The Read (Minutes.)

The leave papers have now come in (35032 and do not provide for the payment of the £7.10.0.

The decision (see def on Leave 20673/02) was that the allowance should be despatched with the case of officers to whom apply have been or may be offered in this country since the 1st of June (1903) or officers appointed locally or promoted after the date of the receipt of the certificate (probably - but 15 August).

The applt was offered to the Admiralty in letter of 8th June & was furnished with a copy of def 775 which, with original form, provided for the £55 on first applt but not for the £7.10.0. Apparently the JTB despatch notifying selection did not enclose a copy of the pamphlet; at all events he arrived before despatched in 20673 and was accordingly the formal letter of appointment by of the only regulations available

Commissioner letter of appointment is stated to be a permanent appointment, and the holder thereof is entitled to be considered as an officer appointed locally before the date of his appointment even though he is appointed under the conditions of a temporary appointment, not likely to be renewed, provided as the number of such appointments are offered after 1st of June and who arrived before middle of August ^{cannot} be large.

I believe that the £7 10 0 is the City of London to Gov. and what has happened after 1st June 1905 have been the allowance (see last page)

Sir,

I have the honour to state that I was appointed an Assistant in the Treasury of the British East-Africa Protectorate on the 8th of June 1905 for my departure was given £55, in which was included £7.10, incidental expenses, to cover cost of passage &c

I respectfully submit therefore that inasmuch as I was originally granted on appointment the £ 7.10. for incidental expenses; I am entitled to the continued payment under section 3 of the Regulations issued on 1st Jan. 1904, which were banded me with my letter of appointment on arrival in East Africa, which I enclose for your perusal.

I therefore hope that under these circumstances my application to be paid the sum will receive favourable consideration.

I may add that this 339 privilege has been already granted to certain officers appointed since the 1st June 1904

I leave the honours to be.

S. W.

Your obedient servant.

H. Pickwad

Asst. Treasurer

The Under Secretary of State for the Colonies

Downing Street

Regulations for the Employment of Officers in the British Protectorates in Uganda and the East Coast of Africa.

1. APPOINTMENTS on the staff of the Protectorate are made by the Secretary of State. Officers holding such appointments are subject to the Regulations laid down, for which may hereafter be laid down by the Secretary of State, or by the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary of State.

2. All appointments to the administrative, military, or clerical branches of the Protectorate service are subject to one year's probation from the date of the holder's first arrival in Africa. If, at the expiration of the term of the officer is reported by the Commissioner or Acting Commissioner to have shown himself inefficient for service in Africa, his employment may be terminated without further notice. In any such case the passage home will be paid. This Regulation does not affect the general right of the Secretary of State to terminate the employment of any member of the Protectorate service whenever he may see fit to do so for the public advantage.

3. Officers proceeding to their posts on first appointment from any place in Europe will be granted a sum of £50 to meet the cost of their passage to Mombasa, which will be repaid by the Crown Agents for the Colonies on the signature by the officer of the usual passage Agreement. Officers proceeding to their posts on first appointment from any place in the East will be allowed their reasonable travelling expenses duly supported by receipts.

4. Officers on proceeding to their posts are paid half salary from date of embarkation, and full salary from the date of leaving the coast for the interior.

Full salary may only be claimed on "turnkey" fares or, to the coast, for the period of the trip in direct journey. Should that period be exceeded, full salary is not paid, and as a satisfactory explanation of the cause of delay is not furnished, the officer is considered to be on sick leave during the period of his detention, and receives pay accordingly; but exceptions may be made by the Secretary of State in regard to periods of sickness.

5. Officers are entitled, when travelling on official business within the Protectorates or the adjoining territories connected with their administration, to payment of their reasonable travelling expenses, duly supported by vouchers. The extent of these travelling expenses is controlled within certain limits at the discretion of the Commissioner and Consul-General.

6. Officers, whether military or civil, are entitled to two months' leave annually, provided that the exigencies of the Service permit. They are allowed to accumulate this leave up to six months; that is to say, if they remain at their posts without accumulation for one year and eight months, they are entitled to four months' leave; if for two years and one month, to five months' leave; and if for two years and six months, to six months' leave. An officer is not entitled to accumulated leave unless he shall have been on duty in East Africa for a minimum period of one year and eight months.

7. Leave is reckoned from the date of the officer's leaving the African coast until his return to the coast on his way to resume his duties.

8. In the event of an officer proceeding on accumulated leave, he will be paid the full salary of his post for the first three months, and for the remaining period, one-quarter of this salary will be deducted for the purpose of providing an allowance for his subsistence.

On the termination of his ordinary leave his salary ceases, unless he be granted sick leave, in which case he is placed upon half-pay, or unless the delay is caused by circumstances which he has no control over, e.g., the breakdown of a steamer, in which case the Commissioner has power to sanction the payment of his salary as from the date on which his arrival at the coast would otherwise have taken place, provided that medical officers may be granted an extension of leave for the purpose of attending a three months' course at the London School of Tropical Medicine.
