Balloon Race. Official Result.

The official result of the balloon race for the Gordon Bennett cup places the American first with 1350 miles, the English second, 1280 miles, Germany, third, 1190 miles. The American sailed beautifully for three days and was floating calmly over the forests in North Quebec, when suddenly a storm compelled them to land on an untracked mountain, at an elevation of 1500 feet. The aeronauts were four days sick when they met Canadian trappers, who conveyed them in canoe to Stambrose.

Home Politics.

Home Rule for Scotland.

(Home's Special to 'East African Standard') London

The manifesto published by the Scottish National Convention appeals to Scotland as the world over for funds to secure Home Rule for Scotland.

De Veto Conference.

Mr. Asquith, in a speech delivered at Tynemouth, with reference to the Veto Conference, said that the Conference would pass and conditions and it would be found that the conditions, if given, would not be stipulated.

The Leaders Hopeful.

Another Chamber speaking from, and that ample time will be allowed for the consideration of the constitutional problem.

Critics on Home Rule.

Published letters of Lord Hugh and Robert Cecil, Lord Lansdowne and Ian Malcolm respectively present against the view that the Ulsteriate report Home Rule as a possible expedient. Viscount Wolmer as Premier that the Ulsteriate would never betray the Ulsterites, but it was their duty to reasonably consider the federal scheme of home rule, which could not be achieved by one party alone.

Canada and Ireland.

T. P. O'Connor, who was interviewed at Alberton, said he had enjoyed a wonderful time in Canada, which country, he was, was abnormally anxious for Home Rule. He said he believed a solution of that problem could be found on Canadian lines.

The Naval Loan.

Lord Minister Peter, speaking at Manchester, said that while the Liberals were in power he did not think the situation would arise which necessitated a Naval Loan.

Advice to Ulsterites.

The Ulsterites, says the Ulsterite, before Parliament reassemble, to recognize the necessity of reconsidering the Home Rule question. Unless they wish to be deprived of the strength of the Ulsterite, they had to be looked upon as Imperialist at last.

Amalgam of Loyalists.

Mr. Ansell, at Ladbroke, said he was glad to see his colleagues had been awarded in the opinion that wherever he is seen, the London press has an opinion which it was a duty of statesmanship to adopt. It is an agreement which could be found which their time had not been wasted, and in any case, if an agreement were reached it would be ineffective until approved by the judgment of the country.

Old Talk Revived.

With reference to Balfour's speech at Tynemouth, C. A. Water Lane, writing to the Grand Orange Lodge, Belfast, said the old talk was revived, but the result would be the same, "we won't have Home Rule."

By Election.

The South Shields by-election, to replace Sir W. N. Robinson, R.C., appointed Lord of Appeal, resulted in a Liberal victory, the winning vote with 7,929 votes. Vaughan Williams, Liberal Unionist, received 4,219 votes. The election was a straight fight between Liberal Reform and the Liberal Unionist.

Political Situation.

"The Daily News" has the highest authority for stating that the letters from "Pacifists" area which characterized the Government. There is no question of referring the constitutional crisis to a representative conference.

The progress of the case of federalism does not seem to be the problem of the Lords, while attention was a straight fight between Liberal Reform and the Liberal Unionist.

Feldmarsh Hill Ground.

The D. O. L. R. C. - Feldmarsh Hill, which was on the one way to Memphis, has proceeded by the Canal and traffic is blocked.

The D. O. L. R. C. - Feldmarsh Hill, which proceeded in the Canal has been delayed.

Katkiro's Appeal.

Bishop Tucker sends a letter to the Prime Minister of Uganda, which warmly urges appealing to Christians in England for help towards the re-conversion of a new Cathedral, which would be the third in the country. It says with the loss of their Cathedral the glory departed from the country.

Ex-Dictator Indicted.

Sebastian Franco, ex-dictator of Portugal, has been indicted for abuse of power; he has been halted.

Italy's Changers.

Rosetti at Naples reports that he has been notified that the draft "Vote from cabinet."

EAST AFRICAN INDUSTRIES.

J. J. Wilson, Taxidermist.

A taxidermist is a person who has a special knowledge of the anatomy of the various animals of the Empire, and who is able to preserve them in a natural appearance as they were in life. He is also able to make artificial skins, and to make them look as if they were the skins of animals which have been killed. He is also able to make artificial skins, and to make them look as if they were the skins of animals which have been killed. A Turner in the Machine Room

When the engine is started the water supply is cut off and the boiler is filled with steam. The pressure in the boiler is maintained at a constant level by the action of the safety valve. The water in the boiler is heated by the action of the fire in the furnace. The steam in the boiler is used to drive the engine. The engine is connected to the pump which lifts the water from the well. The water is then distributed to the various parts of the mine.

The water is lifted from the well by the action of the pump. The pump is driven by the engine. The engine is connected to the pump by a long shaft. The water is then distributed to the various parts of the mine. The water is used for various purposes, such as for the steam engine, for the fire engine, and for the various parts of the mine.
