Federation of POVERTY, POLITICS and Nairobi fire and Church THE EGYPTIAN CRISIS was accident of Scotland Bishop speaks to Rotarians — verdict

COMMENTING ON a Rouser report published recently in the East African Standard, the Rev. David Stoddart, Minister of St. Andrew's Church, Nairobi, said that he considered a reference to "communist infiltration" by a Church of Scotland group to be misleading.

Mr. Stoddart said that the Church had for a long time taken the most advantage of the propaganda of the left, and that proposals for federation now under consideration might not be a reflection of the feelings of the populations of the territories concerned, but there was no complaint against federation as such, given adequate safeguards.

Internal politics
 The bishop reviewed the situation under which Egypt was in a position to be a party to the Egyptian crisis, and said that the Church of Scotland had been a party to the Egyptian crisis, and that the Church of Scotland had been a party to the Egyptian crisis.

RAILWAY FARES MAY GO UP

Steps to Obtain Other Money for Mombasa Port

The East African Railways and Harbours Administration has to go to the London market to raise its £20 million loan for development. It is likely the resulting higher servicing charges will be reflected in bus and freight charges.

It is a fact that the administration will probably be asked to provide a guarantee to obtain the money. It will probably go to the International Bank. Their terms are very onerous.

Without waiting for the Commission to make a decision, the Government has decided to raise the fares for the railways.

As soon as the loan bill has been passed, the Government will be in a position to raise the fares.

Debate welcome

Mr. Leslie Hale, trade union leader, has urged a debate on the subject of co-operation in Kenya. He believes that co-operation is essential for the development of the country.

Many questions

The petition is one with which we have considerable sympathy, but we cannot see how the policy is to be carried out. There are many questions that need to be answered.

Stumbling block

The Brokers Corporation of London was approached by the Government to act as a clearing house for the sale of the Kangaroo Pulp and Paper Co's Murupara scheme. However, there are several stumbling blocks that need to be overcome.

Truckers praised

Police from the Nairobi Station who have taken the trucks to the Murupara area have been praised for their efficient handling of the situation. The trucks are being used to transport goods to the area.

Hoarding

Miss Reed is to discuss the question of hoarding of goods. She believes that hoarding is a serious problem that needs to be addressed.

Decision in bankruptcy hearing

At a Bankruptcy Court

A Bankruptcy Court decision was rendered yesterday in the case of the late Mr. J. H. Graham, who was declared bankrupt by the court.

The court, presided over by Mr. Justice G. M. H. H. H., found that the late Mr. Graham had committed an offence under the provisions of the Bankruptcy Act, 1947, in that he had failed to disclose to the court certain assets which he had acquired during the period of his bankruptcy.

The court ordered that the assets in question should be sold and the proceeds applied to the payment of the late Mr. Graham's debts.

Shopper was wrongfully detained

Advocate on dangerous driving charge

A shopper who was wrongfully detained by a police officer on a dangerous driving charge has been released.

The case, which was heard in the District Magistrate's Court yesterday, involved a man who was stopped by a police officer while driving a motor car in the city.

The magistrate found that the police officer had no reasonable grounds for suspecting that the man was driving dangerously, and ordered that the man should be released.

FLAMES SWEEP OVER 25 SQUARE MILES

Threat to Nairobi Power Station

A massive fire, which threatened the Nairobi Power Station, was extinguished yesterday.

The fire, which broke out in the early hours of the morning, spread rapidly over an area of 25 square miles.

The fire was caused by a fault in the power station's cooling system, and the fire engines were called to the scene to combat the blaze.

The fire was eventually brought under control by the fire services, and the power station resumed normal operations.

London to South Africa jet service

The new jet service between London and South Africa is expected to start in the near future.

The service, which will be operated by the South African Airways Corporation, will provide a direct route between the two cities.

The new aircraft, which is a four-engine jet, will be able to complete the journey in a matter of hours.

The service is expected to be very popular, as it will provide a much faster and more comfortable way of travelling between the two cities.

Statement

A statement was issued yesterday regarding the activities of the Government.

The statement, which was issued by the Prime Minister, outlined the Government's policy on various issues, including the economy and social services.

The Prime Minister stated that the Government was committed to the welfare of the people and to the development of the country.

The statement also mentioned the Government's plans for the future, including the introduction of new legislation and the improvement of public services.

A woman was left in tears after a court decision in a case involving her property.

The case, which was heard in the District Magistrate's Court, involved a woman who claimed that she had been wrongfully deprived of her property.

The court found in favour of the woman, but the decision was not what she needed to hear, and she was left in tears.

The woman's lawyer stated that the court's decision was a disappointment for his client, and that he would be appealing the decision.

£203 realised at Thika fete

A total of £203 was realised at a fete held in Thika yesterday.

The fete, which was held in the town square, was a success and raised a large sum of money for a good cause.

The proceeds of the fete will be used to fund various projects in the community, including the improvement of public facilities and the provision of social services.

The fete was attended by a large number of people, and the atmosphere was very festive.

Basic question

The basic question of the day is the future of the country.

The country is facing a number of challenges, including economic difficulties and social unrest.

The government must take steps to address these challenges and to ensure the long-term stability and prosperity of the country.

The people must also play a role in this process, by supporting the government and by participating in the development of the country.

Map measurements

Map measurements have been taken in various parts of the country.

The measurements, which were taken by a team of surveyors, will be used to update the country's maps.

The updated maps will provide more accurate information about the country's geography and will be useful for a variety of purposes, including planning and development.

The surveyors reported that the measurements were completed successfully and that the data is now being processed.

Humiliation

A man experienced humiliation after a public incident.

The incident, which took place in a public square, involved a man who was publicly humiliated by a group of people.

The man, who was a well-known figure in the community, was the target of the humiliation, and the incident caused him great distress.

The community leaders have expressed their concern about the incident and have called for an investigation into the matter.

Japanese end purge rules

Japan has ended its purge rules, which have been in effect for many years.

The purge rules, which were introduced after the end of the Second World War, were designed to remove the influence of militarism and ultra-nationalism from Japanese society.

The government has announced that it will be relaxing these rules, and that it will be allowing a greater degree of freedom of expression and of political activity.

The relaxation of the purge rules is seen as a sign of progress in Japan's post-war development.

ounded buffalo kills child

A wild buffalo killed a young child in a rural area.

The incident, which took place in a remote area of the country, was a tragedy for the family.

The child, who was playing in a field, was attacked by a wild buffalo and killed.

The family has expressed their grief and has called for the government to take steps to protect the people from such incidents.

The government has promised to investigate the incident and to take appropriate action.

Cargo and mail

The cargo and mail services are running smoothly.

The postal and telegraph departments have reported that there have been no major problems with the services.

The cargo services, which are operated by the Kenya Airways Corporation, are also running well.

The departments have expressed their satisfaction with the performance of the services and have promised to continue to improve them.

Sir Stafford Cripps improving

Sir Stafford Cripps is recovering from his illness.

The former British Minister in Kenya has been in hospital for some time, but he is now showing signs of improvement.

His condition is being monitored by the medical staff, and it is expected that he will be discharged in the near future.

Sir Stafford Cripps has a long and distinguished career in public life, and his recovery is a relief to his family and friends.

Experts photograph propeller bubbles

Experts have photographed bubbles on a propeller.

The photograph, which was taken using a special technique, shows the bubbles that form on the surface of a propeller.

The bubbles, which are caused by the cavitation of the propeller, can reduce its efficiency and cause damage to the propeller.

The photograph is a valuable tool for engineers, as it allows them to study the bubbles and to design propellers that are more efficient and more durable.

Overdrawn

A bank account has been overdrawn.

The overdraw, which occurred at a branch of the bank, was a result of a clerical error.

The bank has apologized to the customer and has arranged to reimburse the account.

The customer has expressed his disappointment and has called for the bank to take steps to prevent such incidents from happening again.

The bank has promised to do so and has implemented new procedures to ensure the accuracy of its transactions.

Nakuru shop thefts

There have been several thefts in Nakuru.

The thefts, which have taken place in a number of shops in the town, are a cause for concern.

The thieves, who are believed to be local, have stolen a variety of goods, including clothing and household items.

The police have been alerted to the thefts and are conducting an investigation.

The shopkeepers have expressed their frustration and have called for the police to take more effective measures to prevent such incidents.

Estimated speed

The estimated speed of the project is being reviewed.

The project, which is a major infrastructure development, is behind schedule.

The project managers have estimated that the project will be completed by a certain date, but this estimate is now being reviewed.

The review is being conducted by a committee of experts, and it is expected that the project will be completed by a later date.

The project managers have expressed their concern about the delay and have called for more resources to be allocated to the project.

Plane on mercy mission missing

A plane on a mercy mission is missing.

The plane, which was carrying several people, has not been seen since it took off.

The plane was on a mission to deliver supplies to a remote area, but it has not returned.

The search parties have been looking for the plane for several days, but they have not found it.

The search parties are still looking for the plane, and it is hoped that it will be found soon.

CROWD THRILLED AT LANGA LANGA

Most races won by narrow margins

CLIMAX of a day of speed and thrills at Langa Langa track on Sunday was again the last race on the programme—the Handicap event for the B.B.A.A. Cup. Winner of this event was the first man, 25-year-old Paul Vasey, who stretched of first and kept his red M.G. T.D. type in front of the remaining 20 competitors who, pressing hard on his tail, gradually crept nearer throughout the ten laps.

In a close finish, however, Christian was a mere inch behind, after a 100 yds. stretch, the previous race, when Vasey was 100 yds. ahead. The M.G. showed its true form in the Handicap race, as it was a surprise of the day. It was a surprise of the day, as it was a surprise of the day, as it was a surprise of the day.

Most unlucky competitor was Christian, who had to maintain his chance long on an effort to give perfect performance. He was in the lead, but was overtaken by Vasey in the last lap, and was beaten by a narrow margin.

LOCKE IN SECOND PLACE SOUTH AFRICA WINS TEST

Masterly golf in Six-two margin over Australians

LOCKE and the South African champion, moved into second place in the Jacksonville, Florida, open golf tournament on Sunday when a round of 59 gave him an aggregate for three rounds—54 holes—of 156.

He was the lowest score of the day and led him only one stroke behind Doug Ford, of Michigan, who had a 65 with 207 with one round to go.

Locke was the lowest of the group high. He looked sure of the going into the last hole, which he knocked down. His birdie came on the 5th, but he was overtaken by two bogeys on the way back.

BAN IS LIFTED FROM IMPORTS

-but control tightened LICENCES ONLY FOR ESSENTIAL GOODS

Imports from North America—hardest of the hard-pressed areas—are to be allowed into Kenya again. A decision operative today, comes eight days after the United States and Canada ended when the life of the community of the territory and the commodities they want to bring in are essential to Kenya. Licenses for imports must now give reasons for such suitable alternatives as the territory and other areas or other self-sufficiency countries.

Mr. Le Mesurier told the East African Standard yesterday that this procedure was the same as had operated over the past few years "but the degree of liberality would not be a shade more relaxed."

He said he had no objection to the lifting of the ban on imports of such commodities as wheat, flour, oil, and other essential goods, but that the ban would remain on such commodities as iron, steel, and other heavy machinery.

How Holland provides new houses

THREE special Government loans have speeded up Dutch housing plans by more than ten years. Six months ago it was believed that the acute housing shortage could not be remedied before 1970. But unexpectedly large public subscriptions to new loans during the past month have expedited the programme by 1964 to 1963.

The three loans aimed at raising a preliminary fund of 200 million guilder last week yielded over 471 million.

The main objective of Holland's housing programme is to build 200,000 new houses in six years.

Royal support

As a "last resort" the Minister of Housing, appointed in the municipalities last year to raise housing loans for themselves. The success of the latter municipalities, the Algemeene, the Heilweg, Utrecht and Eindhoven, respectively. But it was soon evident that the "last resort" would not remedy either the problem.

Thus a minor official came forward with a proposal to raise a loan from the national bank to help finance housing in the provinces of these loans. His proposal was accepted in the municipalities to finance their own district housing schemes.

The Queen Juliana's support was enlisted and she offered to launch the three new loans with a radio appeal to her people. It was this appeal which has brought about a terrific increase in the sale of building materials, which will be used for the construction of the houses.

Department in its second new bond hitting the 1932 target of 50,000 bonds. Only a few months ago a target of 20,000 was considered high.

A huge amount of building is expected to start next month and there seems every prospect that the loan will continue to be used for some time. Since the 20,000 have been sold, the bulk of the municipalities have when the interest of large blocks of flats for letting a few weeks, although minor building houses are being erected - but not by the Government.

Depression in Cotton Industry Spreads to Rayon Manufacture

THE depression in Britain's cotton industry, which now has 64,000 workers on half-time employment, has spread to rayon manufacture and British Celanese is and the short-termers and textile shapers dropped as much as 10% on the London market on Monday.

Rayon firms, like cotton concerns, have just seen their best months since 1929. From the best month of the year, they were selling over £10 million.

All round, the news of textile gloomy. There is some feeling that things appear to be a depressed effort to play down the thing however, and with new equipment the fact that the industry is being reorganised, is almost entirely ignored in the Manchester and Lanchester Press.

The figures for last month's cotton exports from 2,600 to mid-January to 2,500 in February and 2,600 in March. The figure is now reduced to 2,300 and many industrialists fear the depression will be prolonged.

Australia's standard of living has been the main topic in the Commons. The House of Commons has held a debate on the subject of the Australian standard of living. Mr. Walter Fletcher (Conservative) has raised the question of the Australian standard of living. He said that the Australian standard of living is the highest in the world. He said that the Australian standard of living is the highest in the world. He said that the Australian standard of living is the highest in the world.

WEST AFRICAN GOLD MINING PROFITS

THE Protector's Times has said that the West African gold mining companies are experiencing as a result of increased output and taxation while the price of gold remains high.

The paper suggests that, whatever arrangements are necessary for mining companies under the new Finance Levy, would apply to Gold Coast enterprises registered in London, since the latter will have to be subjected to the same taxation.

The new tax factor, says the paper, will have to be some way towards offsetting the heavy taxation which some have lately been suffering from the industry's participation in the "free gold market". While the stability of the market and production in the West African area may be acknowledged, there is little prospect of any increase in the price of gold.

A MODERN KING ADDS A CHAPTER TO THE HISTORY OF A BRIBED QUEEN

By WENDELL PHILLIPS (in an interview)

A 30-YEAR-OLD American archaeologist was in Nairobi yesterday to tell the details for the first time of the story of the discovery of the lost treasure of the Queen of Sheba.

Overruled

I ordered that work should be stopped until Professor Allright could bring in cement for the concrete work.

Held prisoners

We were extremely alarmed by the bad report reaching us from the camp at Aden.

Treasure-hunt

This is Mr. Phillips' story. The purpose of the expedition to the Yemen was to locate and explore the world's richest reserves of frankincense.

Cost of Living

To the Editor, "A Standard" - We read many great and wonderful suggestions in your issue of March 15th.

Wanted

It is a beautiful thing that the very high salaried man who has a large family would like to do and give his family a better life.

Learn to Drive

It is a beautiful thing that the very high salaried man who has a large family would like to do and give his family a better life.

Professor Frank Allright has been conducting the expedition since the outbreak of the war.

The Governor thought we would attempt a break for freedom on the morning of February 12.

Workers' pay

My reply is that the workers have the trucks here and they are being used for the benefit of the community.

Abandoned

The expedition has returned to the port of Aden with the equipment and the provisions.

Traffic

The British regular use of the "Jama" motor is a very good one.

Standard Diary

March 20 - The British regular use of the "Jama" motor is a very good one.

The courteous motorist

Motorists are urged to be courteous and considerate to other motorists.

THE BRITISH RACING STORY

The genesis of the Jockey Club

THE Jockey Club is the legislator, the judge, the prosecutor and the jury of British flat racing. Without its consent, fact or implied, no race can be run. Jockey-club members are appointed by the Jockey Club...

A trivial affair
Members of the Jockey Club in 1814, when the club was first formed, were not only in British dress but in British dress, from all the principal towns in the world ranging from Aden to Singapore...

The first record
The first record of a race was recorded in 1711 when a race was run at Newmarket. The race was won by a horse named 'The Duke'...

Notable change
The first notable change in the history of the Jockey Club was the introduction of the 'steeplechase' in 1752. This was a race in which the riders were on horseback and the goal was to reach the top of a hill...

A code of rules
The first code of rules for the Jockey Club was drawn up in 1752. This code of rules was the first of a series of codes of rules which have since been drawn up...

Great woman golfer
Mrs. A. M. Hain, the first woman to play golf in England, was born in 1752. She was a member of the Jockey Club and was known for her skill in the game...

Code of rules
The first code of rules for the Jockey Club was drawn up in 1752. This code of rules was the first of a series of codes of rules which have since been drawn up...

BOAT RACE DAY TOMORROW

The greatest free show on earth by Charles Stephen

BOAT RACE DAY is almost here again. Tomorrow afternoon, March 28, thousands of spectators...

Probably the most interesting part of this great free show on earth is the boat race. It is a race between two teams of rowers...

In every year some water has been used. The bridge has been used. The water has been used. The bridge has been used...

Price of copes in the Seychelles

The Nyeri Players present - "PORTRAIT in BLACK"
by Ivan Goff & Ben Roberts

QUESTIONS concerning labourers on Government and private coconut plantations in the Seychelles were asked recently in the House of Commons.

Mr. Lawrence asked the Colonial Secretary whether the Government intended to take any steps to reduce the price of copes in the Seychelles, and if so, what steps.

Mr. Lawrence also asked the Colonial Secretary whether the Government intended to take any steps to reduce the price of copes in the Seychelles, and if so, what steps.

Price is down

Mr. Lawrence, in view of the fact that, not only has the price of copes fallen, but the cost of living has gone up, it is not surprising that the price of copes has fallen.

PROGRESS IN SOUTH TANGANYIKA
Exports reflect development

In the past few years the Tanganyika Government has given clear attention to the development of the Southern Province, which, as the Government pointed out on a visit to Lindi a year ago, had previously been neglected through the Government having neither the staff nor the funds to do other than hold a watching brief.

The first necessity for the economic development of the province is the development of communications and a road network.

TRANS NZOIA PEOPLE SEE FOR THEMSELVES

The administration of the West Suk

Representatives of the Trans Nzoia District Council, the Trans Nzoia Association and the local members of the Trans Nzoia District Council, who are interested in maintaining adequate contact with the West Suk District Council, are to be seen at the annual meeting of the Trans Nzoia District Council, which will be held at the West Suk District Council headquarters at West Suk, on Monday, 10th March, 1952.

Looking from a vantage point on the hills above West Suk, the view is a series of peaks and valleys stretching as far as the eye can see and heard from the hills above West Suk. Mr. F. H. Wilson, the District Commissioner, who is often lived like a mountain goat up above the hills, accessible only by a steep footpath.

THE FORESTS OF EAST AFRICA AND THEIR PROBLEMS

In this article, DR. A. L. GRIFFITH, Silviculturist of E.A.A.F.O., writes about the forests of East Africa, with their great potential value, and describes the work now being done to unravel some of the fascinating problems of the trees, which must be solved before our timber production can be put on a really sound footing.

Pine, spruce and whitepine, at maturity and a foot high.

It is well known that a great deal of important timber production is being carried out in the territories, but it was usually gathered in the past, and the work of the Forest Department is to bring about a great deal of improvement in the work of the Forest Department. The work of the Forest Department is to bring about a great deal of improvement in the work of the Forest Department.

The Forest Bureau was started in 1921, and its work is to bring about a great deal of improvement in the work of the Forest Department. The work of the Forest Department is to bring about a great deal of improvement in the work of the Forest Department.

MASS MIGRATION IS NO LONGER THE POLICY

Aims: A steady flow linked with capital

The Policy of the Migration Council in Britain now is to encourage a planned and organized flow of emigrants from Britain rather than emigration on a haphazard basis.

It is a fact well recognized by Mr. John Amable, a London business man and member of the Council, when he speaks to the Standard. "Capital has to be declared first in order to bring the emigrant to the attention of the Council," he says.

Since that time, he said, the Migration Council has had considerable success. There were 10,000 emigrants in 1949, 15,000 in 1950, and 20,000 in 1951.

Strategically, the agreement for the development of copper and iron in the Congo and the wealth of the Congo in 1946 has been a great help.

Mr. Amable said that perhaps the most correct argument was the economic situation and the ever-growing demand for the British already existing foreign investments and the country could no longer support them.

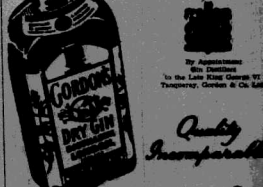

Conversely, the human resources of the Empire were being cut off for development. What was lacking was the organized, planned and controlled which, in one form or another, must inevitably be linked with any successful migration.

Controversies

These two countries are not without their problems. The first is the question of whether they should be united or whether they should remain separate.

The Zambesi

The Zambesi is a river that flows through the heart of Africa. It is one of the great rivers of the world.

The Boys

The boys of the Rhodesias are known for their bravery and courage. They are the sons of a brave land.

Missing battle

Spot news this week includes a missing battle in the Rhodesias. The battle was fought between two groups of men.

EARLY SETTLEMENT ON THE PLATEAU

Interesting, side-light on the work of the early factories of the South African Plateau, were given in an account of the settlement on the Plateau in 1890 by Mr. G. K. Watts to suggest the public opinion which has recently completed by his department to serve the farms.

Mr. Watts, a mining engineer, is the owner of the early factories of the South African Plateau, which were built in 1890 by Mr. G. K. Watts to suggest the public opinion which has recently completed by his department to serve the farms.

on the Plateau to see what the early factories of the South African Plateau were built in 1890 by Mr. G. K. Watts to suggest the public opinion which has recently completed by his department to serve the farms.

People now living on the Union Gold Plateau may have wondered how first settlers in that area found and how settlement was started. In this article, Mr. C. F. ARMSTRONG throws some light on the early days, quoting from an interesting report of 1910.

The first settlers on the Plateau were the early factories of the South African Plateau, which were built in 1890 by Mr. G. K. Watts to suggest the public opinion which has recently completed by his department to serve the farms.

Britain's Part In Transforming Middle East Agriculture

The writer of this article, WILLIAM BLUETT, well-known English journalist, has specialised in Middle East affairs, having lived and worked there for many years.

Agricultural production in the Middle East has been transformed since the latter part of the 19th century by irrigation systems which owe much to the know-how and skill of Britains' experts and engineering firms. Since 1945, too, advice on subjects of social and economic development, including agriculture, has been available to Middle East Governments through the Development Division of the British Middle East Office in Cairo.

One of the greatest examples of irrigation development in the Middle East is the huge system of dams and barrages controlling the flow of the Nile. This enormous work was carried out with the help of United Kingdom capital and engineering skill and is a fine example of the co-operation between the two countries. This has been the result of the efforts of the British Government to assist the Egyptian Government to plan and execute irrigation projects.

Owen Falls

THIS work of increasing the fertility of the vast region through which the Nile flows, continues. The current plan for the Owen Falls in Uganda will, when finished, add a further 1,000,000 acres of irrigated land to the area.

The Owen Falls scheme, planned by British engineers, involves the construction of a dam on the Nile at Owen Falls in Uganda, with a power station and a canal to carry water to the fields. The dam will be 1,000 feet long and will supply electrical power for irrigation purposes in the developed areas of Uganda. The scheme is a fine example of the co-operation between the two countries in the development of the Middle East.

Great Owen Falls

This diagram shows the Great Owen Falls dam, which will provide water for a million acres of land in the Owen Falls area. The dam will be 1,000 feet long and will supply electrical power for irrigation purposes in the developed areas of Uganda. The scheme is a fine example of the co-operation between the two countries in the development of the Middle East.

At the Falls, and the building of an electric power station make possible modern industrial development.

Lucist control

As well as providing direct benefit in schemes of irrigation and land reclamation, Britain has helped Middle East countries by the work of her experts in forest control. As long ago as 1811, it was decided that the Institute of Entomology in London should be a world headquarters of the increasingly important work of forest control in the arid areas of the Middle East.

Martyrs of Mythomania

Mythomania is a disease which has been known since the days of Hippocrates. It is a disease of the mind, and is characterized by the belief in things which are not true. The disease is often associated with mental illness, and is a common feature of the latter stages of the disease.
