EAST AFRICAN PRODUCE FOR INDIA.

Valuable Conclusions Reported by Trade Commissioner. EFFECTS OF OUR PROTECTIVE DUTIES.

India, as commercial men in Kenya found it wise to East Africa (the largest part of Kenya and Uganda) of an increase in the importance of the trade to the Government to appoint Mr. G. C. Lefford, C.B.E., as Trade Commissioner, and has not issued in pamphlet form the Commissioner's report for the last year, containing much that is interesting to Kenya traders.

Britain, and the active medical help and advice afforded by Government and Missionaries before the population will increase rapidly, and the preparation of apparatus in the native demand for clothing, and other commodities but simple luxuries in many forms, are necessary.

Mr. Lefford from his point of view, which is worth noting. East Africa imported £190,000 worth of Indian goods in 1922. The total exports valued at £220,000. During 1922 the Kenya and Uganda Governments have imposed an import duty of 25 per cent on all goods imported into either with a view to protection of their home industry.

Government expenditures had increased to £20,000,000 for the year ending 1922. The Kenya Government appointed a powerful Economic and Finance Commission to inquire into the state of the country and to frame proposals which should be adopted for its development. This Commission has already had a number of reports on various subjects.

Market for Flax. There are reasons to be learned to the fact that flax farmers in the Commissioner's review of Kenya in 1922. The total exports of flax from Kenya in 1922 were valued at £170,000, £200,000 and £200,000 respectively and each valued at £200,000, £200,000 and £200,000 respectively in the year 1921, 1920 and 1919.

The Commissioner's report on the flax industry in Kenya is a most interesting one. It shows that the flax industry in Kenya is a most important one, and that it is one of the main sources of revenue to the Government.

Another Opportunity. There is much to be done with India in local, home and abroad to help on the further in Kenya, in the Commissioner's opinion. He writes: 'The value of home and home imported into India (a) 15 rupees to the £) was £28,000 in 1919, £50,000 in 1920, and £122,000 in 1921. The value of the exports from the same years was £120,000, £110,000 and £85,000 respectively.'

Hacker's Hotel. KIKUYU. 15 Miles from Nairobi, by two different roads. Tennis and Dancing Parties arranged for.

Mr. Lefford desired large quantities of cloths being shipped to Kenya from India, and also 'boards' of a proposed to manufacture in South Africa bags and sacks of wool fibre in substitution of cotton. He thought this a very worth bringing to the notice of Kenya, where as many cloths are done through the manufacture of a 'F. A. S. Co. Ltd.'

A. DAVIS, Company Financial and General Agent. SECRETARIES AND TRUSTEES: SEIFFS UNDERTAKERS. HOME INDUSTRIES PROMOTED AND FINANCED. MORTGAGES SECURED. COMPANIES PLACED. BUSINESS ENLIGHTENED. Consultation and Advice Free.

Kenya and Uganda, by the point of view of the Commissioner, is a most interesting one. It shows that the flax industry in Kenya is a most important one, and that it is one of the main sources of revenue to the Government.

LEADER BUILDINGS, Government Road NAIROBI. NOTICE. A General Meeting of the KENYA ANGLICAN ASSOCIATION will be held at the New Stanley Hotel at Nairobi on Saturday, the 30th June. To be attended by Government to the request of the Association will be held before the members. It is hoped that as many members as possible will attend this most important meeting.

Kenya's gain by the protection of her timber industry is illustrated by the Commissioner's report on the flax industry in Kenya. It shows that the flax industry in Kenya is a most important one, and that it is one of the main sources of revenue to the Government.

INDIAN

Mr. Henry MacDonal, leader of the Labour Party, has given his official opinion on the subject of the Indian Question both in India and in Kenya. The country's knowledge of MacDonal's views was first informed yesterday, when a demonstration in support of his position took place in the Queen's Hall in London. Since the speaker's head and front of the proposition, his ideas must be taken as indicative of the mind of that particular Section of Britain's "sentinel" thought. To begin with, MacDonal's knowledge of Indian history appears to be somewhat British. He states that the British in India are not a conqueror's race, but a people who have come to stay. Such a statement is not only opposed to historical records, but it leaves one puzzled with astonishment. Had he said "as traders," we should have had no complaint to make. But that we should, at the back of the head of the Labour Party, change the word and receive which conveys India as clearly as any proposition was ever conveyed, for the much more modern schoolmaster's in India to ask too much. MacDonal's schoolboy would be the first to challenge such a statement.

We have nothing to say against the education of the masses of India. It is of course, possible that India may be doing play the part of a Frankenstein. He will be able to give life to a being which will destroy itself. The end of his experiment is the end of his creation which is the end of his experiment. The stability of mind, and so control over its passions. Had Frankenstein been empowered to invent the monster with a soul, the story might have had a different ending. The leader of the opposition goes so far as to say that that Britain "has imposed India the self respect which she has not given government." But we are not convinced that self respect can be given or withheld in any man, of any nation. Self respect appoints to an inward spiritual glow, and springs from some source outside the grasp of mere laws or customs, however high a position he may hold. The qualities in a man's character which give self respect are those which gain for him the respect of those around him. To come from within and can not be handed on easily as one may hand over a constitution, or a treaty of self government. With regard to India for vice at option, but there are two points which spring to mind. The first is that a firm of five years as fixed by the British Government for the re-organisation of government in India was what was admittedly a "trial" period. The British Government is insistent on the current point that Indian politicians claim to speak for the whole of India. But it will hardly be denied that since three hundred millions of uneducated Indians must be unwise even if they were to vote at all, it is not surprising that the British Government is not so ready to hand over the reins to the Indian Government as it is to hand over the reins to the Indian Government as it is to hand over the reins to the Indian Government.

INDIAN

Mr. Henry MacDonal is not so well informed on his own side as he is on the other. Time is well spent by the government, but it is not so well spent by the government, but it is not so well spent by the government.

SPECIALLY TEMPERED 5/16" STEEL AXES FOR CUTTING HARD WOOD.

The following is an extract from a letter received from a client, the original of which can be inspected in my office:- "With reference to the Axes I have purchased from you I have to say they are the best I have handled and are the only ones that have stood up to Oil, I tried several makes of Axes before they came to you, and had almost given up hope of getting any more using these and had almost given up hope of getting any more. They have stood up to the test, I may say that those I still have are the best in my collection. I have since found them very useful in the following cases: For cutting any size small round underneath, for all the hollow trees for cutting any size round underneath, and for any work as good as any I purchased them, though in use daily."

COFFEE HOLE IMPLEMENTS

(as used exclusively by the Costa Rica).

The following is an extract of a letter received from a client, the original of which can be inspected in my office:- "I cannot speak too highly of the Costa Rica Holes. They leave the Panes a long way behind in hole digging. The same hole for a KIN is 50 holes per day of 12 inches square and 20 inches deep with these holes. I have since found them very useful in the following cases: For cutting any size small round underneath, for all the hollow trees for cutting any size round underneath, and for any work as good as any I purchased them, though in use daily."
