Situation in N. Jubaland

Memo by Staff Officer K.A.R. resp. present unsatisfactory military position & need for reinforcement

~~With~~ Dr G. Fletcher

It is necessary that General St. Maurier & Capt. French stand down as the series of private letters, but not very necessary that the series stand so on no longer. If the O.C. ~~is~~ Troops regard the position as a grave loss, if his representation to the Govt. have no effect, and that they shall be forwarded to the S.A.S.

By the 1st instant we have received telegrams on various details of which according to Lambton said near Kabel and Cottell Aylo's death, we learn that Banoo - the only source of local reinforcements cannot now furnish a guard of honour for the King's Birthday.

Captain Aylo's death is, from the military point of view, a "side issue" and by its capacity for happiness increasing the force at his command. He had 10 K.M.R.

83 Transport men with him, and he afforded the most prominent target for these well-armed butchers.

As Col. Graham points out, the trouble affairs is the real thing, and if it is true that they were going off a morn early in peace the question of the adequacy of our forces may be settled by now. If the statement contains, I might go on equally long if our forces were twice as great.

There can be no exacting inquiry into this. We might telegraph to Gov.
saying that the S. off is continually hearing through private channels off disturbing accounts of the military position on the N. & N.E. frontier, & that he must rely on the force to let him know if he considers heavy reinforcements from outside desirable or necessary.

But this ~~one~~ ought not to be necessary and on the whole I think we must leave the Governor to his responsibility?

The Ahmed Bed are reported to - Several passages of Appendix G. to the

The Italians demanded that action should be taken against them for cattle raids - the accounts of which however were exaggerated

The reports of the strength of the actions mentioned are very contradictory. Possibly 200 rifles ^{each of} each for the three would be under the mark.

The latest I can find about disarma-ment generally is in the 8848/12 and Col. Langford agreed that the time was they not ripe for it

I would add to the proposed telegram an inquiry whether it is the case that orders have been issued for the disarmament of the Mahdists. It is somewhat extraordinary that such orders should have been given without a word to us.

11/13

If the statements in private letters are approx'ly justified we are being kept in the dark most unaccountable extent. I don't like the idea of disarming these people. We can't patrol the frontier & prevent all raids on them except at an enormous cost

The S. G. C. has agreed on a report, but it is not yet signed. They recommend that there sh^t continue to be separate I. Gs for E. & W. Africa. If the report is approved the new I. G. for E. Africa sh^t be appointed at once. Telegraphs

Certainly telegraph as proposed.

If I had been told of the intention to disarm I should certainly have protested

It is not too much to say that the proposal is dangerous and would be disastrous

I attach extracts from two letters received this morning and which I think you should see. I do not want to be an alarmist in any way but the position in Northern Jubaland is far from satisfactory - I understand that Mr. Pelfield says that the Marrehan must be made to comply with our orders and that the question of reinforcements must be settled by the Officer Commanding Troops British East Africa.

But from what I know this question of reinforcement is not one which can be settled by the Officer Commanding Troops - for reinforcements from other parts of British East Africa will mean denuding various stations of troops - simply because we have not a strong enough force anywhere to do more than "carry on".

Although there is no question of reinforcing the troops in Northern Jubaland at once and although I trust the necessity will not arise I think it would be well to be prepared for further developments and some scheme for bringing troops in from Uganda or elsewhere might be drawn up with advantage. To do this I am in favour of consulting the War Office, and in any case would urge most strongly that a decision be arrived at as soon as possible with regard to the question of an Inspector General and a successor to myself.

As regards these Abyssinian raids I agree with Lieutenant Colonel Graham that they are not an immediate or pressing danger - but it remains to be seen whether the Army Constabulary of the Northern Frontier District - 125 strong - will be able to deal adequately with them.

Captain Aylmer's escort was of Armed Constabulary and not King's African Rifles.

EXTRACT from private letter from Colonel Graham dated Kismayu 10th June, 1913.

"I can hear nothing definite here, but facts are that the Marrahan are not for disarmament, and this may entail our going for them! Once we start Lord knows where we shall end, because if we disarm them we must immediately afterwards take on the Serenli Aulihen, and afterwards the Southern lot, i.e. Mahammed Zubeir. I do not wish to write alarmingly, but things develop extraordinarily quickly.

You will have heard of poor Aylmers death - and there has been another raid on Kulal and another to within 10 miles of Marsabit, but these are side issues, and the immediate problem is Marrehan to be followed by other Somalis.

EXTRACT from private letter from Captain Loder-Symonds dated Nairobi 11th June, 1913.

"The Marrehan have at last started getting a move on. The following wire being received on 6th June.

"All sections of the Marrehan with the exception of the Far Ugas and Bon whose attitude is doubtful have combined to resist the Government order of disarmament issued to Ahmed Wet, Sheik Ismail ie

is responsible for combination. Will be necessary to be prepared to fight with Marrehan. At present do not anticipate Marrehan taking initiative.

Suggest increase of mounted troops. SQAMES.

I'm certain the Marrehan is going to develop into a big show and I don't think the Colonel will take it on with under about 800 men. We can't well back out of it as we've already given the order to disarm. If we do we shall have to vacate the whole of the country and our prestige with the Abyssinians, Somalis and Italians will be? PooP Aylmers death was aawful blow. I told Hope about 3 months ago that I was certain Aylmer would be scuppered before the year was out.

I had a private letter from Aylmer dated January in which he said he had had several encounters with Tigre and didn't like his position as he only had 13 men with him. The Colonel took it down and showed it to Bowring and wrote a very strong official letter but nothing was done to recall Aylmer or send him more men.

This (policy of observation) was of course impossible with the Boran being raised and murdered all round and consequently Barrett and Aylmer had to go after Tigre with one or two pon - the chances being 1000 to 1 in favour of the Tigre.
