FORTHCOMING SPECIAL ARTICLES.
"East African Standard."

ADVENTURE, TRAVEL, HUMOUR,
HISTORY, ESSAYS, Etc.
 By the undermentioned well-known writers.
 The first article will appear next week and the others at regular intervals.

PROGRAMME.
Sir H. Seton-Karr, C.M.G.
"Some Tight Corsets." (One of the world's most successful big game hunters, recalls some exciting incidents experienced while hunting the great panther—the elephant, the rhinoceros, the hippopotamus and the buffalo.)

This will appear in our Daily Edition of January 21st and in the Weekly Edition of January 24th:
Fiona Annie Steel
"The Cockpit of India."
 (Why the plain of Punjab should have chosen out from the fastness of Tibet as the place where every really noteworthy battle of Indian history is fought is the title and is beyond explanation. Yet the fact remains that the history of Punjab is almost an ancient history of India.)

Buke of Anyall
"A Talk to Young Men."
 (The motto, "Little boys should be seen and not heard," is in the daily opinion of all writers. This reputation of the young boys is owing to the fact that they are so unscrupulous, lack of judgment and self-reliance that they are in fact in fact.)

Baroness Grey
"If I were a Man."
 (The author of "The Scarlet Pimpernel" believes in better forms of dress personality. What she thinks would be the best, if it was, unless something is said?)

Claude Graham-White
"Why Airmen are Not Afraid."
 (The English aviator who won the Gordon Bennett Cup in 1910. It is now doing some astonishing things with "Waterproofs of his own design.")

Professor Flinders Petrie
"Oldest History in the World."
 (The greatest authority on Egyptology gives us a view of a civilization nearly 5,000 years old—the oldest authentic history of the world.)

Sir A. T. Quiller-Couch
"If every Face were kindly."
 ("If" is so long been the sign of whimsical remarks and has become an introduction word to an important fact, but readers will pardon a reminder of the breadth of agreement which includes in thirty-six volumes that friendly authority, "The Oxford Book of Verse.")

William Le Queux
"A Page of Memories."
 (A man of Mr. Le Queux's position (and disposition naturally) needs with strong folk and queer experiences. One man needs with them, but he can get them better so vividly as can this gifted novelist.)

Sir Francis Burnand
"About Some Humorists."
 (The views of a former editor of "Punch" on some of our leading humorists.)

Sir Martin Conway
"Romance of Mountaineering." (One of the greatest explorers and climbers of the age describes how the fascination of mountaineering gets hold of his devotees.)

Sir H. Seton-Karr, C.M.G.
"An Exciting Day in British East Africa." (A day's bag in the big game hunter's paradise may include anything and everything from a lion to a hippopotamus and much larger than a hare.
 Although including a lion, a hippo, an elephant, his story was quite satisfied with his day's work.)

Queen of Rumania
"If I were a Millionaire."
 (One of "Queen Rumania's" charming essays. That the author, although a Queen, is far from being a millionaire, and is in fact rather poor of the distinction, merely adds piquancy to the article.)

Nairobi Auctioneers Ltd. Sales

Through the kindness of Mr H D Taylor, the General Manager of the Uganda Railway, some three thousand copies of an official circular, containing a programme on Thursday afternoon, for which committee of the theatre local had been formed...

The Indian question is still hanging fire and the amount of writing it has effected in the past week is only 150 to 200 copies. The majority of the letters have been left in the post-office, some having been returned from the sender and there has been talk of a general strike in the event of the Government not doing as it is expected that they will.

We suppose there is no doubt that the Emperor Menelik is dead at last. We are not certain how many times he has been reported to have died, but there must have been about ten "well authenticated" reports to that effect and we have already twice been persuaded to publish lengthy obituary notices and his photograph (of His Majesty). The truth seems to be that he was overtaken by severe paralysis about the time of the first report three or four years ago, and it was definitely said last month that he was suffering from the general paralysis of the insane. It was a melancholy end for a man who was truly great in his day, yet prone to have been, from the political standpoint, a very mediocre figure.
