of a suitable type, the amount realized by the sale of the old boat being placed against the cost of the new boat, and the balance being defrayed by the Ministry of Shipping.

It is further observed that it is impracticable to use the old boat longer, ^{and that, at the} ~~£1,820~~ ^{£1,820} repairs have been spent on repairs, and the proceeds of ^{its} sale, together with the refund of £200 ~~abundantly~~ proposed in your letter under acknowledgment, would not suffice to meet the cost of a new boat.

I am to enquire ^{therefore} whether the Ministry of Shipping will furnish Lord

Palmer with his observations on the alternative
