NATIVE DEVELOPMENT.

STANDARD'S COMMENTARY.

London, March 13. (Standard's special correspondent.)—The Editor of the Standard in East Africa at King's College, London, has just published the following article on the subject of native development.

It is a common mistake to suppose that the native races of East Africa are a homogeneous mass. In fact, they are a collection of many different peoples, each with its own characteristics and its own needs.

It is our duty to study the needs of these peoples and to find ways of satisfying them. This is the only way to bring about a true and lasting development in East Africa.

One of the first things to be done is to improve the education of the native races. This will enable them to understand their own needs and to find ways of satisfying them.

Another important thing to be done is to improve the health of the native races. This will enable them to live longer and to be more productive.

Finally, it is important to improve the economic conditions of the native races. This will enable them to live more comfortably and to contribute more to the development of East Africa.

THE NATI GENERATION.

There were many criticisms of the Standard's article on native development. Some of these criticisms were based on a misunderstanding of the facts and the author's intentions.

The author's intention was to point out the needs of the native races and to suggest ways of satisfying them. He was not trying to criticize the government or any other authority.

The government has a duty to satisfy the needs of the native races. This is the only way to bring about a true and lasting development in East Africa.

The author's article was a contribution to the discussion of native development. It is hoped that it will lead to a better understanding of the needs of the native races and to a more effective policy.

It is our hope that the government will take the author's suggestions into consideration and will do all that is possible to improve the conditions of the native races.

Standard's Commentary.

SENSATIONAL RUGBY MATCH
Ireland Defeat Wales.

CROWD WORKED TO FEVER POINT.

['STANDARD' CORRESPONDENT.]
LONDON, March 31.—The most sensational game played for a long time since the World War football match was that of Ireland last Saturday when they defeated Wales at the Avonmouth Ground, near Bristol, by 10-0. The match was played in front of a crowd of 40,000, the largest ever seen in the history of the game in this country. The Irish were victorious in every phase of the game, and the Welsh were completely out of the match. The Irish forwards were particularly strong, and they scored all the goals. The Welsh backs were completely out of the match, and they were unable to do anything to help their team. The match was a complete rout for the Irish, and it was a great victory for them. BRITAIN'S BUDGET BALANCED

Year Ends with $364,000 Surplus.

TAXPAYERS' AMAZING DISPLAY OF PATRIOTIC FEELING.

Emergency Not Yet Passed.

LITTLE PROBABILITY OF EARLY RELIEF FROM TAXATION.

Great Britain's financial year closed on Thursday with a surplus on the Budget of $864,000. The figures were:

REVENUE, $770,853,000.
EXPENDITURE, $770,959,000.

In actual fact, however, as it was originally planned to balance the Budget by taking $29,000,000 from a fund known as the Exchequer Reserve and as it was decided to take only $12,730,000 of this sum; the real Budget surplus is $10,120,000.

When Lord Snowden revised the Budget last September he estimated a balance of $1,000,000.

This very satisfactory termination of one of the most important periods in British financial history is mainly due to economies in expenditures and to the magnificent response of the Income Taxpayers.

The newspapers lay stress on the fact that the period of emergency has not yet ended, that different times in the past, relief from taxation cannot be expected in view of the immediate future, and that until trade revives the only direction of help is economy.

Economy the Only Way.

The end of the financial year marks the successful completion of the Budget and the Government's programme to lay sound foundations for recovery by first stabilising conditions which had collapsed by balancing the Budget and the Chancellor of the Exchequer's statement of his policy in taking his case as Deputy Prime Minister.

The surplus for the financial year of 1932-33 amounted to £770,853,000 and the expenditure to £770,959,000, leaving a surplus of £864,000, the original estimate.

The surplus, which is the most remarkable year in the financial history of Great Britain, has ended with the revised Budget not only balanced but leaving a surplus for the year of 1932-33.

The two main factors contributing to this favourable result are economies effected while the Budget was being prepared and the financial confidence, response and the Income Tax payers to approve for the Budget to be balanced, as it is desirable, the public confidence was never estimated to be as high as it was.

Mr. Chamberlain's announcement that he would be sworn in as Prime Minister on the 21st of May has been received with great interest.

KENYA FRUIT BY AIR.
Safe Arrival in London.
An Experiment.

When Othello's Malabar agent, Messrs. J. B. B. & Co., Nairobi, presented a consignment of Kenya fruit to the Shell Co. of Kenya, Ltd., Nairobi, for transport to London, March 22. A trial experiment was made from there a sum amounting to £1,000 was advanced for a consignment of 100,000 lbs. of Kenya fruit to be shipped to London on March 5 by air arrived in London on the 15th. Those of "The Times", Mr. Dawson, who announced in his paper that the fruit had arrived in excellent condition. The Editor explained in "The Times" that the experiment followed on the exhibition of fruit recently by Mr. Laing, at the Kenya Produce Show in Nairobi.

To him and to Mr. Galton-Fenzi, of the East African Automobile Association, and to Mr. Wheeler, of the Imperial Airways, this project of exporting fruit from Kenya to England raised its importance.

Naturally the consignment was a small one in view of the air mail postage but the transaction was eminently satisfactory.

ROAD AND WEATHER REPORT.

By Mr. Gibson-Pearce writes as follows:

The rains have ceased of course, and the weather has improved. The roads are in a state of some improvement, but the heavy rain on the road has done much to wash away the surface of the roads.

The storm during the last week has been extremely local, for instance parts of British had nearly a foot of rain, while other parts had only a few inches.

The Coast and interior of the country are still in a state of some improvement, but the heavy rain on the road has done much to wash away the surface of the roads.

Development of Native Reserves.

THE TASK FACING THE KENYA GOVERNMENT.

1. Administrative Machinery.

At the end of November last the "East African Standard" published an announcement by the Government of Kenya-N.A.D. Circular 34—that in order to prepare the way for greater production in the Native Reserves a fairly comprehensive economic survey would be carried out.

The circular was addressed to every P.C. and A.D.C. in the Service and to the chiefs of the Medical, Education, Veterinary, Agricultural and Public Works Departments.

The intention of Government is to encourage production by two main methods (a) constant propaganda and (b) the preparation of a long-range programme.

The Survey Commission was organized to study the conditions of the African and the structure which the agents of the Imperial Government have erected for that purpose.

A Changing Structure.

Indigenous systems of Government are being replaced by Governmental methods. In the Native Reserves, the traditional methods of administration are being replaced by Governmental methods. The structure which the agents of the Imperial Government have erected for that purpose.

The survey will be carried out by a committee of officers of the Government and by the Native Reserves themselves. The survey will be carried out in the Native Reserves.

Nairobi Golf Club Notes.

REFLECTIONS ON THE EASTER TOURNAMENT. Muthaiga's First Couple.

WEAKNESS OF THE PRESENT KENYA AMATEUR CHAMPION.

My heartiest and most sincere congratulations to the skipper of the Muthaiga Golf Club and the members of the Muthaiga team at last achieving the height of their ambition and winning the Easter Tournament for the first time.

The whole tournament, from the golf point of view, has already been described in these columns. It is sufficient for me to make a few remarks. First was when the 15-upcountry and Kikuyu teams had one or two strong episodes at the top and after that they faded away very badly.

The Muthaiga first couple, Messrs. English and English played magnificent golf throughout the tournament. English is not apt to get erratic, but English is one of the all players I saw the most of.

The tournament comes to a most successful conclusion on the Muthaiga. The Captain of the Muthaiga the Tournament and the Muthaiga team, I said, "I am in the Muthaiga which they are really doing."

We generally play the best golf of the Tournament's general Messrs. English and English.

I was very impressed by the golf played by the first and delightful looking golfer I had seen here in Nairobi.

One thing more, I should like to say, is that the Muthaiga team has a very good team. They are a very good team.

"STANDARD" CORRESPONDENT. London, March 31. The Lincolnshire, as frequently happens, has again been won by outsider. Favorite was Lord. Bright.

I watched all the play I could get of the four days in which the 15-upcountry game was played. I saw one unpleasant incident, in one subsidiary game, and I really regret the Easter Tournament of the most enjoyable weeks in golf.

The winners and their gains were entertained by the committee of the Muthaiga Golf Club. Speech making, and every thing else that was in the line of one of our spectators in the field.

Final Phase in Wakamba With Murder Case.

IMPRISONMENT TAKES PLACE OF DEATH SENTENCES. Governor's Decision.

KENYA TRIAL WHICH AROUSED CONTROVERSY IN BRITAIN.

Instead of being hanged, the men concerned in what has come to be known as the Wakamba witch murder case, will undergo various terms of imprisonment. The Governor was announced on Friday that His Excellency the Governor who on Saturday decided to commute the sentences imposed by the Supreme Court of Kenya and endorsed by the Court of Appeal for Eastern Africa, had altered the punishment. The principal accused in the crime will now be imprisoned for three months and five of his accomplices will be imprisoned for three months in prison and the remaining ten, who, because of their youth were ordered to be detained in the Kenya Magway's pleasure, will undergo three months imprisonment.

Case has aroused considerable interest in Britain where it has been the subject of much press comment and representations to the Colonial Office.

It is likely that it will have the effect of hastening a change in the application of the law in native cases.

Hastening Change in Procedure?

The Executive the Governor on Monday announced the alterations in sentences which were made on the 21st of March of the Wakamba witch trial which resulted in a native woman being sentenced to death by hanging. The trial was held in the presence of the Governor and the Chief Justice. The trial was held in the presence of the Governor and the Chief Justice. The trial was held in the presence of the Governor and the Chief Justice.

The Law and Justice.

The law has several considerations which are of importance in the present context. It is suggested, however, that the law is not so much a set of rules to be applied to cases as a set of principles to be applied to cases.
