IN THE CONGO THE ELEPHANT IS TRAINED TO WORK

TODAY'S picture page has a purpose—to depict the manner in which African elephants are so well to be trained.

Native photographer M'Nyeu-nu of the Congo, Mr. Maxon Bannister, has captured the scene that they can be trained in these photographs at Antwerp in the Belgian Congo.

Elephants have been trained in India for centuries for labor, hunting and ceremonial purposes. And it was from India that the Belgian Government imported the trained elephants used by the Congo to lay the Trans-Africa railway line in the Congo. One school has been in operation for many years. The school at Antwerp where the pictures were taken by Mr. Bannister has been in continuous work 25 months.

It is directed by a Portuguese, Mr. De Medeiros, a professional hunter and trainer, particularly of elephants, gorillas and cheetahs, and several a care animal which is peculiar to the Congo and over there found only in this district.

Mr. De Medeiros explains the education in their wild state and after their training course at the school in the Congo school at Antwerp and takes with the nature of the animal, they are used for various types of labor.

In the Belgian pictures, you see elephants in the course of training these already "trained" being used to haul a heavy load.

AND what of such a school as Kenya? Mr. Marryat H. Clarke, Director of the Royal Botanical Parks of Kenya, thinks the idea has never been considered. Now it is 10 days to be with the weekend day availability of machinery.

Helping the plain Janes

By Mary Kenney

It is inevitable that a plain complexion has a tendency to grow dry and flake, and to become more and more so as the winter months approach. The skin, in fact, is in a state of constant warfare with the elements, and the result is a dry, cracked, and chapped surface. This is especially true of the face, where the skin is so thin and so exposed to the sun, wind, and cold. The result is a complexion that is not only unattractive, but also a source of constant annoyance. It is, therefore, of the utmost importance that the plain Jane should take steps to prevent this from happening. The best way to do this is by using a good skin cream or lotion, which will keep the skin soft and supple, and prevent it from becoming dry and flake. Such a cream should be applied twice a day, in the morning and evening, and should be rubbed gently into the skin. This will not only keep the skin soft and supple, but will also help to prevent the formation of wrinkles and other signs of aging. The result will be a complexion that is not only beautiful, but also a source of pride and confidence.

KENYA PLANS FOR A NATIONAL DRAMA FESTIVAL

By L. PETER ALLNUTT of the British Council

It is a long time since the British Council has been so busy in Kenya as it is at present. The Council is now engaged in a number of projects which are designed to help the Government to improve the standard of living of the people of Kenya.

One of the most important of these projects is the National Drama Festival. This festival is to be held in Nairobi in the month of August next year. It will be a festival of drama, music, and dance, and will be open to all the people of Kenya.

The festival is being organized by the British Council in co-operation with the Government of Kenya. It is a festival of drama, music, and dance, and will be open to all the people of Kenya.

THESE ARE THE DETAILS

The festival will be held in Nairobi in the month of August next year. It will be a festival of drama, music, and dance, and will be open to all the people of Kenya.

KENYA IN PERSPECTIVE

WHAT is happening in Kenya? Where is it going? How has the country changed since the British left? These are the questions that are being asked by the people of the world. The answers are not simple, but they are interesting. Kenya is a country of great potential, and it is being developed in a way that is unique to its own people. The British have left behind a legacy of infrastructure and institutions, but it is the Kenyan people who are now taking charge of their own destiny. They are building a new Kenya, one that is more just and more equitable than the one that was left behind.

All the time... The British have left behind a legacy of infrastructure and institutions, but it is the Kenyan people who are now taking charge of their own destiny. They are building a new Kenya, one that is more just and more equitable than the one that was left behind. The British have left behind a legacy of infrastructure and institutions, but it is the Kenyan people who are now taking charge of their own destiny. £750,000 MORE FOR THE EMERGENCY

but Finance Minister believes no extra taxation will be needed

The Finance Minister, Mr. J. M. Njiru, has announced that the Government will provide an additional £750,000 for the emergency fund. He stated that this amount would be met from the sale of government securities and that no extra taxation would be required.

Cost is running at a rate of £135,000 a month

The cost of the emergency fund is running at a rate of £135,000 a month. This is due to the high cost of food and other essential goods, which has increased significantly since the start of the emergency.

The Government is taking steps to reduce the cost of the emergency fund. This includes the introduction of rationing and the control of prices for essential goods.

The Government is also taking steps to increase the production of essential goods. This includes the provision of subsidies to farmers and the introduction of new agricultural technologies.

The Government is also taking steps to improve the distribution of essential goods. This includes the establishment of new distribution centres and the improvement of the transport system.

The Government is also taking steps to improve the quality of essential goods. This includes the introduction of new standards for essential goods and the establishment of new inspection agencies.

The Government is also taking steps to improve the efficiency of essential goods. This includes the introduction of new methods of production and the establishment of new production centres.

The Government is also taking steps to improve the availability of essential goods. This includes the establishment of new distribution centres and the improvement of the transport system.

The Government is also taking steps to improve the quality of essential goods. This includes the introduction of new standards for essential goods and the establishment of new inspection agencies.

The Government is also taking steps to improve the efficiency of essential goods. This includes the introduction of new methods of production and the establishment of new production centres.

Mr. J. M. Njiru (right) presiding over the Committee of Ministers...

The Committee of Ministers has met to discuss the emergency fund. The committee is made up of representatives from various government departments and is chaired by the Finance Minister.

The committee has agreed to provide an additional £750,000 for the emergency fund. This amount will be used to purchase essential goods and to provide subsidies to farmers.

The committee has also agreed to take steps to reduce the cost of the emergency fund. This includes the introduction of rationing and the control of prices for essential goods.

The committee has also agreed to take steps to increase the production of essential goods. This includes the provision of subsidies to farmers and the introduction of new agricultural technologies.

Demand for Defence Council made in Emergency debate

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS today passed a resolution demanding the formation of a defence council to coordinate the country's military and naval resources in the event of an emergency.

The resolution, introduced by Mr. Chamberlain, was passed by a vote of 100 to 40. It states that the government should take steps to ensure that the country is prepared to meet any sudden emergency, and that a council should be formed to coordinate the efforts of the various departments concerned.

The resolution also calls for the formation of a committee to investigate the present state of the country's defence, and to report to the government within a specified period.

The debate on the resolution was a long and heated one, with many members of the house expressing their views on the subject. The government's position was supported by a large number of members, but there were also many who expressed doubts about the wisdom of the proposal.

Police records

The police records for the month of July show a total of 1,234 offences recorded. This is a decrease of 15 per cent on the corresponding month of last year.

The most common offences recorded were those of drunkenness, which accounted for 312 cases. Other common offences included larceny, assault, and breach of the peace.

The police also recorded a number of serious offences, including murder, rape, and kidnapping. There were three cases of murder recorded in July, compared with two in the corresponding month of last year.

Last battle

The last battle of the year was fought in the north of England, where the forces of the king defeated the rebels. The battle was a decisive one, and it marked the end of the rebellion.

The king's army was led by a brave and able commander, and they fought with great courage and skill. The rebels were defeated in a decisive battle, and their leader was killed.

The king's army then marched on to the capital, where they were welcomed as heroes. The king rewarded the brave soldiers who had fought so valiantly for him.

THROW MY HAT by Kenneth Meadows

When I see a man in a hat, I think of the old days when a man's hat was a part of his identity. It was a symbol of his status, his profession, and his personality. In those days, a man's hat was a statement of who he was and what he did for a living. It was a part of his life, and it was a part of the world he lived in.

Asia and Africa

Generally speaking, the people of Asia and Africa are very hardworking and industrious. They are known for their ability to work long hours and produce a great deal of goods and services. They are also known for their resilience and ability to overcome adversity. They are a people who have a strong sense of community and family.

Vital steps

It is a common belief that the most important steps in life are the ones that are taken in the early years. These steps are the ones that shape a person's character and determine their future. They are the steps that lead to success and happiness, and they are the steps that lead to failure and misery. It is important to take these steps carefully and thoughtfully.

Four-minute mile must come soon WILL BRITAIN ACHEIVE IT?

By Dennis Mori

PERCENT performance by the Australian runner, John "Lionel" Lewis, against the "New record" of 4 minutes, 10 seconds, the "four-minute mile" must come soon. For over 20 years, this has been the goal of every runner who has attempted to break the 4 min. 10 sec. barrier. The possibility of its being accomplished has been the subject of inter-continental discussion for many years. It has been suggested that the only way to achieve this goal is by using a "running machine" which would support the runner's weight and reduce the friction of the feet on the ground. This machine would be a sort of "running bicycle" which would be operated by a motor. It is believed that this machine would be able to support a runner's weight and reduce the friction of the feet on the ground to such an extent that a runner could run a mile in 4 minutes. This machine would be a sort of "running bicycle" which would be operated by a motor. It is believed that this machine would be able to support a runner's weight and reduce the friction of the feet on the ground to such an extent that a runner could run a mile in 4 minutes.

Loveitch's effect
The effect of the "running machine" on the runner's performance is a matter of some interest. It is believed that the machine would be able to support a runner's weight and reduce the friction of the feet on the ground to such an extent that a runner could run a mile in 4 minutes. A bad year for boxing title holders

PETER WELCH, of the Daily Express, points to a surprising fact that 1931 was a bad year for boxing title holders. Many of the world's leading champions, many of whom had their world titles, lost them during the year. This was a bad year for boxing title holders. POLICE BEAT ME, SAYS TAXI-DRIVER

Denial by officers

A taxi driver has made a complaint to the police that he was beaten by a police officer while driving a taxi. The driver, who is a member of the taxi drivers' union, says that the officer was drunk and that he was hit on the head with a baton. The police officers deny the charge and say that the driver was drunk and that he was driving recklessly.

WHEN AN AUTHORISED OFFICER MAY SHOOT

Both prohibited and approved officers in carrying out their duties are authorized to use force, including the use of firearms, in certain circumstances. This is provided for in the Firearms Act, which states that an officer may use force if he has reasonable grounds for believing that it is necessary to prevent the commission of an offence or to protect himself or other persons from injury or damage.

Arrest

The police officers are authorized to arrest a person if they have reasonable grounds for believing that he has committed an offence. This is provided for in the Criminal Procedure Code, which states that an officer may arrest a person if he has reasonable grounds for believing that the person has committed an offence.

Detention

The police officers are authorized to detain a person if they have reasonable grounds for believing that he is a member of a prohibited organization. This is provided for in the Prohibited Organizations Act, which states that an officer may detain a person if he has reasonable grounds for believing that the person is a member of a prohibited organization.

Remember the old Seven?

Just by modern standards of design and construction it looks somewhat out of date. Nevertheless there are still thousands of the Old Seven Austin Sevens on the road and giving good service to their owners, fully deserving our world-wide reputation.

Austin Seven of superlative quality. Austin's new Seven improved beyond recognition, has opened the eyes of the world. The 16 hp high-torque O.H.V. engine gives a top speed of over 50 m.p.h. and petrol consumption is only 30 m.p.g. It has independent front suspension, four wheel steering, direct simple gears for fast, with ease! No wonder everyone is talking it up.

The greatest event in motor car history. These cars are also available for Home Delivery. Order Now so as to be the first to deliver for the Continent.

WITH 'I' FORCE IN THE FORESTS OF THE ABERDARES By W. David

A BRIGHTLY wooded forest, nestled by the Colony's own rising hills, the Kenya Regiment is today the "I" Force, waiting for the day when it will be the backbone of the fighting with the Mau Mau gangs, determined to make some hundreds of miles of the Mau Mau forest their home.

From a quiet, peaceful village, the Kenyan Police Force, who were by whom they came to help.

Each day the Kenyan Regiment, a composite force of the Kenya Police Force, who were by whom they came to help.

Three Big Aims In British Somaliland

'Take it slow'

British officials in the Horn of Africa are taking a cautious approach to the new British Somaliland. The British Government has set three main aims for the new territory: to ensure the well-being of the people, to develop the economy, and to maintain peace and stability.

INDIA'S WILD LIFE DWINDLES

By O. M. Green

THE Indian Government has for some time been much worried by the dwindling of the population of India's wild life. Some animals and birds are being protected, others are being the way to extinction, and the government officials have been more and more realistic since India became independent.
