Government House.

On Tuesday evening Mrs. Hayes-Sadler entertained at Government House Mombasa the leading Eurovery well attended and a most entertaining evening was spent.

The Consulate was brilliantly deorated with coloured lights and the grounds had the appearance of a airy garden.

The dancing was much enjoyed as was the musical programme. Mrs. Espie opened the musical items by a pianeforte solo in her immitable style which was very much appre-ciated, a song by Mrs. Coombe accompained by prane and violing as very well received as were the son, s by Mrs. Holstein and Messis. sympathy with a Chamber of Cour-merce but not a Chamber so uning-presentative of Commercial interests as the Montheas Chamber is to-day. We fare attendy pointed but to the merchants, who are holding aloof from membership, that they are more to blame than the present members for the unsatisfactory state of the ber was started three years ago, all European merchants were invited to assist in forming a chamber : had all joined, the Chamber there would never have been any question of the Indian merchant community having a preponderant vote as the number We intend to always hold stocks a preponderant voice as the number in Mombasa and Nairoba, so that of Indian representatives would have supplies will always be quickly been limited by unanimous and obtainable through Storekeepers. Indian merchant noted that many European merchants held aloof, they William Cooper and Nephews, anaturally admitted a further number of their own community to member ship otherwise the financial position of the Chamber would have been an impossible one.

> Three years have passed and a new year has begun, and a deter-mined effort will be made to create a unity between the various merchant communities. It is felt both amongst the European merchants and the Indian merchants that the European merchants should be in a majority ou commercial questions as they un-doubtedly hold very much larger interests in the country than any other community and we do not believe the Tudian merchants wish oblives the total merchants wish otherwise, provided they have a fairly substantial voice on all matters of confinerce. They wish to be heard and we have never found any European merchant disputing this right.

The difficulties expressed in our article of August 19th still exist but they are to no means insurmountable. The Mombasa Chamber of Commerce is an existing body, duly affiliated with the British Chambers. it is therefore quite impossible to alter this fact the constitution, how ever with the Chamber's consent. may be to altered as to arrive at a situation so much desired both by Communities of the Capital. The African Standard the Chamber's actions ato limited to a committee composed of European firms, (elected by the European members of the Chamber or elected by the whole body) and say 7 Indian merchants each representing one sect of the various communities. We are of the option has would satisfy all patters and it spould satisfy all patters and it spould satisfy all patters and it spould further enable patters and it spould further enable patters and it spould further enable is used of August 10th last anent the which is well understood by the Moonbase Chamber of Comparer is leading fundam morphalast. SURPRISED.

On Thursday Night, a series of manusuvres embracing night attack and defence were carried out by the officers and men H. M. S. Forts then lying in Kilindini Harbour. A Party was placed in a shed on the mainland and ordered to hold it against attack. The ship's launch also went out, to Mombasa Harbour o went out, to Mombasa Harbour also went out, to Mombasa Harbour and was to come up under cover of night, and put the Forte out of action, her if possible by means of a topedo. The scheme was carried out with great precision, and as far as the onlookers could gather, as of course onlowers could gather, as or course it was unpossible to gain official news of the results, the shed was successfully defended, by its party, but the launch managed to creep up to the Forte its crew having disguisdiff to somewhat, and theoretically ed it somewhat, and theore launched a torpedo at her side.

On Friday 5th instant at about 10 p. m. an alarm was raised that is house in Ndia Kuu, Mombasa was on fire. All the European Inspectors at one turned out and took the few available turned out and took the few available men from the police station, and immediately telephoned to M'nasi Moja for help, as the fire was in one of the most conjected parts of the city. The scene of the outbreak was reached, and within ten minutes from the sharm being reised, 30 poligenien arrived on the scene with fire axes and the other paraphernalia to subdue flames.

They had douned their uniform and doubled down from their bar-racks in this short space of time, a splandid performance and one worthy of commandation.

the immediate future

Our Assistant Judge, occupies his position as a Judge of the High Court for the first time upon his return from leave, and therefore it will take him some little time to gather that experience which, enables a that experience which enables a Judge to expedite legal matters without any loss of purpose, further-more our, Assistant Judge will have the duties of Administrator General falling on his shoulders and most our Principal Judge will need to take his own leave, otherwise, notwith-standing he is a physically strong man he will collapse with the strain which it is apparent to the most casual observer must bear him down in the course of time.

The future we have to face then, that, the whole judic ary work will fall on our Assistant Judge for six months. An impossible position and one which s against the interests of the people of this country and their Judges. Great Concessions to Intending Settlera

The Authorities in German East The Authorities in German East Africa have issued an interesting pamplet, to be circulated, with the intention of bringing to public notice the advantages of settling in German East Africa. The paper contains much valuable information, which those who intend to proceed to this country will find of immense use.

Great stress is laid on the fact that any one entering the country, with the intention of making his permanent residence there, must be in possession of good health and must be of a sober temperament, and not addicted to alcohol. No glowing picture is painted, of a man suddenly blossoming into wealth, people are told that riches are not obtained in a short time, and that to accumulate this world's goods they must be workans world's goods they must be worked for, and only by diligent application can a settler hope to succeed.
The capital for a settler from Europe must not be less than £450, although experienced South African farmers could probably manage on

The different means of reaching The different means or reaching the districts are given, and the cost of travelling is also set down with the details of expenditure, which are of much use. It is suggested, that in the wet season, the Uganda Ruillabour is cheap, and very plentiful, the average wage per mensem for unskilled labour being Rs. 3.

The climate is very temperate, and quite suited to European habitation, and allows a white man to take a hand in the work. There are no schools established as yet, but when the time is ripe for their erection. the German language will be obliga-

There is fine shooting in the country, and the cost of licenses is very small. The ordinary permit costs Rs. 10 per annum and almost any game can be shot on payment of a small sum per head as for instance Rhino, Rs. 30 per head, Gazelle, Rs. 1 to 3, Elephant Rs. 100. The Zebra, Ostrich, Eland and Giraffe, are protected, and the killing of these animals is illegal. Government pay Rs. 20 per head for Lion and Rs. 10 for Leopards.

For the convenience of settless, stations have been commanded to give every facility, and also expaper money at a fixed rate paper money at a fixed rate bar sovereign. has taken, and does take a introductional and heartwhole interest in the sommercial welfare of the Protectorate. It would be well for members of deputations to bear in mind, that as such it is their duty to do all as such it is their duty to do all they can to further and promote the interests of the community at large, and that all personalities and private axe grinding should be forgotten and avoided, not that this is an inference that anything of this nature occur-red at the meeting under comment, but that sometimes the "Ego" does out an sometimes the "Ego" does crop up, when only general interests should be thought of. Further, dis-cussion and argument should not take place on such occasions between members of the deputation, for in unity lies strength.
