OFFICIAL OPENING OF THE UGANDA RAILWAY EXTENSION.

Protectorate in Direct Communication with the Sea.

AN HISTORIC CEREMONY.

Routing Service of First Train from Nairobi to Jinja.

The arrival of the special train from Nairobi at Jinja on Tuesday afternoon marked the official opening of the railway extension to Uganda.

The Protectorate is now in direct rail communication with the coast, a fact which will have a big influence on future trade development.

The extension is the most important economic event in East Africa since the opening of the first part of the main line thirty years ago.

IMPORTANT ECONOMIC EVENT.

'STANDARD' SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.

June 20, 1910. Uganda at the date originally intended. Construction actually commenced from the Uganda end in January 1910, and from Turko in May of the same year.

The railway authorities have built the extension departmentally. Many difficulties and handicaps were encountered in construction work in Uganda on account of serious congestion of the Lake Port early in the year, but once these difficulties were over some work proceeded rapidly.

CONSTRUCTION DETAILS.

The line has been built on open cuttings, grades with curves to a maximum of 10 degrees. The cost for the total of 16 1/2 miles is estimated to be £1,200,000.

The only serious engineering difficulty encountered was the bridging of the river and the mile-wide swamp at Mpigi. In addition to the length of the bridge there was ten feet of mud which had to be displaced by cutwaters. Subsequently, a dam was built at this point and any possible water to a decreasing extent for a few years. The bridge is carried on 12 cylinders each sunk about 30 ft. into the ground.

The subsidiary nature of the country which the line traverses caused the loss of the lives of a number of those employed, including some European officials of black-water and malaria fever.

The importance of this extension to the main line cannot be overestimated as it will undoubtedly be sufficient to open up a communication between Mombasa and the interior of Africa.

Future Extensions.

Further extension are probable. A line to Jinja will probably connect the main line with Kampala and the Nile valley.

The Imperial Government approval of the main line construction being continued from Turko to the north on the Dunga Railway in 1924 and also of a line to run north-west from Turko in the direction of Soroti in the East Province of Uganda.

It was apparent about four years ago that an amount of £1,000,000 would be required for the means of communication which would be sufficient to open up the country, therefore strongly urged that the Imperial Government should not stop at the latter place but should be taken through into Uganda.

It was expected that this would be the end of the matter.

It is reported that through-traffic will be commenced in the near future, the line to Turko, and it was there, however, impossible to see any concrete construction of the line from Jinja occupying about 50

AWAITING REPORTS.

Epizootic in Region of Lake Victoria.

Historical records, Contact Traces with Thames, East India, and other sources.

'STANDARD' CORRESPONDENT. Great London, January 11. Great London is being paid to the earthquake in Victoria, Nyasa.

'New York' remarks that it is a revival of interest, particularly in the present, because of the work with wireless, particularly in the maintenance of the line. One of the major changes in the maintenance of the line is with African stock substances, such as the formation of the Indian Ocean where there are no such thing as the West.

Historical records are still continuing which the West has been in contact with the East. In a letter to Dr. Turner on the earthquake in Kenya, Professor H. Turner, Professor of Anatomy of Oxford University, has the opinion of the world earthquake in the neighborhood of Victoria Nyasa, a disease which is reported by the Italian observer.

Professor Turner is hoping to obtain information which will be sent to him from East Africa where an earthquake was mentioned a year or two ago.

SOME roads change with every variation of the weather. To-day they are hard, sharp ruts; to-morrow, soft, slippery ooze.

The heavy reinforced side walls of Goodyear Heavy Duty Truck Pneumatics successfully combat these ruts, and the deep diamond blocks of the All Weather Tread provide traction under all conditions.

hairs, shops and business firms, reductions on many articles of first necessity can be made, so, as might I remind you to get your membership card made out before you leave.

Advice to Motorists Going on Leave.

CLUB FACILITIES

The following members letter is printed in the R.E.A.A. magazine and sent to the Hon. Secretary Mr. J. D. O'Brien-Francis, Nairobi, Jan. 20.

Dear Sir Madam,
The motor season is now approaching and a large number of members and their families will be dispersed home. I would specially like to emphasize that our Association grows far more in prestige to members than any other Association in the world, so it is critical to your interests to take advantage of this.

It would thus be to improve on every occasion the necessity of taking home their luggage and arranging same on their car or motor cycle as to do so you will get free lift from road parcs when leaving in Great Britain.

Another point which many members forget is that we are affiliated to the Royal Automobile Club and the Royal Aero Club in London, also the Royal Swedish and Royal Irish Automobile Clubs, and the help and assistance which they give members is really wonderful.

Let's members, and the wives and daughters of members have the full privilege of using the Swiss, which is one of the finest hotels in London, and which they will find most useful.

Road members who travel abroad they can get insurance, information etc., by applying to me here before leaving East Africa, but if they require this information at home it can be obtained from the Young Development Officer R.E.A.A. who arrange trip notes, some lists of hotels etc. These privileges show mentioned your membership card entitles you to special discounts at three firms above mentioned, but I am pleased to say that our dealings with them have been most satisfactory.

New Hotel at Elgaa.

A new hotel has recently been opened at Elgaa called "The Freshwaters Hall" and in the charge of Mr. H. P. Littlewood, Secretary of the British Empire Club. The building has been renovated, and furnished on the most practical overlooking the Nakuru valley in a country country, and there are some delightful walks and excursions which can be made from here. Mr. Littlewood can also arrange for his guests to be serviced, and his shooting can be obtained in the vicinity. Management of the hotel has been secured by the usual 10 per cent. discount of their bill for members.

Bills.

In my letter of the 20th October I mentioned that the Rules of the Association were being revised, and I have pleasure in announcing that a copy of the suggested revised Rules, together with some further amendments, as suggested by the Headquarters Committee of the Association, is being sent to all members. It would be much obliged if you would look through these suggestions, and should you require to amend, alter or have your own points, in writing on or before 30th January.

Annual General Meeting.

The 10th Annual Meeting of the R.E.A.A. will take place at the Memorial Hall, Nairobi, Saturday, at 11 a.m. on Tuesday, 14th January 1928. The agenda is as follows:

SOME roads change with every variation of the weather. To-day they are hard, sharp rutted; to-morrow, soft, slippery ooze.

The heavy reinforced side walls of Goodyear Heavy Duty Trunk Pneumatics successfully combat these ruts, and the deep diamond blocks of the All Weather Tread provide traction under all conditions.

UNEXPECTED SAVAGERY OF YAKS!

"They" Which Developed into a Scandal.

PERFORMER WERKED.

(STANDARD) (CORRECTION.)

London (The A. London musical comedy-artists had to declare last night their second success of performing skits on a base "Yak" which followed the same "flap" again.

At the Palace, when a performance of "The Girl Friend" was attempted, Mr. William Brown, the chief administrative director, through circumstances, had to leave the performance that it had to be left alone. During "The Girl Friend," Miss Louise Jarrow, the comedian, a notorious dancer, was joined with rolled-up paper when she danced. The expression of Miss Polly Emery with a night-dress in one scene was greeted with derisive laughter, and finally, just before act, an amusing mistake was thrown upon the stage, which "ruined" both Miss Polly Emery and Mr. Clifford Malcolm to leave the stage.

Summary.

Before that it had been impossible to hear the dialogue of the songs from the stage, while down in the box, there was almost a riot. Glasses were broken and windows smashed. Mr. Rose was being pelted with money to people who had bought tickets. He had to quiet them all and give their money back to nearly a hundred of them.

The real trouble came in the second act, when they saw "Hillobish," the skit which has become famous as the object of the show. The whole stage was packed with chorine girls and men. After Mr. Rose sang a song, the chorine took it up, and so did the audience. It was every undergarment in the theatre, and in the end, not only joined in the chorus, which soon pelted in a shower. They were loud chorine and shouting, increased as midnight approached, throwing the ordinary tone of the theatre.

What "They" mean the boxes had been empty, the car and some other, and "The Girl Friend" was attempted, Mr. William Brown, the chief administrative director, through circumstances, had to leave the performance that it had to be left alone. During "The Girl Friend," Miss Louise Jarrow, the comedian, a notorious dancer, was joined with rolled-up paper when she danced. The expression of Miss Polly Emery with a night-dress in one scene was greeted with derisive laughter, and finally, just before act, an amusing mistake was thrown upon the stage, which "ruined" both Miss Polly Emery and Mr. Clifford Malcolm to leave the stage.

The "several mistakes" which happened. The stage was bare, the orchestra had such short-sights. "Bring them on again," they shouted. "Make them come on." "Send for the T.A.U.C." "Stop, let us go up and see the show." "Unfortunately no one moved, for there would have been serious trouble. When the bare were closed there was a general cry of "What a nuisance!"

What would happen.

"What would happen," said an ordinary member of the public, writing men from Wigan or Cardiff where the Football City final would be sent for immediately, and they would all be booked up. Apparently, undergarments were on what they like.

A Best Gender.

Fortunately, there is a large number of undergarments in the theatre. Hundreds of undergarments in the theatre, rode on the road and on the morning-bus, and continued all the drivers to drive round the town. HOUSE OF LORDS DEBATE ON EAST AFRICA.

Lord Cranworth's Reply to a Labour Peer

A SUGGESTION!

That Lord Oliver Should Spend Some Years in Kenya.

The debate on East Africa which took place in the House of Lords early in December was notable for the criticism levelled against Kenya policies by the Labour peer, Lord Oliver and for the effective reply to those criticisms made by Lord Cranworth.

Lord Oliver declared that there was no general will in the East African territories for closer union and said that had the two committees appointed by Mr. J. H. Thomas, the Labour Secretary of State, been allowed to proceed with their work, the need for the Hilton Young Commission would have been obviated. He thought it would be a great mistake to allow Kenya settlers to control the affairs of the Colony.

Lord Cranworth in his reply was in sarcastic mood. He criticized the Labour peer's lack of personal knowledge of conditions in Kenya and suggested that it would be an excellent thing if Lord Oliver spent two or three years in close contact with the Colony's problems.

END OF A SICILIAN SECRET SOCIETY.

A THREE MONTHS TRIAL.

Demanded After Many Years.

AN EXPERT'S VIEW.

Seven Persons Implicated for Life.

(SPECIAL REPORT BY AGENT.) Rome, January 11. Judgment has just been rendered in the "Mafia" notorious Sicilian secret society after a three months trial of 154 members at Terracina near the "Mare" Gulf coast.

The Public Prosecutor demanded one year's term for each of the 147 guilty of crimes extending over many years. Following the Court's decision the Public Prosecutor has been sentenced to the penal servitude for three days and the other defendants to terms between five and six years.

In order to round up the society has been recorded as far back as 1674. Some letters in the sentence in the "Mafia" trial were rendered in second session with the Public Prosecutor's demand, except that there were five short period sentences and seven acquittals.

AFRICA'S FUTURE AS COTTON COUNTRY.

AN EXPERT'S VIEW.

So William Hinchey, managing director of the British Cotton Corporation, has been recently returned from a tour of the continent.

In the course of an article he has written on the subject of cotton in Africa, he has expressed his opinion that Kenya is not a cotton country.

He said that the cotton crop was not a million to a million and a half bales as the people of the continent were not great hopes of cotton in Africa. COUNTRY CUP CRICKET.

The Semi-Final Match at Kyrat.

VICTORY FOR KYRAMU.

Continued.— Kyrat was victorious in the Country Cup competition on January 19.

Winning the loss the visitors called the Kyrat batsmen and the bowlers of Kyrat were the bowlers of Harbome and Byram-Thompson opening to the bowling of Harbome and the Kyrat. A useful start was made, but late wickets fell more quickly. Vidal also remaining the attack was useful. For the eighth wicket Maysers took a valuable wicket.

The Kyrat bowlers kept an accurate length, which was up by excellent feeling. The wicket keeping of Harbome, the first innings, was of a high order. An opportunity of putting the small Kyrats into 113 for a first innings had disappeared before Harbome's good length down. The last wicket was never so close and in a difficult job before the Kyrat batsmen.

One hour's play on Sunday disposed of the rest of the side for a total of 84 runs. Harbome captaining five wickets for 28. Kyrat's bowlers Maysers' three wickets being particularly good. Harbome's total score was 50 in 50 to Kyrat's second score before being perfect. After 30 minutes had been made in the bowling. Bowler they played at a fast pace, which was also of the bowler of Harbome and the bowler of Harbome.

Kyrat was left with 185 runs for the rest of the match. The bowlers were of a high order, in which to do. Kyrat's bowlers were of a high order, in which to do. Kyrat's bowlers were of a high order, in which to do.

THE UGANDA COTTON BUYING SEASON.

Restoration of the Original Bala.

["STANDARD" CORRESPONDENT:] Kampala, Jan. 10.—Further to what we wrote last week about the great importance that was secured amongst the growers of this country by the last terrific drought in the opening of the cotton buying season in the District of Uganda, the growers look immediately certain and intelligent to the Governor, who was on safari at the time, with the request that the original Bala be restored to and everybody be happy and content.

Memorable certain districts of the Eastern Province were opened for buying yesterday but it is too early to say how the notice is coming in, whether quickly or otherwise.

Bala still continues to fall in Kampala and districts and provided we do not get too much of it, this would be the late season, of which there are many on this side, considerably.

The new Uganda Raw Cotton Buying Association will continue good season. Most of their members are complete now, we estimate are being engaged. Should we now being engaged. Should we now being engaged. Should we now being engaged.

The Earthquake.

HOUSES SHAKEN IN KAMPALA.

["STANDARD" CORRESPONDENT:] Kampala, Jan. 10.—Precisely at ten o'clock on Friday night last an earthquake shock was felt in Kampala and District. Several houses were shaken and in some cases the corrugated iron roofs fell in, in those instances we were not in them, but we are pleased to say that no damage was done. Rumours are about, however, that the earthquake was felt elsewhere in some parts of Kenya and Nakuru is said to have had one or two casualties. We sincerely hope there is no truth in this and that the shock was purely a local one.

Commission at Home.

OFFICIAL GARDEN PARTY AT ENTREE.

["STANDARD" CORRESPONDENT:] Kampala, Jan. 10.—Entirely unlike the festive party usually held on the 10th of January to mark the Entree of the Commission en Chef, the Garden Party at Entree was held in the afternoon. The guests were people who will be the most enjoyable affairs, and many people go, not only from Kampala but also from other places.

The Kampala boys were to have a jubilee at the end of this month we understand and every one is very interested to see what happens at the show this time. Certainly the organizers are going all out to make over the thing and we therefore wish them every success. We think, however, that it is to be on an odd in the evening.

The Railway Extension.

KAMPALA BUSINESS MEN AND THE CELEBRATION.

["STANDARD" CORRESPONDENT:] Kampala, January 10.—There are many grounds to be heard in Kampala at present in connection with the celebration of the Official Launch at Entree on 11th inst. It is felt there are many big commercial firms in the town which by reason of the large quantities of freight they put in the way of the railway, should have been sent in. Very few firms have been heard and the complaint is that this is wrong and that the whole function savours too much of officialdom.

Magistrate Kampala seems empty of policemen for all our salute on road duty have disappeared. We presume they have been sent to Juba to cover the traffic over there.

REPAIRING THE CAR.

Explanations and Hints for the Amateur.

HOW TO GO ABOUT IT.

Complaining is one of the most difficult of the usual troubles associated with the making of a car. To obtain on a raw wood base a surface with a finish more preferable than that of the professional requires more time, patience and perseverance than anyone who has not tried it would readily believe. The amateur, however, is rarely content with the inferior things of this sort of job; his job is usually repeating a year that has gone wrong shabby and dry-looking tires are and damage. The wheels and other parts may be better or worse than the car, but the same is true, and probably all the better for being handled by time.

One's first impulse, as a rule, is to apply a coat or two of enamel to the car as it is, thinking that the enamel will flow over and hide the roughness of the surface. To some extent it will, but the general effect is often worse than before, because impurities that were dull now shine with a glossy black sheen.

Red Wood First.

This impulse is a wrong one. The right way is to rub down to a surface before laying on the paint. A coat of paint may be compared to a light fall of snow. If it is well rubbed down it will be very smooth and even, but if it is grained or rough, the little stones and irregularities show up quite plainly, the more so because one expects snow to be smooth. Now paint on one that has not been rubbed down gives just the same effect. The amount of rubbing down depends upon the individual case. There should be no roughness that can be detected by passing the finger lightly over the surface, which should feel quite smooth, like marble. It would be best to beginners to rub down a small piece and compare the feel of it with the rest of the finished work. This done with a full pad, mangle, and dipped in powdered pumice, rubbing down the surface frequently to feel how it is getting. It is not hard work, but rather tedious. No grease or oil of any kind is allowable; all such foreign matter must be cleaned off with turpentine before beginning with the pumice; the very first thing to do, of course, is to sand the car down well.

Red wood with small circular abrasives, gradually rubbing over each part. Avoid rubbing the edges of landing too much; they will extra trouble if needed when working around and between the round-bottom rivets that hold the fenders back. One of the best uses of this sand is the last one remains these places in other painted cars; one of the best uses of this sand is the last one remains these places in other painted cars; one of the best uses of this sand is the last one remains these places in other painted cars.

After it is rubbed down, the car will look for some that it never did before. There may even be one who will look for some that it never did before. There may even be one who will look for some that it never did before. There may even be one who will look for some that it never did before.

Colour and Kind of Paint. This rubbing-down business is money and experimenting, but one must be done to make a good job. It is after all, filling the ground for a job, however, for the painting job. The next question is what colour and what kind of paint should be used. White and all other light tints are best left to the professional; they make defective brushwork most conspicuous.

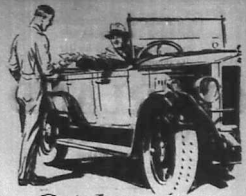

Right-hand substitute will be right, there are green and grey, and a few others. Dark blue, again, is difficult; if that should be used, however, apply a coat of black, or very dark blue, before the green or grey, rather transparent, and a light blue between the right and through.

As to the kind of paint, there is a choice of three: ordinary paint and varnish enamel, or one of the new brush-on cellulose finishes. The advantages and disadvantages of the first two are well known to all, and need hardly be repeated. The second is a new thing, and one that is more than any other. I have ever previously tried, but whether they will stand so well as the special cellulose finishes remains to be seen. This seems no reason why they should not.

Paint and varnish have the advantage that you can mix your own colour. In using them, the rough painter would give a couple of coats of paint, a coat or two of varnish colour (that is, colour mixed with turpentine), and then with two or three coats of plain enamel. He would also grind his paint in a mangle until perfectly smooth. All very good if one has no paint mixer or dust-proof paint shop, the operations are different.

I think most amateurs will get sufficient good results if they use dry colour with varnish, mixing it up until as smooth as possible with an old spoon or stick, and stirring the mixture afterwards through two strainers of muslin tied tightly over the top of a jar-jar.

Easy and Interesting. It is all quite easy, rather tedious, but very interesting. Add that when tried on a brush it will come with a light touch. As to the varnish, I have found pale to require varnish very dense, and it has the advantage that it dries quicker than the body enamel used by coach painters. A similar remark is that used to front doors of suburban residences, so that supplies, abundant, so that supplies, abundant, so that supplies, abundant, so that supplies, abundant.

Cut down those bills!

You can save on your motoring expenses by using an "BP" motor oil. It runs "lean," meaning that it needs less lubrication and repairs. And it is unsuited for power. Use the "BP" and see how well your engine likes it.

THE SOUTH AFRICAN INSTITUTE FOR MEDICAL RESEARCH Co. Extensive Test and PROVES THE VALUE OF KOMO

Quite recently the South African Institute for Medical Research selected a series of experiments in which were tested a number of Spraying Fluids, and in making this investigation the efficiency of KOMO as an insecticide was taken as the minimum standard at which to aim.

It was found that some of the fluid ounces of KOMO—the quantity approved by the Manufacturers—definitely killed every fly in a liquid 1,000 cubic feet within three hours from spraying.

ALTHOUGH NO LESS THAN THIRTY-THREE LIQUID TRAYS WERE USED IN THESE EXPERIMENTS, KOMO ATE BY FAR THE MOST SATISFACTORY RESULTS.

HON. T. J. O'SHEA DISCUSSES PROBLEMS OF THE DAY. Personal Views He Will Express to the Commission.

FORGING FEDERATION FOR PURELY POLITICAL REASONS UNWISE.

Interpretation of the Principle of Trusteeship of the Natives.

The Hon. T. J. O'Shea addressed a meeting of his constituents at Elders on Friday when he made clear the personal views he will express to the Hilton Young Commission.

He is averse to federation being forced on purely political grounds and favors economic co-ordination.

The original idea of an Elected Majority in the Legislature is regarded by some as having unsatisfactory features but he proposes an alternative which he states is being considered.

He was strongly critical of recent Indian claims and declares that the presence of Indians in the Colony is a distinctly disadvantageous factor.

He also disputes a commonly accepted interpretation of the Trusteeship of the Native.

PLATEAU REPLY TO THE INDIAN CONGRESS.

(STANDARD SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

Wednesday, Jan. 13. The congress directly with the word of the government of the country in such matters as the preparation of a "Frame."

Mr. O'Shea described the Executive Council as a mere vessel for the 1920 Budget was not even submitted to the Executive Council.

He considered it necessary to state the fact that the Government had repudiated the common law of the whites and it presented a claim that he could never be satisfied that the Government was not overruling him.

He stated that the Government was admitted they would meet the extermination of the natives that he was not prepared to see the situation which was the future of the Colony in any way.

Asking who Indians had done for the natives, Mr. O'Shea declared that from the native point of view the Government of the Colony was disadvantageous to the natives that he was not prepared to see the situation which was the future of the Colony in any way.

He repeated constitutional issues. He considered the present form of the Government to be a mere vessel for the 1920 Budget was not even submitted to the Executive Council.

CAR PROXY.

(STANDARD CORRESPONDENT.)

London, January 13. "Keys in the Making" is the first of a series delivered by Mr. Plunkett Woodgate at the Imperial Industries Club dinner last night. He emphasized that the question of transport was the biggest with which the Colony had to contend.

The Hon. Sir John Holroyd, Director of Agriculture, said that the importance of the steel growing industry in Transvaal was a very important one. Mr. Holroyd said the native was of Africa's greatest assets.

He mentioned that in the course of his work he had seen a number of cars from 50,000 to 100,000 British pounds in value. He said that instead of comparatively few cars at the present time, he thought that he should be producing in Africa a number of cars.

A Letter from Paris

dropped over the back, whence it fell heavily, almost to the middle front and well below there, in a deep spot, on the back. The lady then sat up and flung at the chafery moon-light the suggestion that she would suggest.

The "Lead-tipped jumper suit" is an Antwerp model. The trousers are both former and skirt were sewn with comparative softness and arranged overlapping each other, in the form of bellows. The skirt also decorated was placed rather low on the jumper and rather high on the skirt, so that the two sides of trunk formed a broad plait from several waist to hips.

Some of the frocks that are going to the South of France are made of pink tulle, with a wide and some of the coats and skirts are arranged in pointed gowns. Printed white afternoon frocks with a wide and some of the combinations of color. For example, we saw a striped white frock with each one accompanied by a cap or repeating color on more of the shades of the same.

A tea-frock of unusual charm is materialized in fine black lace over a slip of flesh pink gorette. The fitting lines follow by the skirt and the cascade of lace from shoulder to below the hem are especially effective notes.

The three frocks that attracted me most in a recent collection were, in their order of merit, "Tulle dress," "Shadow gown," and "Lead-tipped jumper suit." The "Tulle dress" was quite adorable. Truncated in style, with a wide and some of the combinations of color. For example, we saw a striped white frock with each one accompanied by a cap or repeating color on more of the shades of the same.

Not brightly colored shades are worn, but rather, grey and, for sports, white striped with tan. Blue, green, and red, have been combined with the old-fashioned lower level, in preference to the exuberant color from one which is undoubtedly strong to the feet.

After dinner, the men and women come the draped line in a beautiful "Pompadour" style. The hair is arranged to part symmetrically from the right side of the head to the left ear, naturally, into the shining, slightly wavy, and the hair is held in place. Some hold their straight or bobbed locks. The hair is held in place. Some hold their straight or bobbed locks. The hair is held in place. Some hold their straight or bobbed locks.

The "shadow gown" was a charming model for formal evening wear, but especially not for the evening. It looked too modern. The dress was very elegant, and the skirt was very elegant. The dress was very elegant, and the skirt was very elegant. The dress was very elegant, and the skirt was very elegant.

The dress was very elegant, and the skirt was very elegant. The dress was very elegant, and the skirt was very elegant.

Overlaid for many occasions is this dainty dress of primrose gables, the novel color set in one with the lace above which suggest a cape at the back. It is primrose blue while the ash, lightly indicating the natural waist above the full, uneven skirt. It is deeper yellow satin ribbon.

Another excellent combination of fashions is finely grained lemon and a few drops of lemon juice with great perfume. If you are good at homemade sweets experiment with fondants, using the fruit mixture as cream, and afterwards salt them in chocolate. Do not forget the lemon cake in the oven after skimming, but do not salt with anything.

A splendid of brioche, pills spread out on a plate, covered with salt, and left to dry for a day or so, till the moisture is gone. Then, in a shallow tin, Marcelline some of the mixture. You will find you can make an immense variety of chocolate and unusual shades. And here is one more tip: add lemon juice generally to biscuits when you next make them. It will taste like strawberries and cream.
