OPERATING AT A LOSS

Statement by High Commissioner for Transport.

STANDARD CORRESPONDENT. Maritime Development. At the monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce held on Wednesday evening one of the chief subjects dealt with was the action to be taken to reduce the port charges.

I am directed to inform you that the Harbour Advisory Board at their meeting held on 14th November 1922, considered the letter and telegram dated 15th October 1922 from the London Chamber of Commerce and the fact that the Board had no other alternative but to support the reduction in the port charges.

The whole question of Port charges has been subjected to a very thorough examination by the Board and it is now operating at a substantial loss. It is now the Board's duty to consider any further reduction in Port charges and the Board has already been asked to recommend the Board to also consider the operating costs of the Port on a budget basis on an economic level.

Mr. H. H. Robinson pointed out that the Board had not yet received the report on the above mentioned subject from the East African Section of the London Chamber of Commerce. Mr. P. Phillips, however, suggested another reduction was not proposed as the view of the Board.

Harbour Advisory Board. The Chairman then read out the minutes proposed from the Board and also the following recommendations to be received from the Chairman.

of the Harbour Advisory Board. It is to be noted that the Board's recommendation was not accepted. Under instruction was given to the Board to meet on the 14th November 1922. A resolution was passed that the Board should be empowered to meet on the 14th November 1922. The Board was then informed that the Board should be empowered to meet on the 14th November 1922.

Good! It's British! If the name Eley or Kynoch is stamped on the head of a cartridge you may be sure that it will accomplish all that a cartridge is supposed to do.

Don't use inferior imitations by some cheaply made and will not damage your gun. In a word Eley and Kynoch cartridges are dependable.
