* + M. O'Connell, Durban, asks whether the Government, in view of the fact that the East African Protectorate, is a territory under the administration of the Government, is prepared to consider the possibility of relaxing the restrictions now imposed upon the export of ivory from the territory to the Government.

3rd answer

General Policy -
There is a considerable difference of opinion as to the damage caused to settlers in the East Africa Protectorate by Big Game. I am in communication with the Government on the subject and will report at present in a position to say whether it is necessary to remove or modify the existing restrictions or what may be the best course to pursue. See the "The laws & other provisions" keep down the giraffes & other animals if its former are shot out, the latter may increase to such an extent as
