"PINKING" AND PRE-IGNITION.

Explosion or Detonation. Seeking the Petrol Level.

CARBURETTOR ADJUSTMENT.

THE NEEDLE VALVE.

DEFINITION OF THE TERMS.

In the early days of motoring the question of what the petrol level in a carburettor should be, if not a subject of argument, was at least a subject of inquiry. It is now a fact that, in a carburettor, the petrol level is not so important as it was in the early days of motoring. The petrol level is now a subject of inquiry, not a subject of argument. The petrol level is now a subject of inquiry, not a subject of argument. The petrol level is now a subject of inquiry, not a subject of argument.

DEFINITION.

It has long been established that the petrol level in a carburettor is a subject of inquiry, not a subject of argument. The petrol level is now a subject of inquiry, not a subject of argument. The petrol level is now a subject of inquiry, not a subject of argument.

DETONATION.

Ordinary petrol vapor explosion occurs in the same way as a gas explosion. The petrol vapor is ignited by the spark plug, and the explosion is a subject of inquiry, not a subject of argument.

PREVENTION.

Coming back to the petrol level, it is a subject of inquiry, not a subject of argument. The petrol level is now a subject of inquiry, not a subject of argument. The petrol level is now a subject of inquiry, not a subject of argument.

[FROM HIS OWN CORRESPONDENCE.]

London, March 26. It was a happy occasion for the high jinks football team on Monday night, though disappointed with the result which resulted in the International being adjourned to the 27th. The first team to take the field was the English, who were expected to win easily for the first time since a "rough" match, one a game had been made from start to finish. The first score was made by the English, following upon a corner over the wall and a pass, the players from the "Land of the Shillelagh" were expected to win easily for the first time since a "rough" match, one a game had been made from start to finish.

THE ENGLISH FORWARD. By W. H. Wainwright. The English forward line is a fine specimen of the game, and it is to be hoped that the English forwards will be expected to win easily for the first time since a "rough" match, one a game had been made from start to finish.

Returning to an article on England's position in the World Press and Publishing, it is noted that the London Press and Publishing Association, which was formed in 1902, has recently issued a report on the state of the industry. The report states that the London Press and Publishing Association, which was formed in 1902, has recently issued a report on the state of the industry.

PROMOTER'S PART. We have not yet had any news of the proposed new London Press and Publishing Association, which was formed in 1902, has recently issued a report on the state of the industry.

AN ATTACK ON THE GAME. Both among a couple of our own people and among the South of the English, there is a growing feeling of dissatisfaction with the present state of the game.

SUGGESTED REMEDY. It is suggested that the London Press and Publishing Association, which was formed in 1902, has recently issued a report on the state of the industry.
