THE RISK OF CONVENTION'S REPORT
The Two Great Difficulties
ULSTER AND CUSTOMS PROVE STUMBLING BLOCKS
SYMPATHETIC ATTITUDE OF IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT

The report of the Irish Convention has been published. The Convention has identified two major difficulties in the proposed Home Rule Bill: Ulster and Customs. The Ulster question is particularly contentious, with many in the north of Ireland opposing Home Rule. The Customs question relates to the proposed union of the Irish and British customs territories. The Imperial Parliament has shown a sympathetic attitude towards the Convention's proposals.

The Imperial Parliament has shown a sympathetic attitude towards the Convention's proposals. The House of Commons has passed a resolution in support of the Convention's report. This is a significant step towards the implementation of Home Rule for Ireland. However, the Ulster question remains a major obstacle to the passage of the Bill.

RECALL TO BELIEF

Various addresses were delivered to the Imperial Convention in London. The addresses were in support of the Convention's proposals for Home Rule. The speakers emphasized the importance of the Convention's work and the need for a united Ireland. The addresses were well-received and helped to build momentum for the Home Rule cause.

THE RISK OF CONVENTION'S REPORT
The Two Great Difficulties
ULSTER AND CUSTOMS PROVE STUMBLING BLOCKS
SYMPATHETIC ATTITUDE OF IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT

The report of the Irish Convention has been published. The Convention has identified two major difficulties in the proposed Home Rule Bill: Ulster and Customs. The Ulster question is particularly contentious, with many in the north of Ireland opposing Home Rule. The Customs question relates to the proposed union of the Irish and British customs territories. The Imperial Parliament has shown a sympathetic attitude towards the Convention's proposals.

The Imperial Parliament has shown a sympathetic attitude towards the Convention's proposals. The House of Commons has passed a resolution in support of the Convention's report. This is a significant step towards the implementation of Home Rule for Ireland. However, the Ulster question remains a major obstacle to the passage of the Bill.

Save Money

Every penny saved to-day helps to win the war, and therefore, thrift must be practiced by every Britisher throughout the world. In these days of high-priced foodstuffs, a small balance at the end of the month, after inevitable expenses have been met, is the exception. We can help to make it the rule. Our fortnightly in layings, and the fact that we cater for large quantities, ensure economical buying and money saving.

STANDARD NOTES.

As it was on a Saturday evening, the Times Royal was pushed to overflowing last Saturday. The principal item "Mignon" was followed with long lists, and it is certainly a tip-top production.

We are informed that during the storm on Saturday, many trees were blown down and the Electric Light Company's works were rendered inoperative.

We are informed that in the continuation of work scheduled generally for the week ending Saturday, the 24th instant at 5 p.m., a meeting of the committee will be held.

A most exact inform to us that he had received a notice from a party "not named" regarding the Times Royal about the week ending Saturday night.
