indies to Civilian Employees, with special reference to pensions awarded in the East Indies to Civilian Employees of European extraction, who retired before the reorganisation of the Colonial Office.

The Lord Commissioners have decided that the provisions of the Act shall apply to pensions awarded under the Act to Civilian Employees of European extraction, who retired before the reorganisation of the Colonial Office.

Secretary of State,
Colonial Office.

1st

1st April, 1920, and who were in receipt of such pensions on the 15th August 1920, the date of the passing of the Act.

It will be observed that the Act does not admit of an increase being awarded to a pensioner who has retired for reasons other than physical or mental infirmity until such time as he attains the age of 60 years. That limit, however, has not interfered in the right of the pensioner who is aged 50 at the voluntary retiring age in the Home Civil Service. It is noted that in many other voluntary retirements the age limit of 60 does not therefore remain a claim to an increase before reaching that age.

The provisions of the Schedule to the Act should be carefully observed, notably those of Part IV.

In one respect only would it be ready to suggest a departure from the provisions of the Act, viz with regard to the stipulation of Section 2 (1) as to residence. Strictly construed the subsection would confine the benefit of the Act to a pensioner who had continued to reside in one of the territories in which he had served. It would be willing that residence in either Uganda, Nyassaland, Somaliland, Tanganyika, Kenya or Zanzibar, or in the British Isles should be regarded as qualifying for the purpose of this subsection.

With regard to the question of means under Section 2 (1) it is suggested that with a view to minimizing difficulties caused by fluctuations in the Exchange, the means limits for residents in the florin-using Dependencies should be expressed as 1,500 florins for the "unmarried" and 2,000 florins for the "married"; it is to be assumed that no pensioner entitled to benefit under the Act will have served in Somaliland.

It is proposed to make another opportunity of addressing the Secretary of State on the methods of appointment to be adopted in cases of mixed service.

The

1st April, 1920, and who were in receipt of such pensions on the 15th April 1920, the date of the passing of the Act.

It will be observed that the Act does not admit of an increase being awarded to a pensioner who has retired for reasons other than physical or mental infirmity until such time as he attains the age of 60 years. This limitation has now been inserted in the light of the fact that the age of 60 is the ordinary retiring age in the Home Civil Service and that the "infirm" officers voluntarily retire at the age of 60 does not therefore constitute a claim to an increase before attaining that age.

The provisions of the Schedule to the Act should be carefully observed, notably those set out in Part II.

It may be pointed out that Mr. Lardie is ready to suggest a departure from the provisions of the Act, viz with regard to the stipulation of Section 2 (1), as to residence. Strictly construed this subsection would confine the benefit of the Act to a pensioner who had continued to reside in one of the territories in which he had served. Mr. Lardie would be willing that residence in either Uganda, Nyassaland, Somaliland, Tanganyika, Kenya or Zanzibar, or in the British Isles should be regarded as qualifying for the purpose of this subsection.

With regard to the question of means under Section 2 (1) I do not suggest that with a view to minimizing difficulties caused by fluctuations in the Exchange, the means limits for residents in the florin-using Dependencies should be expressed as 1,500 florins for the "unmarried" and 2,000 florins for the "married"; it is to be borne in mind that no pensioner entitled to benefit under the Act will have served in Somaliland.

Mr. Lardie proposes to take another opportunity of advising the Secretary of State on the methods of appointment to be adopted in cases of mixed service.

INSTRUCTIONS TO APPLICANTS

His Majesty's Government have decided to increase the pensions of such State pensioners in receipt of pensions on the 1st August 1920, and satisfy the following conditions:-

- (i) The pensioner must be of the British Islands;
 - (ii) The pensioner must have attained the age of 60 years, or have retired on account of physical or mental infirmity, or in the case of a pensioner who is a widow in receipt of a pension payable in respect of the services of her deceased husband must have attained the age of 50 years;
 - (iii) The pensioner's means inclusive of pension or pensions must be less than £50 a year if unmarried, or £60 a year if married.
- (The expression "means" in the case of a married person includes the means of both husband and wife.)

Any pensioner who desires to make a claim should furnish on the enclosed particulars of his income, property, &c. Where the applicant is married the income, property, &c. of both husband and wife must be included. The particulars should be furnished on the date of application.

When the statement is completed the applicant should make a Declaration to the statement to the effect of the following:-

- A Justice of the Peace;
- A Commissioner of the Customs;
- A Commissioned Officer not below the rank of Lieutenant-Commander in the Navy;
- or Major in the Army;
- A Barrister at Law;
- A Minister of Religion;
- A Bailiff, or 50 Scotland, a Bank Agent;
- A Medical Practitioner;
- A Collector of Customs or Excise;
- An Inspector of Taxes.

He should then forward the Statement and Declaration to the Department from which he receives his existing pension.

If for the purpose of obtaining or continuing an increase of pension for himself or any other person, or for the purpose of obtaining such increase at a rate higher than that which he is entitled to, any person knowingly makes a false statement or representation, or is convicted of an offence for a term exceeding six months, and in the case of a pensioner shall forfeit any pension or increase of pension payable to him.

NOTE.—The scale of increases is set out in the Schedule to the Pensions (Increase) Act, which is as follows:—

PART I.

1. Limitations on the Amount of Increase of Pensions.

Where the existing pension does not exceed 50*l.* a year—

it may be increased by 50 per cent.

Where the existing pension exceeds 50*l.* a year, but does not exceed 100*l.* a year, in the case of an unmarried person or 130*l.* a year in the case of a married person—

it may be increased by 40 per cent.

Where the existing pension exceeds 100*l.* a year, but is less than 150*l.* a year in the case of an unmarried person, or exceeds 130*l.* a year, but is less than 200*l.* a year in the case of a married person—

it may be increased by 30 per cent.

Provided that—

(ii) no pension shall be increased by an amount greater than is sufficient to bring the total means of the pensioner, including the increased pension up to £150 a year in the case of an unmarried person, or £200 a year in the case of a married person.

2. Where a pensioner is in receipt of two pensions to which section one of this Act applies, or of one such pension and of a pension as a naval or military pensioner, such pensions shall for the purposes of the above scale be treated as one pension of an amount equal to the aggregate amount of the two pensions.

3. Where, before the passing of this Act a pension has, since the grant thereof, been increased, the increase authorised under this Act shall be calculated on the original amount of the pension, and the amount by which it may be increased under this Act shall be reduced to the amount which it would have been if the increase so previously granted had not been made.

PART II.

Additional Limitation on Increases of Pensions Granted after the 4th day of August 1914.

Where an existing pension granted on or after the 4th day of August 1914, is less than a pre-war pension by reason of an improvement in the pension scale or an increase in the pensionable emoluments made since that date, the pension shall not be increased under this Act by an amount greater than is sufficient to make the increased pension equal to the amount to which the pre-war pension might have been increased under Part I. of this Schedule.

NOTE.—The scale of increases is set out in the Schedule to the Pensions (Increase) Act, which is as follows:—

PART I.

1. Limitations on the Amount of Increase of Pensions.

Where the existing pension does not exceed 50*l.* a year—

it may be increased by 50 per cent.

Where the existing pension exceeds 50*l.* a year, but does not exceed 100*l.* a year, in the case of an unmarried person or 130*l.* a year in the case of a married person—

it may be increased by 40 per cent.

Where the existing pension exceeds 100*l.* a year, but is less than 150*l.* a year, in the case of an unmarried person, or exceeds 130*l.* a year, but is less than 200*l.* a year, in the case of a married person—

it may be increased by 30 per cent.

Provided that—

(ii) no pension shall be increased by an amount greater than is sufficient to bring the total means of the pensioner, including the increased pension up to £150 a year in the case of an unmarried person, or £200 a year in the case of a married person.

2. Where a pensioner is in receipt of two pensions to which section 1 of this Act applies, or of one such pension and of a pension as a naval or military pensioner, such pensions shall for the purposes of the above scale be treated as one pension of an amount equal to the aggregate amount of the two pensions.

3. Where before the passing of this Act a pension has, since the grant thereof, been increased, the increase authorised under this Act shall be calculated on the original amount of the pension, and the amount by which it may be increased under this Act shall be reduced by the amount of the increase so previously granted.

PART II.

Additional Limitation on Increases of Pensions Granted after the 4th day of August 1914.

Where an existing pension granted on or after the 4th day of August 1914, is less than a pre-war pension by reason of an improvement in the pension scale or an increase in the pensionable emoluments, since that date, the pension shall not be increased under this Act by an amount greater than is sufficient to make the increased pension equal to the amount to which the pre-war pension might have been increased under Part I. of this Schedule.

TREASURY REGULATIONS UNDER SECTION 4 OF THE PENSIONS (INCREASE) ACT, 1920, RELATING TO PENSIONERS TO WHOM SECTION 1 OF THE ACT APPLIES.

1. The pensioners to whom these rules apply are pensioners who on the sixteenth day of August, nineteen hundred and twenty, were in receipt of pensions granted—under the Superannuation Acts, 1834 to 1914;

* The persons before whom this Declaration may be subscribed (provided they are the qualified persons to attest) are as follow -

- A Justice of the Peace
- A Commissioner for Oaths
- A Barrister at Law
- A Minister of Religion
- A Commissioned Officer (not below the rank of Lieutenant Commander or Major)
- A Medical Practitioner.
- A Bank Manager (or in Scotland a Branch Agent).
- A Collector of Customs and Excise.
- An Inspector of Taxes.

5. The statement as to amounts in the declaration shall be made with reference to twelve months preceding the date of the Declaration, provided that, if the applicant shows to the satisfaction of the Pension Authority that there has been such a change of circumstances that his means in the ensuing year will be materially reduced, the Pension Authority may take such change into consideration.

6. Where in pursuance of an application an increase of pension is granted, the increase shall continue in force for twelve months unless in the meantime the pensioner dies or ceases to fulfil the statutory conditions. The said twelve months may be reckoned from a date not earlier than the date of application or, in a case where the application is made within three months of the date of the Order applying the provisions of the Act to the applicant, from the 1st April, 1920, or the date on which the statutory conditions are fulfilled, if later.

7. Applications for the continuance and re-assessment of increases of pensions, accompanied by a like declaration, shall be sent to the pension authority not more than three nor less than two months before the expiration of the first and every subsequent period of twelve months.

8. The means of a pensioner shall for the purposes of the Act include—

- the pension in respect of which the increase is claimed;
- any other pension, grant, allowance, or annuity (including Old Age Pension) received by the pensioner;
- the annual value of any land or house property, but not to the deduction of ground rent, mortgages or such interest, or other annual charge;
- interest or dividends on stocks or shares, or on annuities or other securities or on bank deposits;
- profits or wages of any trade, business, profession, or office, employment or vocation, including overtime pay and bonus, if any; and
- the annual value of any other benefit or privilege whatsoever, enjoyed by the pensioner.

9. For the purposes of the Act, a pensioner shall be deemed to reside in the British Islands if his permanent place of abode is in the British Islands, and if he continues to dwell therein during the time the increase is payable, provided that a pensioner shall not be disqualified from receiving the increase by reason only that he or she is only temporarily absent from the British Islands for a period not exceeding three months in any one year, or for so much further period as the Pension Authority may determine that he or she has been prevented from returning by causes beyond his or her control.

10. The pensioner shall, if and when required by the Pension Authority, produce any birth, death, or marriage certificate or such other documentary evidence relative to the fulfilment of the statutory conditions as the Authority may consider necessary.

11. Where the Pension Authority is satisfied by the certificate of a justice of the peace, or minister of religion and of a duly qualified medical practitioner, that a pensioner is of unsound mind or otherwise incapable of making a declaration in the prescribed form, it may accept a declaration made on behalf of the pensioner by any person who appears to the Authority a proper person to represent the pensioner.

12. Any question which may arise in connection with the fulfilment by the pensioner of the statutory conditions or any of them shall be determined by the Minister of Health, or in the case of a pensioner in receipt of a pension granted by a Pension Authority in Scotland by the Secretary for Scotland, whose decision shall be final.

CHAPTER 36.

Act to authorise the increase of certain Pensions. A.D. 1920.
[16th August 1920.]

Enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in this present Parliament assembled, that it shall and lawfully may be enacted as follows:

1. The King's most Excellent Majesty doth hereby give Power to His Majesty, His Majesty's Privy Council or His Majesty's Commissioners in that behalf lawfully appointed, to cause to be made, in any of the following cases, such regulations as may seem to His Majesty, His Majesty's Privy Council or His Majesty's Commissioners to be necessary or expedient for giving effect to the provisions of this Act, subject to the provisions of this Act in that behalf made, and to the conditions therein contained, and to such conditions as may be lawfully imposed in that behalf by His Majesty, His Majesty's Privy Council or His Majesty's Commissioners.

2. The regulations made under this Act may be made so as to apply to persons who are entitled to pensions under any of the following enactments, that is to say:

(a) The Statute in that behalf made by the Statute Law Revision Act, 1908, relating to the pensions of British School Teachers; and

(b) The Statute in that behalf made by the Statute Law Revision Act, 1908, relating to the pensions of the Royal Irish Constabulary and the Dublin Metropolitan Police.

3. The increase shall have effect as from the first day of January nineteen hundred and twenty.

4. The statutory conditions for the increase of pensions under this Act are:—

Statutory conditions for increase of pension.

- (1) The pensioner must reside in the British Islands;

A.D. 1920.

- (2) The pensioner must have attained the age of sixty years, or have retired on account of physical or mental infirmity, or in the case of a pensioner who is a widow and is in receipt of a pension payable in respect of the services of her deceased husband, must have attained the age of forty years;
- (3) The pensioner must satisfy the pension authority that his means, including his pension, are less than one hundred and fifty pounds a year, if unmarried, or two hundred pounds a year, if married.

Application to pensioners of police, local, and public authorities.

3. The Treasury after consultation with the appropriate Government department may, by order, authorise the application of the foregoing provisions of this Act, including the Schedule therein referred to, to pensioners in receipt of pensions granted by any police, local, or other public authority, and thereupon such police, local, or other public authority shall apply such provisions to pensioners granted by them.

Regulations.

4. The Treasury may make regulations for carrying this Act into effect and in particular—

- (a) for prescribing the evidence required as to the fulfillment of the statutory conditions and for defining the meaning of residence for the purpose of the Act; and
- (b) for prescribing the manner in which claims for increase of pensions may be made and the procedure to be followed for the consideration and determination of such claims; and
- (c) for prescribing the manner in which the means of a person are to be calculated for the purposes of the Act.

Provided that in making regulations affecting pensioners in receipt of pensions from police, local, or other public authorities, the Treasury shall act in consultation with the appropriate Government department.

Penalty for false statements, &c.

5. If for the purpose of obtaining or continuing an increase of pension—

- (a) under this Act; or
- (b) under any Order in Council or Royal Warrant authorising the grant of corresponding benefits to military or naval pensioners;

either for himself or for any other person, or for the purpose of obtaining or continuing such increase a false statement that is appropriate to the case, any person knowingly makes, or is convicted on a summary conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months and, in the case of a pensioner, to forfeit any pension or increase of pension payable to him.

A.D. 1920.

6. Any increase in a pension granted under any Order in Council for the purpose of such corresponding benefits as aforesaid to naval or military pensioners shall not be taken into account in determining the amount of or of ability for a special increased Hospital Pension under section five of the Greenwich Hospital Act, 1838, as amended by section four of the Greenwich Hospital Act, 1893.

Provision as to special Greenwich Hospital pensions. 32 & 33 Vict. c. 44. s. 61 & 38. 1903. c. 21. f.

(1) For the purpose of this Act—
The expression "pension authority" means the Secretary or other authority by whom a pension is granted.

Secretary of State.

The expression "married person" includes a widow or widower with one or more children under any age, or a person dependent on him or her and the expression "unmarried person" includes a widow or widower having no such children.

The expression "means" in the case of a married person in receipt of a pension means the means of both husband and wife.

The expression "naval or military pensioner" means a person who is in receipt of a pension in respect of such service as the widow of such a person who is in receipt of a pension in respect of the naval or military service of her deceased husband, and the expression "prescribed" means prescribed by regulations under this Act.

7. This Act shall not apply to any pension or part of a pension which has been commuted.

8. This Act may be cited as the Pensions (Increase) Act, 1920.

SCHEDULE

Sections 1 and 2.

PART I.

LIMITATIONS OF THE AMOUNT OF INCREASE OF PENSIONS.

Where the existing pension is not exceed 50 l. a year	It may be increased by 50 per cent.
Where the existing pension exceeds 50 l. a year, but does not exceed 100 l. a year in the case of an unmarried person or 130 l. a year in the case of a married person	It may be increased by 40 per cent.

A.D. 1920.

(2) The pensioner must have attained the age of sixty years, or have retired on account of physical or mental infirmity, or, in the case of a pensioner who is a widow and is in receipt of a pension payable in respect of the services of her deceased husband, must have attained the age of forty years;

(3) The pensioner must satisfy the pension authority that his means, including his pension, are less than one hundred and fifty pounds a year, if unmarried, or two hundred pounds a year, if married.

3. The Treasury after consultation with the appropriate Government department may, by order, authorise the application of the foregoing provisions of this Act, including the Schedule therein referred to, to pensioners in receipt of pensions granted by any police, local, or other public authority, and thereupon such police, local, or other public authority shall apply such provision to pensions granted by them.

Application to pensioners of police, local, and public authorities.

Regulations.

4. The Treasury may make regulations for carrying this Act into effect, and in particular—

- (a) for prescribing the evidence required as to the facts and means of the statutory conditions and for defining the meaning of residence for the purposes of this Act; and
- (b) for prescribing the manner in which claims for increase of pensions may be made and the procedure to be followed for the consideration and determination of claims; and
- (c) for prescribing the manner in which the means of a person are to be calculated for the purposes of this Act.

Provided that, in making regulations affecting pensioners in receipt of pensions from police, local, or other public authorities, the Treasury shall act in consultation with the appropriate Government department.

Fines for false statements, &c.

5. If for the purpose of obtaining or continuing an increase of pension—

- (a) under this Act; or
- (b) under any Order in Council or Royal Warrant providing for the grant of corresponding benefits to military pensioners, either for himself or for any other person, or for the purpose of obtaining or continuing such increase at a higher rate than that appropriate to the case, any person knowingly makes a false statement or false representation, he shall be liable on a summary conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months and, in the case of a pensioner, to forfeit any pension or increase of pension payable to him.

6. Any increase in a pension granted under any Order in Council for the grant of such corresponding benefits as aforesaid to a military or naval pensioner shall not be taken into account in determining the amount of, or of eligibility for, a special Hospital Allowance payable under section five of the Special Hospital Act, 1916, or a special Hospital Allowance payable under section four of the Civil Hospital Act, 1930.

Provisions as to special Hospital pensioners. 32 & 33 Vict. c. 44. 61 & 62 Vict. c. 21.

(1) For the purposes of this Act—
The expression "pension authority" means the Secretary or other authority by whom a pension is granted.

The expression "married person" includes a widow or wife, with one or more children under the age of sixteen years of age dependent on him or her and the expression "unmarried person" includes a widow or wife who has no such children.

The expression "means" in the case of a married person includes the means of both husband and wife.

The expression "naval or military pensioner" means a person who is in receipt of a pension, in respect of such service, or the widow of such a person who is in receipt of a pension, in respect of the naval or military service of her deceased husband.

The expression "prescribed" means prescribed by regulations under this Act.

7. This Act shall not apply to any pension or part of a pension which has been commuted.

8. This Act may be cited as the Pensions (Increase) Act, 1920.

SCHEDULE.

PART I.

LIMITATIONS OF THE AMOUNT OF INCREASE OF PENSIONS.

Where the existing pension is not exceed 500 a year, it may be increased by 50 per cent.

Where the existing pension exceeds 500 a year, but does not exceed 1000 a year in the case of an unmarried person or 1300 a year in the case of a married person, it may be increased by 40 per cent.

Sections 1 and 2.

A.D. 1920.

Where the existing pension exceeds 100*l.* a year, but is less than 150*l.* a year in the case of an unmarried person, or exceeds 130*l.* a year, but is less than 200*l.* a year in the case of a married person, it may be increased by 30 per cent.

Provided that—

- (i) if the amount to which a pension may be increased under the above scale is less than the amount to which a smaller pension might be increased, it may be increased to the latter amount;
- (ii) no pension shall be increased by an amount greater than is sufficient to bring the total means of the pensioner, including the increased pension up to 150*l.* a year in the case of an unmarried person, or 200*l.* a year in the case of a married person.

2. Where a pensioner is in receipt of two pensions to which section one of this Act applies or of one such pension and of a pension as a naval or military pensioner, such pensions shall, for the purpose of the above scale, be treated as one pension of an amount equal to the aggregate amount of the two pensions.

3. Where before the passing of this Act a pension has, since the grant thereof, been increased, the increase authorised under this Act shall be calculated on the original amount of the pension, and the amount by which it may be increased under this Act if it be reduced by the amount of the increase so previously granted.

PART II.

ADDITIONAL LIMITATION ON INCREASE OF PENSIONS GRANTED AFTER THE 4TH DAY OF AUGUST 1914.

3. Where an existing pension granted on or after the 4th day of August 1914, is larger than a pre-war pension by reason of improvement in the pension scale or an increase in the pensioner's emoluments made since that date, the pension shall not be increased under this Act by an amount greater than is sufficient to make the increased pension equal to the amount to which the pre-war pension might have been increased under Part I of this Schedule.
