we cannot answer "yes" or "no" to this

It is a matter for consideration by the local Comptroller in Cottar Prot. - both under the existing Ordinance and under the amending Off. Ordinance now under consideration - whether the Imp. Act 1880 is in force in the Prot. or not.

There is not much doubt that if the point were come before the Court it will be held that the Act is not in force - but we cannot say so.

Perhaps the best thing would be to ask them to send a representative to see you, & you will explain the position to them.

I had rather a stern clean gale this. I would reply that I am is unable to advise on such a matter which depends on the construction of the Act in force applying to the Colon Prohibitory & suggest that they should see the law in the Library.

Regd. 13 Oct 10

The Under Secretary of State for the Colonies,

WHITEHALL.

Dear Sir,

I shall be glad if you can kindly let me know whether the provisions of the Employers Liability Act apply to persons employed in British East Africa and Uganda. This Corporation employs a number of people in the two Protectorates whose engagements are made in England, and it is desired to know whether the Corporation will be liable for accidents happening to them arising out of their employment.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

F. H. Cole

Managing Director.
