Expansion of traffic has entailed an increase in railway expenditure but on the other hand revenue is expected to increase by eleven per cent.

So far as the port is concerned, largely increased revenue is also anticipated, this mainly in the increased harbour dues, but nevertheless, after adding the burden of interest, the port will still show a loss of nearly £400,000 which is being carried by the Railway.

Malaria. The Problem of Control.

What May be Accomplished by Intelligent Co-operation.

(FURNISHED—CORRESPONDENT)

London, Oct. 23. The work which has been done in the past 14 years for the prevention of malaria was described at a meeting held this week in connection with the 10th Session of the Council Rooms of the British Medical Association in the Royal Albert Hall. A statement was also made with regard to the progress for which an Industrial Anti-Malaria Advisory Committee has been formed. Sir Charles MacLeod, chairman of the Royal Institute, presided, and said that in spite of a continual financial struggle the executive committee and the directors, ably assisted by their executive secretary, had done exceedingly good work by means of their anti-malaria campaign.

Sir Malcolm Watson, who addressed the meeting said:

I propose in the first instance to refer to (1) those bodies the question of the prevention of malaria (2) to explain the activities of the Royal Institute, and afterwards to give you an opportunity of asking questions which I believe will be of advantage both to you and to me.

These present here represent malarial malarial, and other tropical industries, and there can be few, if any, persons in the tropics which are not now or have not been in the past particularly affected by malaria. The control of malaria is therefore a subject in which you must have heard many views on the subject. Some have held that the control of malaria was best accomplished by the destruction of the mosquito which carried the disease. Others have said that it is impossible to control malaria by killing mosquitoes, and that the best results are to be obtained by giving quinine, and so on, and so on, and so on, and thus preventing mosquitoes from becoming infected. Yet another group have held the mosquito was one of the unsatisfactory forms of malaria that quinine was a bactericidal agent against such a disease.

and that one hope lay in the side of malaria was often a result of which some drug innocuously more efficient than quinine would be discovered.

I am glad to say that there is no real reason to believe that malaria is more difficult to control than any other tropical disease. At the Congress of the 10th Session of the Tropical Medicine held at London in December 1927, not attended by representatives of all governments in the East and many qualified medical men, certain resolutions were passed which remove the subject of malaria as you are concerned from the scope of controversy. The medical profession in the following resolution has given you a succinct opinion and a clear-cut policy, and it only remains for you to give effect to it. Copies of the resolution are before you.

The substance of the resolution which effect you is as follows—

"They consider that for tropical countries, malaria, and other tropical diseases, and similar agencies of people, the control of the breeding places of the malarial-carrying species of mosquito is a method which should be employed wherever other anti-malarial measures are put into force. Whenever possible this control should be effected by permanent works which eliminate entirely the source of mosquito breeding."

CONTROL DIFFICULTIES.

Before you can give effect to this resolution and control malaria by means of mosquito control, you will be faced by certain very real difficulties. They are exactly the same difficulties as have faced social men in the past thirty years, and which have led to the differences of opinion to which I have just alluded. In the first place, malaria-control by means of mosquito-control is not primarily a medical problem, and as such has been treated, and is to be treated, technically administered in the treatment of the sick. SPEED UP PRODUCTION!

Increased Financial Provision The Only Remedy

The Issue Before The Elected Members.

For nearly three weeks we have been pleading in this country the story of the inadequate character of the budget...

We have stressed as a fundamental principle of the development of the country that unless production is stimulated the country will be less able to meet the growing demands for services...

The campaign has had a measure of success in that the country has been made aware of the fact that the country should add to its annual expenditure...

There is insufficient indication in the details on the Budget that the Elected Members have fully realized the seriousness of the position.

There is insufficient indication in the details on the Budget that the Elected Members have fully realized the seriousness of the position.

An opportunity should be provided in legislation for the Director of Agriculture to publish reports to indicate his difficulties and ask what should be done to mitigate the situation.

We find that in 1924 the Director of Agriculture was asked to submit a report on the condition of the country.

The importance of the appointment of agricultural officers for the local revenue in European areas is stressed in one report after another yet nothing is done.

The Director frequently expresses by comment that demonstration and experimental plots of all the important crops in various parts of the country would be an invaluable service...

When an officer goes on leave he has to report that the crops in the important field trials had to be abandoned...

It is of all the time the losses to be learned is the loss of the country and the Government.

The story of the Agricultural Department of Kenya during the past five years is most depressing.

There is only one remedy. The provision which increased the country is to be enabled to carry out the work which it has not had a chance.

THE 1929 BUDGET OF THE RAILWAY AND THE PORT.

Estimate as a first contribution towards an "Interest Free" loan. This has been estimated in the words of the Acting Chief Manager's report...

After moving working expenses and interest charges and making this provision for bad debts which is estimated to be less than the balance on the year's account is £240,870 which compares with £225,000 in 1928 Estimates.

That part of the balance in hand there is to be met out of the 1928 Estimates. The total amount of the balance in hand is £39,770, which is £21,870 more than the 1928 Estimate.

A Big Surplus. Nevertheless the Railways are in a position to have a surplus balance in hand after the 1929 account has been closed.

It is estimated that the total of the balance in hand at the end of 1929 will be £1,011,850. This is nearly 50 per cent more than the 1928 estimate.

Now we may turn to the fact of the 1929 estimate. This has been framed on the basis of the 1928 estimate and shows a decrease in working expenses of £100,000 and a decrease in the revenue of £100,000.

The total revenue of the Port Department is estimated to be £400,000. This compares with the revenue of £310,000 in 1928 and shows an estimated increase in revenue of £90,000.

SALISBURY ROAD
To the Editor, "The Standard."
Sir—Could you through your paper please put the following resolution before the treatment of your Salisbury Road?
The grade is now on the level of the third or fourth time since any one could remember. At the same time the surface is being made and piled up and it is a real nuisance for the many who are entering the gate of residence.
Something should be done to alter the grade of the road.

It may be remembered that in my "Change Hospital" article I mentioned a few weeks ago the "improving" (sic) of the road (sic) pointing out that the road was not only improved but also the threat to health (sic) that the road was doing to the health of the people on both sides of the road (sic).

NATIVE EDUCATION AND HEALTH
To the Editor, "The Standard."
Sir—I received a note in the reporting of what I said on the Budget, one of my reports was on a matter with regard to which I should not like to be misunderstood.
On "Native Education" I am reported as saying: "He believed that money given to the Medical Department and to Missions for medical services was of far greater value than the money given for education which enabled the native to have a trade and earn money to live."
As far as the word "education" this is perfectly correct. After that the sentence should read "I expect such an enabled native to earn a trade and earn money to live for the things he wanted to buy."
I am definitely and strongly in favour of native being given every facility to learn trades and such primary literary training as is necessary for this purpose.
But except for that, I believe the money is best of all spent on their health which is deplorable because they have not yet learnt how to live. Their vitality is lowered by worm infestations of different sorts because they keep and have their food on the floors of infested huts and insect-plagues and because a syphilis case is not isolated on. They are badly infected with syphilis and yaws which can be dealt with by keeping down for a period of time the incidence of infection from the regular use of large quantities of antiseptic drugs and because are carried.

Again seeing to their habits, infestations of cattle and sheep and allied diseases are being tackled in every stream and river in the country at intervals.

Malawi is being brought from the endemic areas continually among the highlands areas owing to lack of communication to hit the parasite in the country. It is necessary to have a few more of this kind of free quarantine.

Money is not unlimited. It must be found for these purposes. It seems to me madness to divert it to literary forms of education for the comparatively few which are the main of their people's work for discontent and unhappiness.

These things if they are right will come gradually in their own good time. At present it seems to me inferior forms of education have all future improvements in their condition on a foundation of health. It is the first and the most useful in any way of life.

Yours etc.

KENYA AGRICULTURE—POULTRY
To the Editor, "The Standard."
Sir—I was very pleased to read Mr. Haggard's views with regard to culture and other subjects in my issue of last week. NATIVE PRODUCTION AND MIXED FARMING
To the Editor, "The Standard."
Sir—I was very pleased to read Mr. Haggard's views with regard to culture and other subjects in my issue of last week. I am glad to see that he did not do the practical side of his matter dealing with other land matters. While the matter of farming is of the very greatest importance, it is the first and the most useful in any way of life. It is the first and the most useful in any way of life.

No. 15: The Tomato.

BY A KENYA HOUSEWIFE.

There is no other garden product so versatile as the tomato. The more various methods of preparation are known to all, the more valuable it becomes for preparing soups, stews, and other dishes.

TO STEW.

House bottled tomatoes are superior to tinned ones. Mason bottles should be used and after this outline is made, they may be used in any other manner.

Place large, perfect tomatoes in a frying basket or colander and sprinkle with boiling water for one minute to boiling water for one minute and a half. Remove quickly in cold water, and strip off skins with a sharp knife. Place in washed bottles and fill up with the liquid obtained by cooking and straining, imperfect tomatoes. Add just rubbers and salt, screw down, but not too tightly. Stand in a bath or other receptacle with a false bottom. Fill with water to top of bottles and boil for 40 minutes. Remove bottles and cool down tightly.

*The false bottom is necessary to prevent bottles from cracking. A board in the bottom of steamed used with small holes, or it to show the true condition of water underneath the jar, is sufficient.

TOMATO JAM.

Wash and peel tomatoes out in half measure and squeeze out the juice. Cut in quarters, and for each quart of tomatoes, add 1 pint of sugar, 4 teaspoonful of salt, and 4 teaspoonful of acid. Put over a slow fire and bring to a boil. Boil slowly for 10 to 20 minutes, stirring frequently. Strain 1 pound Mason bottles. Fill with boiling run and seal by screwing caps down tightly.

GREEN TOMATO JAM.

Cut 2 quart of green tomatoes in halves and squeeze out seeds. Then chop. Add 4 cups of sugar and boil slowly for two hours. Put 2 cups of acid in run through.

Food chopper. Add these, a teaspoonful of salt and the juice of a lemon. Boil for another half hour and seal as above.

TOMATO PUREE.

Prepare as for jam. Squeeze salt and seeds and boil slowly until thick, being careful not to scorch. Fill sterilized bottles and place in boiling water as when bottling. Allow to boil 1 hour.

GREEN TOMATO MINE MEAT.

Chop 5 pounds of green tomatoes, sprinkle with salt and tie in a cloth. Hang and allow to drain over night. In the morning add an equal amount of sugar. Cook slowly until tomatoes are tender. Then add—
 1 lb. salt.
 1 lb. onion.
 1 lb. carrot.
 1 lb. potato.
 1 lb. cauliflower.
 1 lb. parsnip.
 1 lb. turnip.
 Cook again for a short time and store in sterilized jars.

PICKLED TOMATOES.

Use small firm tomatoes. Wash in jars. Place 2 quarts of vinegar in a large jar. Add 1/2 lb. of salt and 1/2 lb. of sugar. Boil for 10 minutes and pour over jars. When quite cold, pour over tomatoes. Screw lids down tight, and store in a cool dark place.

PAINLESS DEATH FOR INCURABLES.

The Vienna correspondent of the Daily Express says that the daily death for incurable patients from thrombotic disease is now provided by the Czechoslovak State when the patient consents to undergo a certain operation.

The simple operation of the two arteries of the neck is performed by the Czechoslovak State when the patient consents to undergo a certain operation.

Legal operations of this nature are to be rendered legal under certain specified conditions. These conditions are as follows:

First if the birth of a child will endanger the prospective mother's health, second, if the prospective mother has already three children, third, if in cases where it can be proved that the economic position of the prospective parents does not enable them to support a child.

In addition to the Czechoslovakian divorce law is made more liberal than the law made in 1928. It facilitates a divorce suit, and a woman is allowed to sue for a divorce.

FAITH

and Goodyear Product.

EVERY day thousands of motorists, the world over, fit Goodyear tyres. What is the force: the power: that sends them to the Goodyear Tyre in such great numbers? Faith. Faith in the Goodyear name and product. More than money or toil of brain and hand: Faith has builded the colossal institution which is Goodyear. Faith brought tyre leadership to Goodyear keeping and Faith shall hold it there.

And the new Goodyear Balloon, the new type All Weather Tread, has not betrayed that trust in the Goodyear name and product. It truly represents the latest and greatest reason why more people ride on Goodyear Tyres than on any other make.

A Talk to Locust Officers.

Campaign Tactics Explained.

An extension of the locust campaign from a purely local character to the Department of Agriculture as the result of a number of temporary locust officers who will be sent to work in the native reserves. It will, there will be some 10 units in all, and the second detachment of the Nairobi Show Ground. When they return a completed list of areas to be worked will be sent to the locust officers. It is especially fitted for the work and will permit of large areas being covered at a very much greater speed than the usual campaign.

Through the courtesy of the Department of Agriculture a representative of the East African Standard was enabled to attend a lecture which was delivered by Mr. H. Harrison, the Deputy Director of Agriculture, who is in charge of the locust campaign.

In opening his talk Mr. Harrison showed some specimens of locust eggs in order that they might be correctly recognized. The eggs are similar to those of a worm, brown colour and are laid singly on a leaf. They are laid singly on a leaf and are laid singly on a leaf. Further details would not be given at this time and it is hoped that the locust officers will be able to find the locusts in the native reserves. They will be found in the native reserves and will be found in the native reserves.

Mr. Harrison had been made to give the locust officers a talk on the locusts. He had been made to give the locust officers a talk on the locusts and he had been made to give the locust officers a talk on the locusts.
