ATTACK ON FLANDERS COAST.
HEAVY DAMAGE TO ZEBRUGGE MOLE.

The Admiralty's Monday note concerning the following operations:
 On Monday night, the 26th inst., a submarine force of four boats was sent to attack the Zebrugge mole, which is situated on the coast of Flanders. The boats were successful in their mission, and caused considerable damage to the mole.

The Zebrugge mole, which is situated on the coast of Flanders, is one of the most important points of the German coast. It is the only point where German ships can enter the North Sea. The mole is situated in the town of Zebrugge, which is one of the most important ports of the German coast.

The damage done to the mole was considerable, and it is expected that it will be some time before the mole is repaired. The attack on the mole was a very bold move on the part of the British submarine force, and it is thought that it will have a great effect on the German navy.

The British submarine force, which was sent to attack the mole, was very successful in its mission. The boats were able to approach the mole without being detected, and they were able to drop their bombs on the mole.

AEROPLANE

An Early Morning Flight

(By Lt. Lind, Indian Division.) The gentle breeze of an early morning dawn stirred me to a stroll in the park, and I found myself in the hands of the clouds. I was just starting my motor when I saw a small aeroplane in the air. It was a biplane, and it was flying very low. I saw it for a few moments, and then it disappeared. I was very interested in it, and I was wondering who it was. I was very interested in it, and I was wondering who it was. I was very interested in it, and I was wondering who it was.

Save Money

Every penny saved today helps to win the war, and, therefore, should not be neglected by every Britisher throughout the Empire. In these days of high-priced necessities, a small balance at the end of a month after fractional expenses have been taken, is the equivalent. We can help to make it the rule. Our strength is buying, and the fact that we order for large lots, means enormous saving, and money saving.
