responsibility. He has been handicapped by the lack of finance, but even that restriction could not entirely vitiate his attempt to prove what is the best system of Mr. Hussey's report—"efficiency in a limited number of schools, rather than the expansion of the school system too rapidly for the maintenance of a definite standard. The criterion, too, does not strengthen the fundamental complaint of the financial bodies regarding their financial treatment by Government in the matter of school grants—namely, that we endorse the proposal made by Mr. Hussey that in order to give stability, there should be constant policy in regard to these grants. It, with the improving introduction of education, the same principles laid down by the Finance Commission and the more detailed application of these principles endorsed by Mr. Hussey, there is a recognized policy in regard to operation with missions and to place in education definitely assigned to them, we cannot see that any opposition to firm these principles can be entertained.

Mr. Hussey's report, both in its broadest and its most detailed, is a recognized policy in regard to operation with missions and to place in education definitely assigned to them, we cannot see that any opposition to firm these principles can be entertained.

AMERICA LOSING GRIP OF COTTON TRADE.
 In the April number of the Empire (later growing) Review, an interesting editorial article appears on America as "critically" being the most important position, also position to be better equipped, having the greatest assets and other factors. Owing to the increased competition in her home markets and the attitude of her industrial side, she may no longer be able to supply the world with raw cotton. The price of which has fallen. The moment is favorable for the development of cotton cultivation in other countries. Provided suitable soil and climate are obtained, and the information given here to obtain and cultivate are required, it would be difficult to find another market.

A correspondent of the London Standard writes that in these days the daughters of the aristocracy are not content with doing their own work and that the highest of the social scale has become a sort of domestic service. A trump card

It something to be pleased about only if circumstances permit the playing of it.

The high quality of Brooke Bond tea is our trump card, and the vacuum tin in which we pack it, enables us to "play" it every time.

There is no other of Brooke Bond tea deteriorating before you get it. The tin harbours no tea-destructive tropical air.

What a treat it is to get good tea as fresh as Brooke Bond in a tropical country like this!

THE ABNEY SHOW.

Mr. John H. Harris has announced the opening of the Abney Show on Monday, May 19, 1924. The show will be held at the Abney Hotel, Nairobi. It will feature a variety of goods and services, including clothing, furniture, and household items. The show is expected to be a great success and will provide an excellent opportunity for the public to purchase goods at reduced prices.

International athletic philosophy will enter the lists on behalf of Kenya and give Mr. John H. Harris the excellent feature on the qualities of honesty and truth he has ever evinced during his career as a member of the House of Commons. A few preliminary remarks by a Labour Secretary of State will be an important feature of the day. Mr. Harris takes to his position only the 'strivings of the past'—the things which he has done in the past, and which he has done with regard to the welfare of the people of Kenya.

Mr. Harris has announced that he will be in Nairobi on Monday, May 19, 1924. He will be accompanied by his wife and children. He will be staying at the Abney Hotel. He will be giving a series of lectures on the qualities of honesty and truth, and will also be giving a series of lectures on the qualities of leadership and public service. He will be giving these lectures in the evening at the Abney Hotel.
