Egypt decides to go ahead with Canal improvements

17 nations support Western plan

EGYPT'S Embassy in Washington said today that the new Suez Canal law is to be completed in 1957 immediately following the completion of the canal's improvements.

EARLY END EXPECTED BY LONDON CONFERENCE

DELEGATES to the Suez conference held private talks yesterday to find means of approaching Egypt to open negotiations for international management of the Canal.

DANGERS OF REFUSING TO NEGOTIATE

The former Afro-Asian countries being co-sponsors of the U.S. (Mr. Dulles) and France (Mr. Pompidou) also met the winding-up of the conference. Most Western officials were confident yesterday that talks started by today at the latest.

THE Suez Canal has been kept at their feet by the British Empire.

Western plan—of which Pakistan, Turkey, India and the U.S. are the sponsors—was to have the support of 17 of the 22 Governments attending the conference.

DISPATCH OF NEGOTIATING COMMITTEE PROPOSED

THE setting-up of a committee, consisting of about three nations, to go to Cairo to present the Suez conference's proposals, would be favored by many of the delegations in London.

60 MINUTE SERVICE

At least one of the delegations in London, the Moroccan Government, said that there was no way to a single, clear-cut proposal to the delegates.

60 CUT IN COSTS

THE Suez Canal was expected to be taken at the end of the year. The Australian Federal Government has announced that it will contribute to the cost of the canal.

60 CUT IN COSTS

Several private talks between the delegations in London, the Moroccan Government, said that there was no way to a single, clear-cut proposal to the delegates.

AUSTRALIA v. TERRIBLE TWINS' BATTLE

Struggle for runs at Oval as hard as Old Trafford

WHEN England regained their first innings at 223 wickets yesterday morning, they were in a good position on the second day of the first Test against Australia. The Oval, the only Test ground in the world where they play all out for 247, Australia started disastrously, losing their first wicket with three on the board, and soon the old battle Australia v. Laker and Lock was on, the tourists having seven wickets for 113 by the first interval.

Most matches out May, throwing caution aside, lashed out at nearly every batsman he hit. The latter played the fifth ball of the over and the bowler, trying to keep Australia's captain from the strike, bowled the last ball of the over with his right arm.

From back a ball of Archer and May by the middle session a lashed over drive over Harvey's head. A single through from facing Archer and a driving delivery hit Wicket on the ground. Davidson to take a catch at mid-wicket. Nine wickets were down for 24.

The first of them when Laker lashed out at Archer and Johnson, who had defended his wicket well, but he was out. England were all out 247, of which May had got all six runs. He was only just over short of 1,000 in Test cricket.

Two more when Laker lashed out at Archer and Johnson, who had defended his wicket well, but he was out. England were all out 247, of which May had got all six runs. He was only just over short of 1,000 in Test cricket.

School quiz shocks Australian parents

QUESTIONS ON FAMILY LIFE

TRUBLE-developed during Australia's Education over a 60-point quiz put to students at a school by the Australian Council for Educational Research. Parents, students and at least one member of the Parliament were reported to be "shocked and appalled" when they regarded as an "outrageous" quiz to be given to school children. The politician, who had previously been reported to be a leading supporter of a "holistic curriculum" which would include questions of being sent straight to the front line of a good education. The Australian Council for Educational Research is an independent, non-profit-making organization, established in 1922. It is a national organization in development, which has been established in a number of countries.

The writing was done by the United Nations Commission on Human Rights. The Commission is a subsidiary body of the General Assembly of the United Nations. It is composed of 11 members, five of whom are elected by the General Assembly and six by the Economic and Social Council. The Commission's mandate is to promote and protect human rights throughout the world. It has a number of working groups and committees, including the Human Rights Committee, the Sub-Commission on Human Rights, and the Working Group on the Right to Life, Liberty and Security of Person.

Today's Campaign... The campaign is aimed at raising awareness of human rights issues and promoting the work of the United Nations. It includes a series of events, including conferences, seminars, and public demonstrations. The campaign is supported by a number of organizations, including the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights, the Amnesty International, and the Human Rights Watch.

MACGREGOR-OATES MOTORS LTD. MOVE

NEW PREMISES
Climax to development programme

A landmark of progress

THIS week Macgregor-Oates Motors Ltd., one of Nairobi's leading motor firms, moved into one of its new premises on Princess Elizabeth Way after 37 years of trading and service in Kenya. The opening of the new building marks the end of a big development programme in Nairobi, Mombasa and Nakuru, where the firm has subsidiary companies.

It was towards the end of 1963—during the most troubled months of the Emergency—that the directors decided to expand the business and to acquire more suitable premises than would, if possible, house the very organisation of the Macgregor-Oates Motors, which had at one time existed in six different places.

One was not an easy task. City centre plots were available only for short-term purposes and the industrial areas could only be used for small trade. However, it was found that a certain section of land at the end of Nairobi's East Hill had been reserved for use in which large trading and manufacturing premises could be built.

The land, comprising one and a half acres, was acquired in May, 1954, and the excavations were undertaken by the American Construction Company who had at the same time started their work on the main line of East-West Expressway.

By the time the first stages of the building programme were completed the first stage of the new Macgregor-Oates building was well advanced. The new Macgregor-Oates building has become more and more apparent not in the least because the spacious parking facilities are available to the customer's convenience.

Realising that efficient service is of primary importance in a business, the construction of the workshops began, and the first step in the Nairobi building programme. For several years before the final plans were decided on the City Corporation and engineers was put into the present planning and construction of modern workshops.

The designer, Mr. J. R. Lottman, noted the Nairobi building was designed by the firm of Messrs. J. Lyons (East Africa) Ltd., Nairobi, who had also designed the company's premises both in Nakuru and Mombasa.

The contract for the building was awarded to the Nairobi Construction Company and work began in August, 1958. At the framework of the building, a general contract was awarded to Messrs. J. Lyons (East Africa) Ltd., Nairobi, who had also designed the company's premises both in Nakuru and Mombasa.

Local industry programme it was policy to support local industry wherever possible. The contract for the building was awarded to Messrs. J. Lyons (East Africa) Ltd., Nairobi, who had also designed the company's premises both in Nakuru and Mombasa.

Kenya motor firm's impressive record of progress over 37 years

The history of Macgregor-Oates Motors Ltd., dates back to 1918. It was in that year that the South African Firm of Fisher and Simmonds, Ltd. was interested by Mr. Murray (Percy) Coombes in starting a branch of his business in Nairobi. The business was opened that year by Mr. Coombes in premises which he shared with G. North and Sons, and Mr. Coombes had just bought the premises which had just been opened by Mr. W. C. (Bill) Mitchell.

These premises were situated in Government Road, Nairobi, and were used by Mr. Coombes as his new head office. Mr. Fisher and Simmonds Ltd. moved to Victoria St. near Fisher and Simmonds on the premises on the opposite side of the road.

RESPONSE TO THE SAFARI CHALLENGE

With the introduction of the Coronation Safari to East Africa the Colony created a far larger interest in the motor trade than before and perhaps has done more to bring to the notice of the British manufacturer the challenge which has been made by foreign competitors. Putting British ahead

Nevertheless it is apparent in this report that a good deal could be done to get British cars ahead of their American and European rivals. Certain innovations were suggested in the report, and it is hoped that the Macgregor-Oates group will be able to put these into effect.

Now! 3 Flights a week

Off to the U.K. and back off flying Safari

Since 1947, because the Safari Service offers top-flight operational standards in air service, it is a service steadily in demand to the needs of families, holiday makers and business men bound for the U.K. on a comfortable budget — a service that is the most attractive because it offers the luxury of two restraining night stops en route. Yes, flying Safari is a great experience — and a great deal kinder to your pocket, too!

The purpose of duplicating is to save cost

Are you saving all you might?

RONEO '500' has been designed and produced not only to provide the highest possible standard of work, but to cut down waste. Many people overlook the cost of running a duplicator, but it is the running cost which absorbs most money. The fully automatic ink control on RONEO '500' will save you money from the outset; the machine is built-in — so much so that the initial cost is 5000 more than conventional. You obtain at least twice the number of copies per 1 lb. of ink. Double first copies and no proofing. Double speed work is done without interfering on all normal duplicating paper. And the operator saves time the machine knows it is a double lead bar band, are clean from start to finish.

Pont Lewis now clear favourite

Unenterprising batting in last day's play at Oval

BARON Goy de Balthazard's French suit that Lewis, junior favourite at the provincial level, was now clear favourite for the St. Lezer when the card was called over at the Victoria Club on Monday.

England, 24 up in the series, stood 121 runs ahead with nine wickets in hand, second innings in the first Test against Australia at the Oval yesterday. His play was possible in the first two hours, when they did not put on 100 runs. He came out on 100 runs for the last of his four first-class wickets, when they declared in two hours.

Play started promptly after tea was served. For the first time since the start of the season, Lewis and Llewellyn made the last three hours of the day run close in the first 20 minutes. The damp settled not down the pace of the ball but the bowlers for four minutes brought Sheppard, his 50 in an hour and a half minutes.

The score reached 100 in 21 under 30 hours, and without addition Richardson was out. He finished a ball from Lindwood, a catch to wicketkeeper. Wicketkeeper's victim
In eight innings for England, Lindwood, who played in the first Test against Australia, was the wicketkeeper every time. But with the loss of his wicket, for an average of 45.66, he has established himself as a batsman.

May and Compton put on 74 runs in the first 10 minutes of the unbroken fourth wicket stand. During the last interval, England lost spinner Jim Laker was replaced with a cover appeal. Lindwood was the scorer of the fourth Test which he took in 15 wickets.

BIG DRIVE TO REDUCE ROAD TOLL

New organisation planned

KENYA'S traffic police, businessmen, motoring organisations and education authorities are to launch a joint drive in the near future to reduce the number of road accidents in the Colony. The drive is being organised as Road Users' Organisation in Nairobi on Tuesday when it will hold its first meeting. It is stated that the number of accidents had doubled in the past three years and is expected to begin with a public meeting in Nairobi and will include all the large population centres. Asst. Commissioner, R. W. Hoyle, in charge of the Traffic Department, said the Nairobi meeting it was felt that the time had come when the public should be asked to take more active part in solving road safety problems. The meeting appointed a joint chairman, Mr. Hoyle as its name of the organisation is the "Road Users' Safety Organisation" to draw up a charter of aims and objects, and to register the first step in the drive. Members of the committee include representatives of the Road Authority, the R.E.A.A., the Insurance Association, transport companies, the Education Department, Chamber of Commerce and other bodies.

Safer use

The aims and objects of the new organisation will be to coordinate and intensify various aspects of road safety for greater responsibility and publicity and to promote safety use of the roads by the reduction of all classes of road users. In an interview with the East African Standard, Mr. Hoyle stated that from 3,700 in 1952 to 7,300 in 1957, 2000 were injured, 1,200 were killed and 1,200 were maimed. Mr. Hoyle said the most common cause of accidents in Kenya was the misjudging of speed limits— "just not making allowances"—that not allowing a margin of safety and trying to overtake when there is not sufficient room. Cutting in and out of the traffic, in the wrong lanes, a poor second, and travelling too fast for the road and conditions without due care were also cited as among the causes.

More prosecutions

Mr. Hoyle said the most common cause of accidents in Kenya was the misjudging of speed limits— "just not making allowances"—that not allowing a margin of safety and trying to overtake when there is not sufficient room. Cutting in and out of the traffic, in the wrong lanes, a poor second, and travelling too fast for the road and conditions without due care were also cited as among the causes. Police prosecutions for traffic offences had shown a marked increase since the outbreak of the Emergency. In 1952, 20,000 traffic offences were committed. There were 21,000 convictions in 1953 and 22,000 in 1954. In the first three years of the Emergency, 21,000 people who drove under the Influence of drink, 1,200 dangerous or careless drivers and 20 speeders.

There were also 5,000 convictions in connection with the use of unconvictional vehicles. Two thousand convictions for parking offences were recorded.

Hard work needed

Stating that the traffic police would continue to intensify their activities, and would bring an increasing number of road users into operation, Mr. Hoyle said that he would do his best to make the roads safer. He said that he would do his best to make the roads safer. He said that he would do his best to make the roads safer.

'MY THROAT WAS SO SORE I COULDN'T SWALLOW BUT PEP'S SOOTHED AND HEALED IT'

PEPS Throat and Chest Tablets contain soothing, healing mixture. As you suck, your throat relaxes, and air is drawn by your breathing through loosening passages and lungs. This reach your trouble direct. That is why Peps is so effective and world-famous. Even deep coughs, swollen sore throat, break up phlegm and congestion, and are excellent for treatment of influenza and bronchitis.
