TWO CLUBS WITH FULL POINTS

More surprises in British football

The second Saturday of the English football season provided more shocks for the forecasters, a heavy crop of injuries, the first send-off of a player and another aggregate gain of two goals.

All but two of the 22 Football League clubs have been played three matches and for such a valiant display for such a small number of clubs (North) the distinction of being the only side to have gained the full six points, Sunderland, who, with Aston Villa, have played only twice, is the only other team with a 100 per cent record.

As on the opening day, the 1929-30 season is being played in parts of the country and the weather is being a serious handicap on the progress of the season. The rain has caused a significant drop in the number of spectators and the game is being played in a very unattractive manner.

Modern road-building machines on pneumatic tyres carry 30-ton pay loads at speeds up to 25 miles an hour, build roads faster.

Better Roads mean Better Living - Better Business for everyone

GOOD YEAR

It has been thus since the earliest days of civilization. Roads and Progress are inseparable. It is particularly true today, with motor and rail transportation playing an increasingly important role in our economy. Today, better surface transportation systems mean progress, more prosperity for East Africa and all its people.

We need roads — bigger, better, wider roads — to tie the country together, to integrate industry, agriculture and commerce. We need roads to speed the flow of agricultural products and materials from farms, mines and farms to railings centers. We need roads to open up undeveloped areas which railways do not serve. We need roads for better business, better wages, a better standard of living for everyone.

The construction industry is ready with plant and machinery. These amazing machines are producing roads faster than ever before. For the earth-mover equipment you see here, we have done as much work per day as thousands of men and men could do when most present roads and railways were built.

The construction industry has done more work per day than ever before. For better roads and more railways, our work for better living and better business for all.

COMMUNIST ABOUT-TURN ON TRADE WITH WESTERN COUNTRIES

Stock exchange prices

By SUSAN STRANGE

The Communist States appear to have changed their minds rather suddenly about the importance of trade with the West. In April this year the Moscow Government was launched with a propaganda campaign against the West, and only the other day the Soviet State and Communist Party of the Soviet Union were holding up an ultimatum to the West from the free world. The ultimatum demanded that the West should stop trading with the Communist States and Communist Party of the Soviet Union. The ultimatum was couched in such a way as to make it clear that the West was to be held responsible for the Communist State's economic difficulties. The ultimatum was couched in such a way as to make it clear that the West was to be held responsible for the Communist State's economic difficulties. A LEAGUE POINT

Three penalties in game with Army

Calcuttians: 2; The Army: 1.
 WHAT will probably rank as the outstanding match of the current Duff League season resulted in an Army victory from Calcuttians at Matunga on Sunday afternoon.

The Army side to beat the Calcuttians was a strong one — two or three who broke the side to beat the Calcuttians — being a 100 per cent winning record with the exception of one game when they shared six goals with the Calcuttians. The Army side was the first point Calcuttians to be beaten in the Duff League season. The Army side was the first point Calcuttians to be beaten in the Duff League season.

Shaky defence

The Shaky defence appeared to be the main reason for the Army's victory. The defence was shaky throughout the match, and the Army side was able to exploit this weakness.

Goal disallowed

After a long struggle, the Army side scored a goal. However, the goal was disallowed due to a technicality. The referee ruled that the goal was scored by a player who was offside.

Silence is golden

To keep your engine purring as contentedly as a kitten on a hearthrug is largely a matter of careful attention to detail. Correct lubrication—which was dealt with in the first of this series—is important. Also the regular checks, which can be made fairly easily in your own garage, will help to maintain your engine at its peak performance.

- ### ENGINE
- The following checks can be made quite easily and will help to maintain the engine's efficiency.
1. Check the tightness of all engine bolts, but do not over-tighten. Every 2,000 miles.
 2. Check and note any oil leaks. Fix any new leaks if required. Every 2,000 miles.
 3. Listen for any knocks or rattle which you do not think should be present, and report them immediately to your Austin Dealer for investigation. Every 2,000 miles.
 4. Check tappet clearances every 2,000 miles or three months.
 5. Check carburettor needles and clean carburettor bowl every 2,000 miles.
 6. Check petrol flow and flexible pipe every 2,000 miles.
 7. Check the spark plug gap and clean spark plug every 2,000 miles.
 8. Check distributor cap and its own every 2,000 miles.
 9. Clean the filter bowl of petrol pump every 2,000 miles.

Showing method of adjusting tappet clearance. A: Screwdriver; B: Tappet pin. The diagram shows the method of adjusting tappet clearance using a screwdriver and a tappet pin.

Remove the air cleaner and valve rocker cover. Turn the engine over with the starting handle until No. 6 valve (extant valve of No. 6 cylinder) is fully open (the valve spring will be compressed to its maximum). Then check the clearance of No. 1 valve (the extant valve of No. 1 cylinder). The tappets of all engines should have a clearance of .015".

Turn the engine until No. 1 valve is fully open and check No. 2 valve clearance. Turn the engine until No. 6 valve is fully open and check No. 3 valve clearance, and so on, until all valves have been checked.

Note that on the A70 and A80 the adjusting screws should be turned downwards when checking the clearance. These pointers are spring loaded and an incorrect clearance will be obtained if this is not done.

- ### PLUG CLEARANCES
- The recommended plugs for Austin vehicles are:
- A65 Six-C Champion or Lodge
 - A70 Nine or Six-C Champion or Lodge
 - A80 Nine-C Champion or Lodge

The gaps should be maintained between .020"-.022". If you are using an Austin Dealer, he will be able to clean the plugs with a special machine which will remove any carbon from the surface of the electrodes and inside the plug. Proper gap and good condition will ensure better petrol consumption and good engine performance.

DISTRIBUTOR POINTS GAP

Remove the moulded distributor cap and rotor and turn the engine with the starting handle until the Distributor points are fully open (turn the follower is at the top of the cone). Insert a .015" feeler gauge, and if the gap is correct, the gauge will be a sliding fit. If it is not, then undo the two securing screws which hold the stationary contact plate to the Distributor base plate and move the contact plate until the gap is correct. Tighten the screws and re-check the gap. Turn the engine until the points close and open again and re-check the gap.

Why
Dunlopillo is the most Hygienic
form of cushioning
in the World

It is the original basis from combination, containing millions of fine interconnected cells through which air circulates. The result is that the mattress is completely hygienic—a matter which our health is dear and is essential to health and comfort.
Not only is Dunlopillo hygienic, it also provides maximum comfort in long life situations, especially in bedrooms, where a bed of Dunlopillo is essential to health and comfort.
There are no springs or hard edges to wear out the covering material.

UNDER the terms of the Peace Treaty with Japan, British subjects in Kenya, in common with those of other Commonwealth countries, may now claim the return of their property assets held by the Japanese during the last war. KENYA LEADERS DISCUSS UNREST IN THE COLONY

Governor's arrival date is not changed

Members of the Executive Council of the Kenya Legislative Council met today in Nairobi to discuss the Governor's arrival date in the Colony. The main topic of their talks was the present state of political and social unrest in the Colony, and the measures which have been taken, or are being considered, to deal with the situation.

Although there have been demands by some members of the Executive Council that the Governor's arrival date be postponed, the Governor has decided to arrive on the 15th of September as planned.

The Governor's arrival date is not being changed because of the fact that the Government has decided to postpone the opening of the Legislative Council until the 15th of September.

What is a Square Engine?

A "Square Engine" is an engine in which the diameter of the cylinder bore is equal to the length of the piston stroke.

In the new Vauxhall power units the bore (3 1/2 in.) is actually greater than the stroke (3 in.), so that, in the modern idiom, the new Vauxhall is OVER-SQUARE engine.

For 26 years, the shape of British motor car engines was influenced by the R.A.C. horse-power rating used as a basis for taxation. Neither a true measure of power nor of capacity, this formula was based on the bore of the engine and the number of cylinders. Length of stroke was excluded from the calculation. As a result the horse-power tax encouraged the development of small-bore, long-stroke engines in British motor cars, long after the rest of the world had moved towards a more logical and natural bore-stroke ratio. Development work on the new Vauxhall engines had started before the abandonment of the horse-power tax. The new engines are backed by a most searching and rigorous test programme, and their designs incorporate the latest ideas in modern passenger car practice.

MUSEUM EXTENSION IS NOW READY FOR EXHIBITS

THIS week's picture page brings a preview of the newly completed extension to the Gardner Museum, Nairobi, and an insight into the work that is going on in the arranging and exhibiting in time for the official opening, which, it is expected will take place at the end of the year or early in 1955.

To the left is the tower from which rises the various galleries and halls, and directly below is the curved staircase of the stair scourium.

GROUND shown on the left is the Ghana Memorial Hall—named in honour of General Sir G. G. Allen-Turner who is retiring and leaving the Government of Kenya in a regular. Next to this is the building of the Church of the Holy Spirit, which will house the theatre and cinema. Below right are groups of children sitting on a veranda.

A BOY in this picture is a view from the tower leading to the Botany Hall department, and the tower Hall above, there to the right are the entrance of the Museum. Apart from this latter section, all the buildings in the extension are now complete and the site is being landscaped. Light's on the top right corner are being installed for the extension in the tower Hall. The Museum staff has for a long time set on hand in preparing the extensions for their "first night" opening.

Mounting Interest In The Crown Jewels

MANY of London's leading West End tailors and court dressmakers are now busy renovating the State robes and mantles of noblemen for the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth which is to be held in June, 1953.

There is mounting interest in the British Crown Jewels and there is increasing interest in the British Crown Jewels and there is increasing interest in the British Crown Jewels and there is increasing interest in the British Crown Jewels.

Below this are the King Royal Scorpions while in the two pictures top right are the three State Swords and the Royal Sceptre and the Imperial State Crown. The jewelled State Sword is the most beautiful and valuable jewel in the world. Made of Damascus steel, it is encased in a sheath of gold, rubies, diamonds and other precious stones.

In the picture of the three State Swords, the Sword of State was the centre, it is a two-handed sword, the length of the blade being 22 inches. The handle is of gilt metal, the crosspiece representing the lion and unicorn. It is encased in a sheath of gold, rubies and set with diamonds in design of the cross, the shaft and the hilt. The other two swords are the Sword of Spiritual Justice and the Curtana Sword of Mercy.

Great light is seen the Abreata and Assisting Open. The Assisting Monarch is one of the most important rites of the Coronation ceremony. The Assisting Monarch is one of the most important rites of the Coronation ceremony. The Assisting Monarch is one of the most important rites of the Coronation ceremony.

The crown, bottom left is St. Edward's Crown. It was created in the time of King Charles II from the ancient crown worn by Edward the Confessor and is the Crown of England. All Monarchs of England have been crowned with it since it was made. The crown, bottom right is the Imperial State Crown, worn by the reigning Monarch on all State occasions. Made in 1838, it embodies many historical jewels. The Black Prince's ruby and a sapphire from the Duke of Devonshire. In front is the second Star of Africa, weighing 169 carats, cut from the great Cullinan diamond. In all, the crown contains 2,823 diamonds, 27 pearls, 17 sapphires, 11 emeralds and five rubies.

THE CINEMA HAS REDISCOVERED SPACE

IF AND W

—by George Schw

Following London, Paris has recently produced the three-dimensional or stereoscopic film. Audiences responded with real warmth to the film, especially made for last year's Festival of Britain. They found the illusion of three films to be just as satisfying and real as the conventional illusion of movements we are accustomed to in the flat, two-dimensional film.

There is still room for a great deal of the development in the three-dimensional film, but there is no doubt that it has arrived, as a new and important element in the future of science and education.

Two images

WE see the foundations of things in nature only as they appear. We see "stereoscopic vision" as two different images, one slightly ahead and one slightly behind, and we look at it with our eyes only, we see the front part of it and the back part of it, we see only, you will again see the front part, and part of the left side. You must look both parts, and get a "3-D" picture, or a double image, by the means of a special apparatus.

GIANT OIL REFINERY IS PLANNED FOR MOMBASA

Cost estimated as at least £40 million* 2,200-ACRE SITE

KENYA is to have a giant oil refinery on Mombasa's south mainland. Estimated cost will be between £40 million and £50 million. Already the Kenya Government has indicated its intention of taking over more than 2,000 acres of land for the refinery under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act. Plans are detailed in the Official Gazette and every inch of site from less than a third of an acre to one of 1,150 acres.

The output of the new refinery will be about six million tons of petroleum products a year. Builders of the refinery, it is understood, will be the newly formed Repetroleum Refineries Company Limited, a representative body of the Shell Company, the Esso Company and the British Petroleum Company in Nairobi. Local officials of the company have indicated that the project is described as 'a project of the highest importance.' The Government will furnish details of the land to be acquired for the refinery and 'will' or 'may' acquire the site through the Land Acquisition Act.

British Petroleum Minister in the House of Commons has stated that the refinery would be a world war, Communist era, an unconquerable force for parliamentation and a great engine of the economy.

Currency saving

At least of equal importance as the expectation that the refinery will produce a big saving of hard currency for the Government is the saving of foreign exchange by cutting the gross cost of the refinery.

It is understood that the refinery will be built with a view to saving foreign exchange by cutting the gross cost of the refinery.

Growth of trade

And — in the event of emergency — an extension of the Nairobi Free Zone would have a twofold effect. It would attract more trade to the port of Mombasa and would also provide a market for the goods of the zone.
