Supplementary Estimate No. 3 of 1910-11.

It is stated that the sum of £200 was awarded as a gratuity to Mr. Amos, business of the only firm in the country in which has a wage for low. In view of the fact that his appropriation would appear to have been desirable.

Mr. Read.

The Treasury may not quite appreciate the point of his explanation, as we are not in a position to tell them that Messrs Samuel & Co. have decided to exercise their option and work on the same deposits. But we have not and been well informed of what we said to the Com. in our report. It is only a small sum of £200 included as item 4 of the Supplementary Estimate. It has been at once
