Britain and the Irish Land Annuities.

IMPORT DUTIES TO MEET DEFAULT IN PAYMENT.

Adopted by the Commons.

FREE STATE GOVERNMENT REFUSES EMPIRE ARBITRATION TRIBUNAL.

The House of Commons by a substantial majority voted for the imposition of import duties, not exceeding 10 per cent, on valium, on Irish Free State products, in order to recover the loss caused by the default in the payment of the land annuities.

Mr. H. Thomas stated that Mr. de Valera has definitely refused arbitration by an Empire tribunal, and that the British Government was left no alternative but to proceed with the financial resolution imposing the duties.

During the debate it was announced that Mr. de Valera was setting aside the disputed sums pending arbitration matters, but he (Mr. Thomas) insisted that arbitration must be by an Empire Court.

Tanganyika's New £500,000 Railway.

THE MANYONI - KINYANGERI EXTENSION.

Opening Ceremony.

TO SERVE A THICKLY POPULATED AND FERTILE AREA.

The new railway extension from Manyoni on the Tanganyika Central Line to Kinyangeri was opened recently by His Excellency the Governor of Tanganyika, Sir Stewart Symes.

In a brief speech His Excellency referred to the Tanganyika Government's intentions regarding capital expenditure and declared: "We must turn our energies to the development of all available resources with the means at our disposal."

The new line, which has cost £500,000 to build, was completed four months before the actual contract date, the work having been carried out by Civilian Lewis Bickler, a former Italian Consul in East Africa.

MULTUM IN PARVO

When the Triumph Co. built their latest models it can only be assumed that they kept this ideal before them all the time. Never has there been such a concentration of high-class features in a car of such modest price. You have only to remember the four speed gearbox, four wheel hydraulic brakes, bucket seats, wire wheels etc., etc. Also that the Triumph is not a mere toy capable of holding only two people but is of genuine proportions throughout and is backed by years and years of experience in the building of all sorts of motor vehicles.

Even if you are the "Multum" you will find plenty of leg room for yourself and passengers in the "Parvo".

Attitude of France Towards Reparations.

UNDERGOES A LAST MINUTE CHANGE.

Fate of Conference in Jeopardy.

M. HERIOT WITHDRAWS FROM HIS EARLIER STANDPOINT.

After an all-day discussion it is understood that M. Heriot has not only refused to yield an inch, but even drawn from his earlier position. He is said to have finally ascertained that if the Conference was not satisfied with the French claims, the original Yalta Plan must continue.

He declined to discuss Germany's demand for the deletion of the "war guilt" clause from the Versailles Treaty. He also refused to intertain other German political demands.

The "War Guilt" Clause.

Mr. Heriot's attitude was the subject of a long and heated discussion in the Chamber of Deputies. He was accused of being too soft on the Germans.

He finally announced that he would not be satisfied with the French claims, and that the original Yalta Plan must continue.

He also refused to intertain other German political demands.
