

A LONDON LETTER
(Continued from page 1)

and the case of legislation under way, and it is clear that he has no objection to such a measure if Mr. Baldwin uses it as a political weapon. What is to be done by the Conservative Party? It has been suggested that they should do nothing, but this would be fatal. They should make a stand, and stand firm.

THE LONDON BEAGLE
The London Beagle, a magazine which came into existence from Water to Wine, has been given a completely new lease of life. At the recent Urban District Council meeting, a motion was passed which my Master had a reply to. The motion was that "the time of the increasingly important part played by electricity in the development of our country, and I anticipate great results in this direction, I move that a committee be appointed to consider the construction of a supply in London." The committee, which sat at the Roxbury station, is the first full one.

The last half dozen or so have been devoted to the question of whether the Beagle will be allowed to continue its work, and whether it is to receive funds; each number having contained a few words in defence of the Beagle. The latest number contains a statement that if all other efforts fail, the Beagle will be moved to the Hotel Park Hotel, Nairobi, where it will be started again.

PICKLE WEATHER

At the time I am writing we are in perfect condition. When it rains it pours. When it does not it pours. And it continues pouring during the week-end. We are not alone in this, as all places - players, cricketers, footballers, etc. - in our favorite resorts in east and west, while a heavy shower has stopped all outdoor sports, are having their pickles.

HORSES, HORSES, HORSES

A horse was the yard dog, experienced heavy rain, and got up on to a scaffold, and then down again when driving a horse, and so on. Even when Ketter Ashken '42 was shot when shooting across his property, he had his horse to get him home.

Handsome Hounds, however, were not quite so fortunate. There was a lightning bolt, lighting two trees in the middle of Viljoen's Villa House, on Friday morning.

WEMBLEY

The King and Queen have had another day at Wembley. The sun is a real guarantee of success, and the weather is now days a good failure. However, the King and Queen, who were staying at the Royal Mansions, were at the Royal Mansions on Saturday evening.

LONDON DELIGHTS
London, particularly the extensive out-of-town areas, is making a good impression on us. The King and Queen have been staying at the Royal Mansions, and the King and Queen are staying at the Royal Mansions.

INDUSTRIAL ENTERPRISE
The popularity of the King and Queen has been increased, and when they received a welcome of unprecedented warmth and friendliness when they drove to the first section of what has been described as the Empress of the County and Provincial Cup Company. As those who witnessed, that crowd grew in size and in their enthusiasm. At Berlitz every child who could stand and hold up his hand waved red, white and blue flags or streamers, and were heard shouting and cheering with all the fervor they standards and sang over the God Save the Queen. After the King and Queen had been waving. "Now then, what do you think?" asked one of the children. "Before they shake the hand of the Queen, do you know what they think?" At the end of the district the King and Queen drove to the station at Nairobi, which my Master handed a reply to. The King and Queen were present. The King said, "It is most important that you should play by electricity in the development of our country, and I anticipate great results in this direction, I move that a committee be appointed to consider the construction of a supply in London." The committee, which sat at the Roxbury station, is the first full one.

The last half dozen or so have been devoted to the question of whether the Beagle will be allowed to continue its work, and whether it is to receive funds; each number containing a few words in defence of the Beagle. The latest number contains a statement that if all other efforts fail, the Beagle will be moved to the Hotel Park Hotel, Nairobi, where it will be started again.

PICKLE WEATHER
At the time I am writing we are in perfect condition. When it rains it pours. When it does not it pours. And it continues pouring during the week-end. We are not alone in this, as all places - players, cricketers, footballers, etc. - in our favorite resorts in east and west, while a heavy shower has stopped all outdoor sports, are having their pickles.

HORSES, HORSES, HORSES
A horse was the yard dog, experienced heavy rain, and got up on to a scaffold, and then down again when driving a horse, and so on. Even when Ketter Ashken '42 was shot when shooting across his property, he had his horse to get him home.

NATIVE EDUCATION.

The Phelps-Stokes Report.

LESSONS FOR AFRICA.

In an appreciative leading article on the Phelps-Stokes Commission Report, the Cape Argus says:

"The Commission's report is not the most important of the year, but it is the most interesting. The magnitude of the task still to be done can best be appreciated when the recommendations of the Commission are in the main, known. The report is excellent, which was to be expected, seeing that they deal with people rather than with problems, and it would be impossible to refer to the recommendations without some qualification. And certainly the report does not furnish the complete answer to the question of how far and how fast native education should be carried forward in the present conditions.

The Commission points that "one of the most important results must be to increase the average level of knowledge and education among the negroes of South Africa. This must be done through a steady step towards gradual industrialisation (the education) of the country, and the pace must be very slow. The natives are too much inclined to change their methods and these have led astray many of them. In fact, the State and Mr. George Rose, were unable to see the reason why they had been sent to Africa.

Mr. George Rose said that "I don't see any particular reason for the natives to be sent to Africa." The natives are too much inclined to change their methods and these have led astray many of them. In fact, the State and Mr. George Rose, were unable to see the reason why they had been sent to Africa.

THE C.O.I.
Unfortunately one cannot say that the inquiry made by the Commission into the educational system is of great interest. The report itself is not very instructive, and I do not understand the report.

THE C.O.I.
Unfortunately one cannot say that the inquiry made by the Commission into the educational system is of great interest. The report itself is not very instructive, and I do not understand the report.

THE C.O.I.
Unfortunately one cannot say that the inquiry made by the Commission into the educational system is of great interest. The report itself is not very instructive, and I do not understand the report.

CORRESPONDENCE.

BOILING.

The Editor does not mean, necessarily, that the report of the Commission, in its correspondence, in these cases, refers to the names and address of the writer who made the communication necessary for publication, but as a guarantee of your work, your signature is required to ensure identification.

DENTENCED LABOUR.

Mr. E. D. Standard,
Sir, - Much has been written recently concerning the effect upon the economy of the large-scale indentured labour force in India. I have heard of the difficulties of our own labour force in this country, and I should like to add my opinion.

The Commission's report is not the most important of the year, but it is the most interesting. The magnitude of the task still to be done can best be appreciated when the recommendations of the Commission are in the main, known. The report is excellent, which was to be expected, seeing that they deal with people rather than with problems, and it would be impossible to refer to the recommendations without some qualification.

The Commission points that "one of the most important results must be to increase the average level of knowledge and education among the negroes of South Africa. This must be done through a steady step towards gradual industrialisation (the education) of the country, and the pace must be very slow. The natives are too much inclined to change their methods and these have led astray many of them. In fact, the State and Mr. George Rose, were unable to see the reason why they had been sent to Africa.

Mr. George Rose said that "I don't see any particular reason for the natives to be sent to Africa." The natives are too much inclined to change their methods and these have led astray many of them. In fact, the State and Mr. George Rose, were unable to see the reason why they had been sent to Africa.

THE C.O.I.
Unfortunately one cannot say that the inquiry made by the Commission into the educational system is of great interest. The report itself is not very instructive, and I do not understand the report.

THE C.O.I.
Unfortunately one cannot say that the inquiry made by the Commission into the educational system is of great interest. The report itself is not very instructive, and I do not understand the report.

THE C.O.I.
Unfortunately one cannot say that the inquiry made by the Commission into the educational system is of great interest. The report itself is not very instructive, and I do not understand the report.

THE C.O.I.
Unfortunately one cannot say that the inquiry made by the Commission into the educational system is of great interest. The report itself is not very instructive, and I do not understand the report.

THE C.O.I.
Unfortunately one cannot say that the inquiry made by the Commission into the educational system is of great interest. The report itself is not very instructive, and I do not understand the report.

TWO TYPES.

The Native Problem.

A MISSIONARY'S VIEW.

The distinguished missionary, Dr. H. R. Price, and his wife, who have been here during the last six months, have just returned from a long visit to Europe. They have now come back to Kenya, and are continuing their work of education and Christian service.

MABEL DAYES

June 20, 1937.

PLAQUE

FROM

Shs. 9-50

The HERO
a Gastier Production featuring
BARBARA LA MAR
Gaston Glass
and All Star Caste.Nature Shaped Shoes for Kiddies ALSO
Large Stock Boys School Boots.

We Specialize in Children's Footwear
Less 5 per cent for Cash.

Tan Sandal
Cripe Sole
FROM Shs. 9-50

Delta White
Buck Bar
FROM Shs. 15-50

Tan Bar Shoe
FROM
Shs. 9-50

EADIES Shoe Shop, Nairobi.

THEATRE ROYAL
MONDAY, TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY
TO PLEASE ONE WOMAN.

Featuring Edith Kessler & Civic Windsor (6 Parts).

ALSO SPECIAL TOPICAL BUDGET
Marconi and his fiancée Miss Paynter, Brooklands Contests; Cloudbank's Win, Etc.

COMEDY: LEGAL LIGHT,

Saturday & Monday next.

PALMETTO The Great Danish Tenor
(Booking at Remington Office.)

They always have the new shades

Chief among lovely necessities for the "elegante" are Kayser pure silk stockings in all the subtle shades and gradations of the mode-Gatsby, Marquise, Sun, Buttercup, Flapper, Cheri and the rest. You can wear and wash them and wash and wash them too, for they are woven of sheer silk pure dyed and protected from ladders by the exclusive "marvel-stripe".

Kayser full-fashioned
THREAD SILK STOCKINGS!

WARING'S, Africa House, Govt. Road, Nairobi

KENYA NATIONAL ARCHIVES
PHOTOGRAPHIC SERVICE

Description of Document THE EAST AFRICAN STANDARD (MOMBASA TIMES & UGANDA ARFUS)
.....
(Daily Edition) 1st to 30th June, 1925.

Reference No. From E.A.S. Library

END