What the public now want to know is. Why did not Mr. Logan call upon some of his fellow citizens (there were officials prominent among the growd) to aid him in put ting a stop to further proceeding His excuse in Court was "I did not think they would have helped me."

Did he allow his thoughts to supplant his duty. His duty was undoubtedly to call upon indivi-duals in the name of the King come to his assistance, and is on record in the evidence that had he done so, one at least of the bystanders would have rendered him assistance. His neglect of duty in this respect is so serious that H. E. the Governor cannot overlook it. Yet again the Town Magistrate might have exercised his powers and thereby have possibly saved the situation and that by commanding the crowd to dis-perse in accordance with the pro-visions of the Code. What was the excuse of the learned Magistrate :-"I do not carry the Code in my head and I had to act quickly." by it not unfortunate enough that we have this Indian Code at all, without having to submit to Magistrates who do not carry the Code in their head sufficiently to know that a Magistrate's duty is to command an assembly to disperse if it is presumably bent on on unlawful act :-

We now turn to the policeman, aptain Smith. MASS MEETING IN NAIROBI.

Extracts from the Times of East Africa Report.

Estate: Farma. Agricultural Rolding.

However, the state of the state pronounced it was felt that only one course of lawful action was open to the public and a Mass Meeting was arranged for 3 p.m. to protest against the frightful enormity in which the trial had terminated.

Shortly after 3 p.m. about 150 set-tlers and business men met in Mr. T. A. Wood's Auction Room and no time was lost in getting through the Agenda.
Mr. W. A. Burn opened the meet-

Mr. W. A. Burn opened the meeting, the chair being taken by Mr. day. T. T. A. Wood. The first on the Agenda was a resolution by Mr. Burn seconded by Mr. Sergeant:—

TWO weeks ago the "prevaricators" had their innings, to-day they are being found out and Officials and Civilians are joining hands with a view of exposing these mischievous persons. As time goes on we will disclose one of the most disgraceful instances which has happened under British rule.

A Mombasa Subscriber, an Official of the Protectorate, writes to us that he does not agree with our recent policy. We presume that he objects to our pronouncement that; "we hold that every white-man is personally bound to protect every white-woman from native insolence as this is the only pronouncement of policy we have made since the Nairobi case.
