IGNITION CONTROVERSY.
Battery versus Magneto.
The Debate's Abeyance in One Year.
D.R.A. GAINS PREVALENCE.

With the first incoming post of battery ignition cars, the battery system has been the subject of a long and interesting debate. The battery system is now being used in a large number of motor vehicles, and it is expected that its use will continue to increase.

The first motor car made in America was the "Oldsmobile" in 1891. It was a battery-powered car, and it was the only one of its kind. The battery system was used because it was the only system available at that time.

The magneto system was introduced in 1896. It was a simpler and cheaper system than the battery system, and it was soon adopted by many car makers. The magneto system was used because it was easier to maintain and it did not require the use of a battery.

The battery system has many advantages over the magneto system. It is more powerful and it can start the car in any weather. It is also more reliable and it does not require the use of a battery.

The magneto system has many disadvantages over the battery system. It is less powerful and it cannot start the car in any weather. It is also less reliable and it requires the use of a battery.

The debate between the battery and magneto systems has been going on for many years. It is still going on today, and it is expected that it will continue for many years to come.

NO ORDINARY typewriter can stand the hardship of the explorer's life. That is why nearly every explorer carries a Corona in preference to any other machine.

Corona went to Africa with Col. Repenstien in 1909 and to Brazil in 1916 with the explorer of the "Mystery River," Corona was with Sir Ernest Shackleton on his last fatal dash for the pole and spent 270 days under ice and snow with the MacMillan Arctic Expedition.

If you want a typewriter that will stand hard treatment, buy the one typewriter with proved durability—Corona.

FOR THE LIFE OF A CAR

LONGER SERVICE.
The author of the article next to right. His arguments are sound and his reasons, although one may differ in some respects, are valid. Care gives longer service and lasts than they did in the past. Everything that enters into better and lasts longer. Consequently, progressive motorists are turning to the use of motor oils of the highest quality. The average life of a motor oil is now 10,000 to 15,000 miles, whereas it was only 5,000 to 7,000 miles a few years ago. This is due to the fact that the oil is now more refined and contains more additives which help to keep it clean and prevent it from becoming too thick or too thin. This is a great improvement and one which every motorist should take advantage of. The oil is now more refined and contains more additives which help to keep it clean and prevent it from becoming too thick or too thin.
