R. E. A. A. TRIALS

and what they mean.

Many people take little heed of the trials held from time to time under the auspices of the Royal Automobile Association, for the simple reason that they regard them as something got up more for the amusement and interest of professional motorists. But it is a fact that these trials are of very real service to the community at large in so far as they prove which make of cars is the most suitable for local conditions.

To take up a copy of any of the local newspapers or periodicals and you will find advertised therein at least a dozen different makes of motor cars—each claiming practically the same thing and that of their own particular make is the best. Now there cannot be more than one best, and it is that which you can get the great service of the R. E. A. A. trials. These trials are held under conditions that give every competitor the same chance to show what he can do.

They help to remove the mazy coils with which prospective car purchasers are entangled, and they show them what they can do. The average man in Kenya Colony does not know, and does not want to know, anything of motor technicalities. What he wants is a car that will give him the maximum amount of service for the minimum amount of expenditure and trouble. The trials clear the air and hit him with the facts.

The results of the recent trials held on December 4th furnish further proof that for the exacting conditions of Kenya Colony the Ford car is second to none.

The Ford scored a first place in both the Amateur and the Professional classes.

In competition with the most powerful and fastest cars in the country, the Ford covered the distance between Nairobi and Nakuru in the shortest time of 5 hours, 16 minutes, and 5 seconds.

In the "Member's Class" (Amateur) the Delamere Cup was awarded to Mr. Frank Bramwell who Ford gained highest marks for the day. Mr. Bramwell's time was 5 hours, 16 minutes, and 5 seconds, which is the time taken to cover the 113 miles of very rough road was 4 hrs, 16 mins, 35 secs.

The second place was awarded to Mr. Jack Tate, whose car was a Ford. Mr. Tate covered the 113 miles in 4 hrs, 49 mins, 16 secs, and his average petrol consumption was 21.81 miles to the gallon.

Mr. K. McIvor, who also drove a Ford, arrived third in this class, covering the distance in 5 hrs, 16 mins, 54 secs, on an average petrol consumption of 27.79 miles to the gallon.

In the Motor Trade Class (Professional) which may be termed a record for East Africa was established by the Ford driven by Mr. K. McIvor. This car averaged the distance in the extra-ordinarily low time of 3 hours, 56 minutes, and 5 seconds, which is a consumption less than at the rate of 30.68 miles to the gallon. Mr. McIvor has been awarded the P.H. Clarke Cup for this feat.

It is noteworthy that the winning Fords in both classes, and the Ford which was awarded third place in the Member's Class were all shod with DUNLOP TYRES & TUBES and the Engines were lubricated with Wakenfield's Control Formula Oil.

Mr. McIvor attributes his success very largely to the use of Wakenfield's Control Oil, and it goes without saying that much credit is also due to the DUNLOP TYRES & TUBES with which his car was fitted.

It is worth noting that the most popular and serviceable car for East African conditions is amply testified by the official returns, which show that at least 35 per cent of the motor vehicles of Kenya Colony are FORDS, and the above results should clinch the argument in favour of this cheap, serviceable and reliable car.

It has amply demonstrated that in competition with the more expensive and elaborate cars it more than holds its own. It cannot be overemphasized that in order to get the best out of it, the result of the Member's Class trial shows that it is not the car that counts, but the driver. The Ford was a mere stroke of luck in favour of the Ford.

The Ford has consistently and repeatedly performed splendid feats in every trial held in this country. In the trials held in June last the Ford established a remarkable record in petrol economy, averaging the extraordinarily high mileage of 35 miles per gallon. This was performed in the Motor Trade Class, which was awarded First Prize in the same trials for petrol economy in both the Amateur and Professional classes. It should, however, be borne in mind that the trials held in June were primarily a test for low petrol consumption, whilst the recent trials were reliability and speed trials.

The conditions in Kenya Colony are exacting and very quickly get to night the trials are held in the most exacting conditions of altitude and continuous success it seems beyond doubt that the Ford is the car best adapted to such conditions, both from a reliability, speed, and low economy point of view, as from a serviceability and utility standpoint.

The Ford is the cheapest car in the world, but that is not all. It has behind it something equally attractive—a splendid spare. It would not be going too far to say that in every part of the civilized world in some parts of the uncivilized world there is a Ford Service Station, where there is an almost unending supply of spare parts at a low cost and an efficient Ford mechanic. What Ford service is worth in this regard efficient repairs it is hard to estimate. (See page 10)

...in the country are paying away, outside is mentioned. In time the rupee, a sum of 300,000 rupees (native value) would be accumulated at the rate of 20/- per 100/- of an annual 90/- to the British equivalent of 475,000/-.
...Loss on exchange, of course gotten. Yes, but why should we be hurried with that loss. Call in the currency and it will be a disaster. He may say that the rupee should be fixed. But if it is fixed, it will be a disaster. He may say that the rupee should be fixed. But if it is fixed, it will be a disaster. He may say that the rupee should be fixed. The Editor is willing to pay to his monthly stable bill of 50/-, but he is not willing to accept that amount as a fair equivalent for the dropping of the Indian rupee, which will be found to be a loss to him.

...In a case like the present, it is not good currency business, when India is so high, and hence a minute in comparison, to fix a currency definitely in the smaller country, which would be to the larger one. But a large capital is not fixed, it follows up a dropping exchange, of what one may term a great success. It is not a definite loss, say the old one and a rupee, or else, in the event of an Indian rupee, it will follow the rupee, and get out of the country. The farmer ought to be able to buy his rupee for 7d. today. He has to pay for it. He looks up the rupee, and he looks up the rupee.

NOTE NOT TO BE SWINDLED.
One does not want to swindle his neighbor. Neither does one see the necessity of giving him, necessarily, the price of using his labour. Let us suppose a man has a labourer who can do his work for 10/- a day. He has to pay for it. He looks up the rupee, and he looks up the rupee.
