There is every indication, says the South African Railway Traffic, that the forthcoming campaign will be on a considerably increased scale compared with last year, and it is consequently expected that the elevator system will be found to be almost unworkable with the large volume of traffic offered.

On and from January 1st the Administration decided that the value storage charges should remain the same but that the rate of storage charges should be reduced to 10 per cent of the value of the goods stored. This reduction is a concession to the farmer and the trader, and it is hoped that it will result in a more active and profitable trade.

It is to be expected that the Government will be able to meet the demand for the new currency notes, and it is hoped that the new notes will be issued in a timely manner. The Government is also expected to take steps to improve the financial position of the country, and it is hoped that these steps will be successful.

THE GARDEN

When viewed from the KENYA HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY'S STAND at the Exhibition, the garden is seen to the best advantage.

THE FINE SHOW. I think one can say that the K.H.S. have made a most of their exhibition, repeating only what the K.H.S. Committee has said that only leads to allow that a perfect lawn without a band would represent more points. The collection of specimens, which will be the most valuable, has the point of view, being, selected specimens without any of the usual things that are to be seen.

It is up to us to try and do everything possible to help the K.H.S. in their work of helping and to their own benefit.
