in your ear

Are you a businessman and a successful one. But are you sure you are as successful as you could be—as you deserve to be?

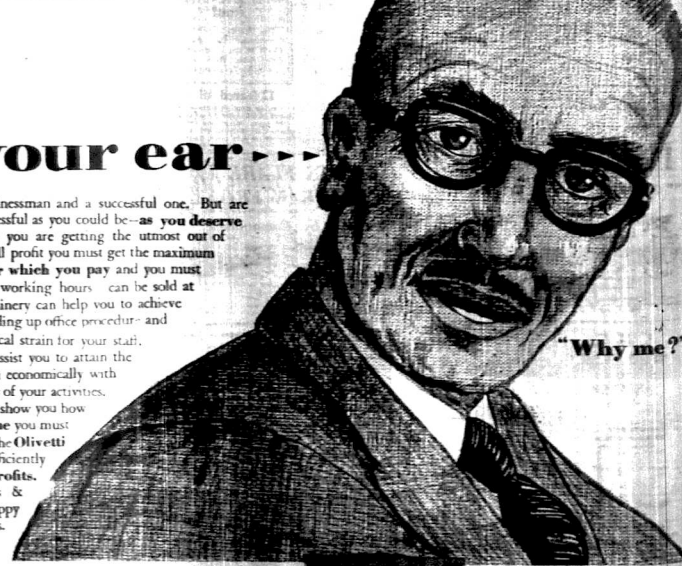

To realise full profit you must get the maximum out of the working hours for which you pay and you must find out how many of these working hours can be sold at a profit.

Good office machinery can help you to achieve the first of these aims by speeding up office procedure and by reducing mental and physical strain for your staff.

A well-equipped office will assist you to attain the second goal by providing you economically with complete and accurate records of your activities.

Analyses of such records will show you how much of your purchased time you must sell to establish a fair profit. The Olivetti machines shown here are efficiently designed to help you make profits.

With them go fine spares & servicing facilities. We are happy to demonstrate their qualities.

Nine soldiers defeat ten Policemen

Kenya Sgt. K. P. Poo. A NINE-MAN Kenya Police team won a recent side by side match against a ten-man Police team from the Dubbo League match on the 1st of September in front of a full galvanized. The Police's slight numerical advantage was nullified by the Kenyan's superior tactics.

The first half of the match was slower than might have been expected—considering the fact that the Kenyan players found in their disposal were of a higher standard than those of the Police. The result from Matthews out of the Police defence, the Kenyan's goal was a penalty.

Steady wool prices allay trade's fears

THE fact that the Australian and South African wool sales have opened substantially in line with those of the close of last season is regarded by the trade in Britain as a promising augury for an improved outlook for wool goods.

Yorkshire was anxious to see the wool market open on a steady basis, but was relieved to find that the opening of the season was in line with those of the close of last season.

It is expected that the wool market will continue to be steady, and that the wool trade will be able to meet the demand for wool goods.

REFORM LAWS FOR EGYPT New Cabinet acts swiftly

GENERAL NEGUSS' new Cabinet, in swift moves at a night-long first meeting, yesterday, passed decrees to reorganize Egypt's political parties and break up large industrial groups. Acting in the face of considerable opposition from the big landholders, the Chamber of Deputies, which directs the policy of the 16-member Egyptian Government, struck at the very roots of Egypt's centuries-old economic and social life.

The Land Reform Bill, drafted by the Chamber of Deputies, will break up large estates of up to 100 faddans or more. It is estimated that some 500,000 acres of land will be redistributed.

The vehicles in this range—especially built and developed for East African conditions—each have a car body fitted to a one-ton truck payload chassis and not a motor-car chassis. Hydraulic brakes, four vehicles are fitted with a towing hook, and can tow a load and trailer of one ton at 45 m.p.h.

Party rules to be amended

From EDWARD CRANKSHAW

FROM now until October the Communist Party will be the subject of the Soviet Union. Inspired leading articles and commentaries are already beginning to clarify the intentions and scope of the Congress, and it is clear that one of its main functions is to inaugurate a grand "spring-cleaning" of the Party itself. This looks like being quite different in kind from the purges which have been a feature of Party life during the past three years. By all appearance it should be called a rehabilitation rather than a purge, and, by all reports, it is a rehabilitation very badly needed.

Until now all the stress has been on removing individuals Party officials who were not standing loyalty or corrupt, or both, and who were not very successful effort to implant a political consciousness in the Party.

In a word, the Party leaders have taken the existing machine for granted and have limited their efforts to keeping it running smoothly. Now however, the rules of Party membership are to be amended, and if the proposed new rules are accepted and taken seriously it will mean a real change in the Party membership as a result of an effort to kind and restore it to its original force in the Soviet Union.

The original function of the Party was as the political nucleus of the Soviet Union. It was to be the moral leadership of the Soviet Union, and the Party was to be the moral leadership of the Soviet Union. It was to be the moral leadership of the Soviet Union.

A badge

Patrolmen was then enough, and membership of the Communist Party became a badge of honour and ability. These and other things were done to make the Party a badge of honour and ability.

Under this period, in spite of the fact that the Party was a badge of honour and ability, it was not a badge of honour and ability.

The Party in the past few years has been disintegrated to such an extent that it is now a badge of honour and ability.

What is important is that the Party is a badge of honour and ability.

ST. LAGER HIS LUCKY RACE

But Tulyar still firm favourite

TWENTY, with four since scratched, accepted for the last of the senior's classic races, the St. Leger, at Doncaster on Saturday.

There is never a big field for this race and last year's race, which was the largest since 1922. This year it is expected that 15 will start. The average number of St. Leger horses to start has been 10. In 1925, Aga Khan's Turban had only 10, but in 1928, 1929, 1930 and 1931 St. Leger was won by only five horses.

Cornish Richards and Tulyar and Sin Chan, the only other horse in the race, are the only ones who have been trained by the late Mr. Tulyar.

There has never been much doubt about the quality and consistency of Tulyar. He has won almost every race he has been in and has won a number of other titles besides his St. Leger, including the 2-year-old colic, the 3-year-old colic, the 4-year-old colic and the 5-year-old colic.

Tulyar is a dark bay horse, bred by the late Mr. Tulyar. He is a very fast horse and has won many races since he was first sent to the races.

He has won five 2-year-old colic races and 11 3-year-old colic races. He has also won the 4-year-old colic and the 5-year-old colic. He has also won the 2-year-old colic and the 3-year-old colic.

He has won 10 races since he was first sent to the races. He has won 10 races since he was first sent to the races.

OFFICIALS WILL FLY TO LONDON FOR TALKS Kenya's proposed new Bills to be discussed

MEMBERS for Law and Order, Mr. John K. R. S. A. Davies, are to leave Nairobi for London tomorrow morning. They are to have discussions with the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Oliver Lyttelton, on the proposed new measures which the Government is seeking to combat crime and subversive activities.

Mr. Wyatt, who has spent the past two days in the Supreme Court, Nairobi, where he has been conducting the Crown case in proceedings against the Kenya African Union, said in the press that everything possible will be done to expedite publication of the proposed measures.

It had been suggested that the Bills would be published in the Official Gazette on Tuesday, but it is now expected that they will be published on Friday.

Without a firm decision on the new proposals it is still impossible to fix a date for an emergency session of the Legislative Council, but despite the latest developments there is no doubt that the Council will meet this week after a long adjournment.

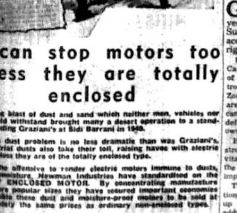

After a meeting at 10 o'clock yesterday they would meet at 10 o'clock on Monday for the purpose of discussing the Government's proposals for the re-organization of the Kenya High Court.

Mr. Wyatt will visit the United States and Canada in the next few days. He will also visit the United States and Canada in the next few days.

The Allied Forces High Commission in Nairobi has received a report from the United States High Commission in Nairobi that the United States High Commission in Nairobi has received a report from the United States High Commission in Nairobi.

A SLOGAN FOR THE UNREST Mr. Blundell lays the blame

AFTER stating that during the past two or three months the steady deterioration in the respect for law and order that has been apparent since the end of the war had "proceeded at an alarming pace," Mr. M. Blundell, Leader of the European Electors, today laid a public meeting at the blame.

Mr. Blundell said the country was still awaiting the proposed special measures. "It is a pity that the Government has not done more to prevent the situation from getting worse."

Later, answering a question as to why he had not been elected as a Member of Parliament, Mr. Blundell said he had been elected as a Member of Parliament.

The need

To have more of the British might have given a wrong impression of the Government's policy.

Cost of Living.
To the Editor: "A Standard" - I would like to protest Mr. Weigall's contention in his article "Cost of Living" (Sept. 10, 1952) that it is the "Cost of Living" that is at fault and not the cost of living.

From the undermentioned list of my average monthly household bills, comprising in total an average of 100/- per month, it is evident that the cost of living in Kenya and other parts of British East Africa, is not as high as it is being made to appear. It is evident that there is no extravagance in the budget.

THE CLOVE TREES OF THE ISLANDS OF ZANZIBAR AND PEMBA

SUGAR and spice, and all things nice, that's what little girls are made of, runs the nursery rhyme.

Yes, delightful stories of romance, thrills of adventure and visions of fantastic wealth lie hidden in the name of spices. And it is from Zanzibar and Pemba that 80 per cent of the world's supply of cloves from which the spices are made is derived.

The clove tree is not indigenous to the islands. It was introduced shortly after the beginning of the 19th century — somewhere between 1820 and 1830 — and such was the success of the venture that within 20 or 30 years cloves had become the single important commercial factor in Zanzibar and Pemba.

The antiquity of the clove is confirmed in Oriental literature during the Han period more than two centuries B.C. It was known in China as "golden tongue-spice" and was used by officers of the Imperial Court to render their breath fragrant in the presence of their sovereigns.

The clove is the unopened flower bud from a tree or large shrub of the myrtle order. The Zanzibar tree is an evergreen, frequently reaching a height of from 30 to 40 feet. The buds grow in clusters of from ten to 50 or more buds and are harvested twice a year starting July to October and December to January. Crops vary extensively from 2,000 tons up to as high as 20,000 tons.

Harvesting in a good season, the scene is one of intense activity; when women and children engage in picking the bunches of buds from the lower branches of the trees. The men climb and with hooked sticks draw and pluck the more remotely placed buds. All the cloves in Zanzibar are hand picked, the machinery of any description being eschewed.

To many it will come as a surprise that the use of cloves in the housewife's apple pie is, if most familiar, least important. Indeed, if the favouring of pastry were the sole application of cloves the important establishments now existing for the scientific organisation of the cultivation and sale of cloves might as well not exist. The extent of the application of cloves and their distillates is numerous and world-wide, sufficient to name three directions of outstanding importance.

In some parts of the world the most popular cigarettes owe part of their delicate aroma to an admixture of cloves. Women will be interested to know that some of the most highly prized and universally popular soaps use much of their charm to a certain delightful distillate of cloves. A third use of cloves, of the greatest interest to the medical world, is its preservative and antiseptic qualities in the form of an essential oil are taken advantage of in many varieties of preparations—foods, medicines, perfumes and cosmetics.

MOST of the commercial oils are distilled from the dried Zanzibar cloves which yield anything from 15 per cent to 18 per cent of oil. Clove oil is nearly colourless or very pale yellow which darkens somewhat on keeping. It has the characteristic aromatic odour of the plant and a pungent burning taste. Toothache has lost many of its terrors by a timely application of clove oil.

Zanzibar is virtually the only place in the world the prosperity of which depends primarily on the clove industry.

The staff photographer took these pictures of Zanzibar's clove industry. The pictures at the top show scenes in the Clove Market with an (right) buyers inspecting the bagged cloves. Bottom left, Mr. W. Anderson, Agricultural Officer, inspects good and bad branches of a clove tree. Healthy trees are seen in the picture bottom right while the picture bottom centre shows a distillation plant. Centre right, cloves arriving by dhow for distillation.

Puppets enact 'Hassan'; under-20's make merry; flying grandmother

There is a tradition that when the late Emperor Meiji visited the 'Little Theatre' in Moscow, he was so impressed with the puppets that he would like to see them perform in his own country.

The National Puppet Theatre has accepted the challenge, and is now producing a series of puppets in their own country.

Mr. Joseph Connor, head producer of the play, is making the most of the opportunity of making a success of it, and is producing an ambitious programme of plays.

His Eastern companies have been designed by these lines, and will be touring the country in the near future.

IN THIS DESERT CAMP THE BLIND ARE MADE TO SEE

STONE AGE Britons never saw cinema in the arid hills of the Red Sea and there they have built the first modern cinema in the East. Today, however, they are playing a great part in the rehabilitation of the blind. The British Red Cross Society has built a cinema in the desert camp for the blind.

KENNETH HOLROYD tells how large numbers of Sukh men, women and children are being cured of blindness.

The largest operation of this kind, the first of its kind in the world, was held at the British Red Cross Society's camp for the blind in the desert hills of the Red Sea. The camp, which was built in 1947, has been the scene of a number of similar operations. The first of these was held in 1947, when 100 blind men and women were cured of their blindness. The camp has since been expanded and now accommodates 200 blind men and women. The camp is situated in the desert hills of the Red Sea, about 100 miles from Addis Ababa. The camp is run by the British Red Cross Society, and is one of the largest of its kind in the world.

It is not yet a year since the first of these operations was held. The camp has since been expanded and now accommodates 200 blind men and women. The camp is situated in the desert hills of the Red Sea, about 100 miles from Addis Ababa. The camp is run by the British Red Cross Society, and is one of the largest of its kind in the world.

With a handicap well met, the camp has since been expanded and now accommodates 200 blind men and women. The camp is situated in the desert hills of the Red Sea, about 100 miles from Addis Ababa. The camp is run by the British Red Cross Society, and is one of the largest of its kind in the world.

'Heath Row'

Today there is a fine affair at Heath Row. The British Red Cross Society is holding a concert to raise money for the camp for the blind. The concert will be held in the evening, and will feature a number of well-known artists. The proceeds of the concert will be used to purchase books and other supplies for the camp.

There's A Propaganda War In Abyssinia

A special writer describes the battle which the propagandists are waging for the minds of the young, educated Ethiopian.

There is a well-known story of a depressed farmer in Alabama, unable to get a loan from the bank, who was asked the name of the United States Information Service if he could get one for him from Washington.

In Abyssinia there is a war going on between the propagandists for the minds of the young, educated Ethiopians. In order to win this battle, the United States Information Service works of course, in close cooperation with the British and French, and they only make the dissemination of pamphlets and leaflets on the radio, except for the time being.

No free Press

At this time, on in a country which is not allowed the free press, the Ethiopian Government has set up a newspaper, "The Ethiopian Herald," rather far away for the crowd. It is a well-known fact that the Ethiopian Government has not allowed the free press, and the Ethiopian Government has set up a newspaper, "The Ethiopian Herald," rather far away for the crowd.
