Mr J. Anderson states he was in London about then and his view was that it might be sufficient in case application were made to require the papers to be read after trial into the documents for which we have asked.

Mr Harcourt

? We had better wait as long as possible before finally deciding what to do with Paret. In its present form the <sup>present</sup> paper raises questions as to what took place between
