THE FORD POWER PLANT.

The first model T Ford engine was made in 1908. It was the perfected development of Henry Ford's motor inventions dating back sixteen years to 1892 when he built his first little one-cylinder motor.

During that sixteen years Ford Cars were made in many models from little two-cylinder 'chuggers' to big six-cylinder, high priced cars

But in 1908, the cry-tallized results of all those years of experience and study was the model T, the Ford power plant of to-day.

And since 1908, thirteen years of test under every condition of use in peace and war, in every nook and corner of the globe has shown not a single weakness nor a need of improvement, nor of additions to the power plant which drives.

HALF OF ALL THE CARS ON EARTH

The wonderful durability and power of the Ford engine, its simplicity of operation and its economy in fuel and repairs, are reasons why the Ford car should be a good car for you to own.

DAILY NEWS AND WEEKLY ISSUE

THURSDAY, JUNE 30, 1921.

The normal visitor to A Belated Tourist's dinner at Constantinople, the Theatre Royal might have wondered at first of all why a function of that nature had not been held ten years ago, and it would not have been easy for old residents here to produce an immediate and satisfactory reply. For co-operation has become a plastic finds and the extensive devotion if sometime carries with it revelations of our foolishness and blindness in not having discovered its virtues and attentiveness before. Such the discovery at this point of a long journey in the same goal, overlook though it may be, will lead, it is certain, to a permanent companion ship. Quarrels and disagreements if not correct nor obliterate the fact that we are engaged in a common purpose, and the fact that that unity of aim has once been so clearly realised will make for less vital and serious than would otherwise be the case, the occasional arguments and differences that must still arise. The circumstances which led to this the industries of men like His Excellency the Governor and Colonel Franklin, who are about to enter on the new spirit which informs the world to-day, have contributed pretty nearly to that end that has been achieved and Tuesday evening, though no formal reconstitution of previous truths were made, was dropped of the spirit of reverence to facts at the part of many old enemies. It is not, however, an arrival and a meeting. Tuesday evening marked a period in our history, the formulation and acceptance of a principle, in some form and value of which is still to be determined. There are very few achievements yet to place to the credit of peaceful vision and satisfaction in this new country. They are still to come. We are the possibilities of the new solidarity, but it has all the road to run to some, and it has some problems easy conversion still to make. We has would not be a moment thought the actuality of the principle of calculating against it the utmost phase of modified conviviality in which Tuesday's dinner was made, but we would be unwise to forget the tenacity with which old prejudices cling or to believe that all preliminary steps have been taken or that reluctant and involuntary assent to a principle is as valuable as a real personal enthusiasm in the spread. There still remain men and associations who by long-established habit take lonely views, and who do not count the increment of strength and support that association means. It will be desirable, we feel, to preach still more consistently the principle and solid value of co-operation, in order to furnish a new environment for those who can not free themselves from old and solitary unsocial ways. Meanwhile, the atmosphere that has already been acquired and established can go forward and produce for its sensible minds concrete results which could not be created by any number of Tuesday's meeting of the Municipal Council was a somewhat interesting as on this occasion the three new councillors (Mrs. G. F. W. Watkins) took her place as a Councillor.

Messrs. Ashworth, Bodnell, and Montgomerie also attended for the first time.

The reconstruction of committees was gone into and the following various took place: Messrs. Bodnell, Gadd, and Montgomerie were added to the Finance Committee, Messrs. Montgomerie, Ashworth, and Newland to the Light and Fire Committee, Messrs. Hollingsworth and Bodnell on the General Purposes Committee, and Messrs. Ashworth to the Native Location Committee. Mrs. Watkins' name was also elected to the Conservancy Committee.

The Town Planning and General Purposes Committee were reduced by four nine and seven to six and five respectively.

The Town Clerk put the following note before the Council on the subject of a conservancy manager :—"In pursuance of the resolution of the Council passed on the 5th instant, I have to report that I have had interviews with Mr. Franklin and Mr. Robertson upon the question of the sort of experience qualifying such a man."

It is suggested that the application be held up till the new Finance Committee has reported on the financing of the appointments and then referred to the Committee.

A letter was read from the Nairobi Amateur Dramatic Society asking for the use of the Theatre Royal for a performance on the 15th inst. in aid of the Nairobi Hospital. The Council resolved to grant the use of the Theatre Royal free of charge.

The question of the rate at which the motor watering van travelled when watering the road led Councillor Ashworth to ask if there was any control over the speed of motor drivers in the town. He was told there was not and said he would bring that matter before the Town Council at a later date. The question of the watering cart itself was referred back to the Town Engineer to deal with.

The following report of the Native Location Committee was before the Council :

The Committee met with Mr. Fergusson, Mr. Hollingsworth, Mr. Ashworth, Mr. Bodnell, Mr. Gadd, Mr. Montgomerie, and Mr. Newland in the chair.

The Committee dealt with the question of the use of blocks in the Native Location and decided that the blocks should be constructed in quarters and through communication with the Engineer it was agreed that a road should be allowed as shown in the area marked out.

It was resolved that the Town Clerk be instructed to write to the Colonial Secretary regarding Railway Land for information as to the lease on which they propose to run their location.

A proposal that a superintendent should now be appointed was considered, and it was resolved that the Council's Mrs. Watkins should be asked to act as supply from the Sanitary Department, and that the Native Affairs Department be asked to nominate a representative.

The Chairman said there was no reason he did not want to mention the fact that the Native Location Committee had not met since the Council did not mind waiting and would ask a reply from the Railway when they could do so. He was sure they would not mind waiting a little longer.

(1) The Association appealed to the Government against the proposed lay out which had received the approval of your Council stating that they desired that residential plots should not be less than half an acre in size and urging that their community were continually blamed for overcrowding and insanitation resulting therefrom.

ACADEMY

Picture of the

POWER AND DETAIL

London. May 1.

The Royal Academy opened its doors to the public to-day, and all the papers are endeavouring to find the two tendencies in the exhibits against which I myself protested above a year ago. Has the New Era in art captured the Academy, or has the Academy captured the New English? Has "the Latest Art" ceased to be longer a Bazaar or a Salon? In other words, are the newer pictures and newer pictures than ever, or are they which seem to be? Such questions rise in the Queen's Portrait of the Chief Room in the Hotel Chairs dispersing light with one of those bearded men, and in Sickert Pictures of Provence and Dieppe, the other in Mr. Lamb's War Picture which the entire valley of Room 10 is being "B.A.M.C." men on the Somme 1916. The is very remarkable, possibly interesting, but some the less striking if you can appreciate that qualities it is one of those things which appeal by strength rather than by beauty, and years it would not have had much of acceptance.

Here are some very remarkable in colour and Mr. Eric Kennington's Pictures and Lamb's Pictures are to one of those portraits of which one will like — one admirable and demands the energy you possess. The Mr. Rothenstein's great canvas, which upright against a room with faded pictures of blank and white yellow, ranging of everything to the orange on the tree, is unconsidered and though this cannot be called pretty, it is arresting.

COMMAND PICTURES

The Command Pictures are Mr. Salisbury's Procession to Calvary and the Scene at the Star Chamber. They show no attention to detail, but are very wooden, particularly the latter.

There is also Sir Arthur B. Cope's "The Old Officers of the War," all unrecognisable, but a fine piece of the type of picture which the Academy used to turn out. The whole is a sad exhibition.
