MR. MACLAGHLEN

With reference to our conversation this afternoon, I attach an extract from a recent newspaper article on Kenya Colony by Lord Delamere.

Sir Montague Barlow has seen this article and has asked the Department to enquire and see if it is possible to take action on the lines suggested by Lord Delamere to send out British settlers to Kenya Colony.

You kindly promised that you would have enquiries made into this question and let me have any information on the subject which might be of any interest in this connection.

- (1). It is I think held strongly that we should not encourage emigration to Kenya while the present ferment is in progress.
 - (2). As to emigrants, we are all agreed that the native should be brought on, but there should be a definite scheme & the Government should not lead any one forward to have British emigrants indiscriminately into Kenya with the idea that, with a bonus, they will help to "develop" the barren natives.
- When we are asked whether finally we must do this or not, we are asked in the meantime, by the Kenya Settlements Committee, to do this or not, we must control rather than*
