EASTER EXODUS TO CONTINENT

120,000 visitors to Paris

EXTRA TRAINS AND PLANES FOR LONDON HOLIDAY CROWDS

With bright sunshine to lure them out, thousands crowded London railway stations and airports yesterday at the start of the Easter Holiday.

Although the Government has cut foreign travel allowance to £25, many of the estimated 120,000 holiday-makers leaving the capital were making for the Continent.

A record number of holiday-makers had to be put on a special train to Paris to cope with the London European holiday season that doubled the normal traffic. The British Railways Board has announced that it will run 15 extra trains to various Continental ports.

The K.M.S. had 92 extra trains on the Continent and the P.N.M. also brought over 200 extra trains to various parts of the world.

At the same time, the British Overseas Airways Corporation has announced that it will run 15 extra flights to various parts of the world.

The Queen distributes Maundy alms

The first public engagement of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II was the Maundy ceremony at Westminster Abbey—her first reigning Queen to do so since Elizabeth I first ruled 400 years ago.

Under the high canopy of the Abbey, 26 aged women bowed and 28 aged men bowed as the Queen handed them money containing specially minted "Maundy money".

This ceremony, of peace and charity dates back to the 12th century when English monarchs on the day before Good Friday washed the feet of the poor and gave them money to buy food.

The Queen first gave money to the women, then to the men, containing 4d. to the women and 2d. to the men.

The Queen then gave money to the men, containing 4d. to the women and 2d. to the men.

Sea of colour

As the Queen's Maundy money was distributed, the sea of colour was seen in the streets of London.

REFUSAL BY CHANCELLOR AROUSES FINANCIAL PRESS COMMENT

MR. R. A. BUTLER'S No when he was asked in the House of Commons whether he would now permit the United Kingdom companies to emigrate to British territories without the sterling area...

It was Sir John Meller (Conservative) who put the question. He told Mr. Butler that the Financial Secretary to the Treasury had previously said that the matter would be referred to a committee...

Mr. Butler replied: "I am also aware that there is in fact no real objection to the Government's proposals at present being regarded as well as if not more so than in the past..."

Mr. H. C. Gwynne, former Labour Chancellor, "Do we understand from what the Government proposes to put down new clauses on this subject?"

Mr. Butler: "You are going a little too far. I have said several times that I have said I am certain that every reasonable subject will come up. I have given any indication of any intention which the Government may have."

The Financial Times, in a comment, has said: "When the Labour Government introduced into the House of Commons a Bill to amend the Finance Bill 1932, it was accompanied by a memorandum..."

With considerable skill the Conservative administration has done its utmost to damage the status of London as an international financial centre...

The Financial Secretary to the Treasury said: "I am sure that the Government will be able to meet the views of the House of Commons on this subject."

Mr. Arthur stated that the Government had strenuously insisted upon the fact that the United States to abolish free export sales of wool. But for this the Australian wool-grower would have suffered severely and would have been by no means so ill contented...

Stock exchange prices

Table listing stock exchange prices for various commodities and securities, including 'East African Standard', 'Special Cable Service', and 'African Standard'.

LAY THE GHOST OF REVALUATION

REVALUATION was the aim of the Australian Government in 1930 and it is now being discussed again...

Australia cut imports drastically last year and is now to help right the sterling area trade balance...

Appreciation to parity with sterling in the second half of 1930 would have raised the value of the Australian pound...

World-growth of primary products might mean a further increase in the value of the pound...

The effect on other primary products would be to increase their value...

Appreciation could only have had the effect of making our balance of payments position for more acute than it is now...

This first outpost installation in large numbers came into effect with the announcement that the British, American and Canadian liaison officers of the North Atlantic Treaty Air Forces had met in Washington last month. The command is being headed by General Sir Robert Brooke-Parker, Chief of European Liaison, North Atlantic Treaty Air Force, who is based in Washington and is also based in London.

A TESTING TIME FOR LEAGUE CLUBS

Holiday may settle League problems

FAHRE is here and with it the most strenuous time of the season for professional footballers, who have a programme of three League matches in four days, occasionally four in a week.

The crowded holiday fixture has led to managerial decisions to change the programme of matches to be played on the holiday by Tottenham, Preston North End, Watford, Ipswich Town and Northampton United. All, without exception, have agreed to postpone their matches to the day after the season's end.

COTTON DISASTER THREATENS EGYPTIAN ECONOMY

Falling demand in world market

COYPT is faced with a new economic and political crisis unless the aid export the bulk of her cotton crop by next July. The prospects of getting rid of the crop are dim unless she is prepared to whittle down raw cotton prices before it is too late for demand on world markets to fall off after two years of stockpiling almost everywhere. Since the current season...

The half-grown and over-ripe cotton is being sold at a price which is 10 per cent below the price of the mature cotton. The Government is trying to get the price of the mature cotton up to the level of the half-grown cotton...

Paralyzed
The Alexandria cotton futures market which regulates the disposal of the cotton crop has been completely paralyzed by local and foreign factors.

Comment on lower tea values

COMMENTS that value at the Colombo tea auctions during the week ending April 8 declined for the first time in 1952. It is reported that the price for common tea is found to be about 10 pence per cwt. The Finance and Commodity Market Editor says "About 14 months ago a reasonable overall price average to meet production costs for Ceylon tea was about 10 pence per cwt. The disturbing feature is that the cost of production, and the cost of transport, and the cost of plant quality is just about to begin.

"During April and May Ceylon prices have often dropped but if they fall further, it is not likely that the position can be held for a long time. SUNNY EASTER IN BRITAIN

—but many went abroad
AIR TRAFFIC TO CONTINUE MORE THAN DOUBLED

BRIGHT spring sunshine made the Easteride break an enjoyable one for Britain. Thousands of vehicles left London every hour for the Coast and the countryside, while those who stayed behind there was the glamour of the Easter Parade in Hyde Park, where matronly couples displayed the new fashions.

The crowd was so great that some women fainted in their efforts to see the show. Thousands were still arriving a midday and it took at least 20 minutes to get a ticket of entry Underground station.

With some of its best Easter weather for years, British Labour drew thousands of walkers, who enjoyed the pleasures of the National Trust area.

The Queen, the Duke of Edinburgh, the Queen Mother and Princess Margaret went to the Easter Day service in St. George's Chapel, Windsor. Many who had hoped to attend the service were disappointed, for the Chapel was full 20 minutes before it was due to begin.

It was a flowery Easter. Many removing landmines and booby traps were allowed to enter their homes to see their families to get to Easter. The British Air Force was also allowed to land at the airport to see the Easter service. The British Air Force was also allowed to land at the airport to see the Easter service.

Prospects in Pakistan for British goods

M R B PÉTIPIERRE, Chairman of the East African section of the London Chamber of Commerce, has declared in an interview following his return from Pakistan that he had found a promising market for British engineering tools, hardware and electrical building equipment.

There are tremendous possibilities in the country, he said, for the further development of the textile and cotton industries, with modernisation and construction of jute and wool mills on an increasing scale.

However, British manufacturers are in danger of losing this market.

REVIEW OF THE PAST WEEK'S BOXING

Spanish champion retires at long last

By FREDIE HILLS
I SEE that an old opponent of mine has just retired. He is Spanish champion, Juan Bruno and he must surely have held his national heavyweight title as long as any man in Europe.

He was boxing as an amateur in 1926 and although his entry into the Spanish professional ranks was delayed by the outbreak of the Civil War, he became champion in 1949 and held the title for 12 years.

Can do a lot

In this report I have a lot to say about the boxing world. I have a lot to say about the boxing world. I have a lot to say about the boxing world.

Lost chance

Had Blackwater been a little less overconfident, they might have won the Easter Tournament. They were a little overconfident and they lost their chance.

ARSENAL HOT ON THE 'DOUBLE' TRAIL

Lishman's comeback beats Blackpool

ARSENAL are still in light fighting for the League and Cup double. Even without international Smith and Daniel they were still too good for Blackpool, whom they beat at Highbury on Monday afternoon, so averting that defeat by another North Country team. Both Wanderers, on Saturday.

Inside-left, Lishman—best after a two-game absence—was the man who brought the punch into the Arsenal side on Monday day. The one post two first-half goals virtually settled the issue.

A second-half goal put against Barnsley, during which they scored as they brought in Gillingham, retained their trophy advantage at the Division I.

This Arsenal still have a game in hand. They meet Newcastle on Monday night and will have only 22 points from 16 games in the league. Blackburn have only 11 points from the same number of games. Blackburn, who were without a goal yesterday, from the United.

REPORT ON EMB KASI AIRPORT PROJECT

Suitable site found MAIN PROBLEM IS ONE OF FINANCE, SAYS GOVERNMENT

The question whether Nairobi should be served by a new first-class international airport or whether it should continue to be made of the aerodrome, at present is one of the end of the way, says a Kenya Government statement yesterday. In June, 1951, the Government commissioned the Nairobi branch of Sir Alexander Gibb and Partners, a firm of consulting engineers, to prepare a preliminary report on a new airport at Embakasi. This report has now been received and has been passed on to the Government. The conclusions of the consulting engineers are, briefly, that an international airport could be constructed at Embakasi over a period of three or four years at a cost of between £2 million and £2½ million. The consulting engineers consider that this airport would rank among the best in the world for its specific duties and that it would be well equipped to handle all the aircraft which are now based there. The Government's view is that the construction of a new airport at Embakasi is highly desirable but that the cost might have been made by the Air Ministry and the Ministry of Civil Aviation.

UNION SUPPORTS MR. BEVAN

More victories forecast
ONE of Britain's big trade unions has struck a blow at Labour Party and trade union leadership by coming out overwhelmingly in favour of the Bevan policy of reducing the nation's armaments programme.

The National Conference of the British Railways, the Distributive and Allied Workers' Union, and the Transport and General Workers' Union, has expressed its support for the Bevan policy. This view was expressed at a meeting in London, where the unions' representatives were asked to endorse the Bevan policy of reducing the nation's armaments programme.

The Government's view is that a small contribution will be made by the Air Ministry which will enable it to participate in the project, says the Government statement.

The Governor, Sir Philip... The Air Ministry, however, is still hoped that the cost might have been made by the Air Ministry and the Ministry of Civil Aviation.

QUEENSLAND CROPPERS INCREASES DEFICIT

Change in policy likely

The future of the Queensland-Cropper Bank Corporation is in doubt following its latest loss of £216,000 which brings the total deficit since operations began early in 1948 to £658,300 (£412,500 in sterling).

It is thought that the Corporation might develop into another "groundnut" colony. The Queensland-Cropper Bank Corporation is a public company with a capital of £1,000,000. It was formed in 1947 to develop the Cropper Estate in Queensland, Australia. The estate covers 20,000 acres and is one of the largest in the world. The Corporation has been operating for several years but has incurred heavy losses. It is now in a state of liquidation.

Africans urged to support it

AN appeal to Africans to support the Union registered for the promotion of marketing of fruit and vegetables was made by the Registrar of Societies, Mr. Leslie, at the meeting of the District Council at its last meeting, when he spoke about the marketing of fresh produce.

Social service progress in Kiambu

At a recent meeting of the Kiambu African District Council, the Registrar of Societies, Mr. Leslie, reported on the progress of social services in the area.

He said that the Registrar had been visiting the various social service centres and had found that they were all working well. He also said that the Registrar had been successful in securing the necessary funds for the expansion of these centres.

Specific requests

Under the provisions of the Weighing and Measures Ordinance, any trader who wishes to sell goods by weight is required by law to sell the goods in a specified weight.

The Registrar said that he had received many requests from traders to be allowed to sell goods in a specified weight. He said that he was unable to do this because it would be contrary to the law.

Pleased, but—

The Registrar of Societies, Mr. Leslie, was pleased to announce that the District Council had approved the application for the expansion of the social service centres in the area.

He said that he was pleased because it would allow the Registrar to provide better services to the people of the area. However, he also said that he was worried about the cost of the expansion.

The plant is to be built in the state of Tennessee. It will be one of the largest in the world. It is expected to be completed by 1955.

Profit on cattle

The year's farming operations showed a deficit of £216,000, but the profit on cattle was £200,000.

The Registrar said that the profit on cattle was due to the increase in the price of cattle. He said that the price of cattle had risen from £10 per cwt. to £15 per cwt. in the last year.

'SUGAR' RAY IS STILL CHAMPION K.O.'s Rocky Graziano in third round

'SUGAR' RAY ROBINSON, by knocking out Rocky Graziano, an ex-champion, in the third round of his world middleweight championship at the Chicago Stadium on Wednesday night...

He was all over Robinson, who had fought like a toy for the first eight minutes of the fight. The referee was hardly breathing...

Graziano said: "I lost to a greater fighter." And he turned his head to the challenger and said: "This is a tough guy and I hurt him."

Before the challenger could say anything more, he was going against the ropes but slipping to the canvas to be counted out.

Ferocity

"I fainted and then hit him on the chin" said Robinson, in describing the fight. But before the fight Robinson, 25, was generally reckoned to have lost most of his speed...

Robinson weighed 111 lb. which is 10 lb. heavier than the challenger. Graziano was middleweight champion for a year in Chicago in 1947 but lost it to Tom Tony Lacy in Chicago in 1947 but lost it to Tom Tony Lacy in Newark the following year.

THE BRITISH RACING STORY

Owners feeling financial pinch

THE greater the risk the higher the dividend if the owners are successful. This fundamental economic principle is the basis of all financial enterprises, of which the pursuit and ownership of racehorses is perhaps the most important.

It is the risk in the ownership of racehorses which is expected to be the main reason why the industry is not more profitable. Yet, throughout the history of racing, there have been men who have been successful in the pursuit of this hobby.

Can it last?

To the layman, the horse has held a special place in the affections of the British people since the days of the Crusades. It was the horse that carried the knights of the Crusades to the Holy Land.

It is the fact that the horse has been used for so many different purposes that it has become a part of the life of the British people. It is the horse that has carried the British people to the ends of the earth.

Variable fees

The fact that the horse has been used for so many different purposes has led to the development of a system of variable fees. This system allows the owner to pay a fee for the use of the horse for a particular purpose.

A book in itself

The book "The British Racing Story" is a book in itself. It is a book that tells the story of the British racing industry from the days of the Crusades to the present day.

A NEW PHILIPS RECEIVER

by W. Robert Forder A.A.A. hon. coach

COACHING has played a very prominent part in the development of the British athletics since the war and the A.A.A. coaching scheme, under the direction of a committee headed by R. St. G. T. Harper, who many will remember as a champion hurdler, can be said to have accomplished much in the way of improving standards both of competition and performance by athletes during the inauguration of the scheme in 1947.

Soccer news for Scots

SCOTTISH fans will pay no more for their Soccer next season. Ground charges for "A" Division matches will be 2/- and for "B" Division matches 1/6d. At present it is 1/6d for both divisions.

The mainstay

Most of the work of these coaches comprises lecturing, demonstrating and giving tips to schoolteachers, youth leaders, athletic club officers and athletic holding courses for teachers and coaches. The mainstay of the scheme is the A.A.A. League for Boys Summer School. Longborough has been the mainstay of the scheme for many years and has through the years taken in the A.A.A. League for Boys Summer School and 30% of A.A.A. League for Boys Summer School.

One all: two to go

He played his last two games from the side and the match was won—once all and two to go.

THE MEANING OF COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

MR. T. G. ASKWITH, Commissioner for Social Welfare in Kenya, explains the work that is being done to enlighten Africans in the problems of developing a country which only 50 years ago was utterly primitive.

THERE is a lot of misunderstanding of the meaning of Community Development and this is an attempt to explain it. Put simply, it means Adult Education leading to progress through the principle of self-help.

Education is not merely learning to write and do arithmetic, however, but includes the acquisition of general knowledge about the country and its Government, how it is being developed and the reasons for that. The various Government Departments, what the various services are, and the characteristics of the various departments, while adapting oneself to prevailing conditions, while adapting oneself to changing social conditions, the importance of good roads and railways, and the other services provided by the Government, and finally the appreciation of the need for voluntary activities and of people helping themselves.

Self-help

All these matters are education in the widest sense, and people cannot provide for themselves the lack of knowledge which such things makes Africans need. It is the responsibility of the Government, and as a result, the Government is designed to help and assist them on the other hand. It has been shown that a general understanding of one's own country, its people, its resources, and its Government, and finally the appreciation of the need for voluntary activities and of people helping themselves, is the most important. The policy is to provide those things which people cannot provide for themselves, to enable them to carry out a betterment campaign for their own benefit. The Government is designed to help and assist them on the other hand. The policy is to provide those things which people cannot provide for themselves, to enable them to carry out a betterment campaign for their own benefit.

The women

Probably one of the most important courses in the African Information Service is that for African women are taught. On the other hand, agriculture is largely in the hands and the upbringing of children, entirely in their own areas.

Traders' course

Another course is for agricultural traders, and the object is to enable them to take their place in commerce. It appears that the general education of traders is too low to permit for more than a few to benefit by such courses, under the best of circumstances require an adequate knowledge of arithmetic. It is proposed, therefore, to give courses to those who are engaged in commerce, to enable them to take their place in commerce. It appears that the general education of traders is too low to permit for more than a few to benefit by such courses, under the best of circumstances require an adequate knowledge of arithmetic.

Jeanses School

First of all the principal with the Jeanses School. The main object of this institution is to give Africans who are interested in short courses in general education. It is proposed, therefore, to give courses to those who are engaged in commerce, to enable them to take their place in commerce. It appears that the general education of traders is too low to permit for more than a few to benefit by such courses, under the best of circumstances require an adequate knowledge of arithmetic.

STRIKES DISORGANISE TRANSPORT IN SUDAN

Rate of imports has fallen to a low level in the Sudan. For some months commercial and industrial strikes have been unable to get their goods transported from their Sudan. The result is a serious shortage of goods, and the rate of imports has fallen to a low level in the Sudan. For some months commercial and industrial strikes have been unable to get their goods transported from their Sudan. The result is a serious shortage of goods, and the rate of imports has fallen to a low level in the Sudan.

Fact or fiction?

By Mary Kenney
We have a friend with two little daughters, the younger of whom tells the most interesting and detailed tales of the happenings at school, details of her mother's dress and habits, and what lessons she has learned during the morning.

All of which is very interesting to read, and the romance is only three-years-old. The girl is not at school as yet, but her parents would rather she should turn into either a famous author, or a famous liar, than into a common school girl. The fact that she is so young and tells such tales is very interesting, and the girl herself is very fond of the subject. She has learned during the morning that she is not at school as yet, but her parents would rather she should turn into either a famous author, or a famous liar, than into a common school girl.

A child passenger has begun. Modern shipwrights are learning to study the girl well being, for shipping lines realize that the young lady holds an influence with the family.

Once are the days when children on ships were banished to the lower decks, to be seen but not heard. The many mothers insisted on travelling in smaller ships, and many mothers insisted on travelling in smaller ships, and many mothers insisted on travelling in smaller ships.

WALZ DINEY'S fantasy was a child passenger has begun. Modern shipwrights are learning to study the girl well being, for shipping lines realize that the young lady holds an influence with the family.

True or false?

It is easy to teach a child to differentiate between truth and fantasy, by instilling always the idea that if it is false or really they are indulgent in. This may be accomplished as follows: To give an example: When your young son came in from the garden, and solemnly informed to you he had killed the shambie boy, he was asked by his sister whether it was true or a game. He replied that his sister whether it was true or a game. He replied that his sister whether it was true or a game.

NO FIXED LINE FOR THIS YEAR

TODAY'S fashions, says the International Wool Secretariat were recently described by the fashion historian Mr. James Lawe, C.B.E., as a "whirlpool" and looking at the general picture of present day styles the description is not without some foundation.

There is no look which is typical of the fashions for spring and summer 1932. The result is that London's wholesale designers have made more scope than they have in previous seasons when the outline was more rigid.

Generally, the current collections show that wholesale designers have taken full advantage of the flexibility of the fibre contrast can be introduced in a collection. The slim skinned model may follow the previous season's lavish, full-skirted model, but the reverse contrast may precede a sleek fitted coat on previous lines. Each fit into the modern fashion picture. The comparative freedom of outline means that more care and attention must be spent on achieving a perfectly balanced color.

Frederick Clarke concentrates on expensively styled in his summer collection. Many of the models were designed for the street. The color scheme is striking colors are used for leisure wear. These he calls the designer's coat with a touch of the evening's coat with a touch of the evening's coat with a touch of the evening's coat.

MAKE-UP MAXIMS

Today our London Fashion Correspondent, Elsa M. Sanders, passes on a few beauty hints from a Hollywood make-up expert.

SOME tips for beauty

Some tips for beauty given by Wally Westmore, Hollywood make-up expert, his hints at this season should review her colour scheme. Make-up that blended well with dark suits and furs looks dainty in the bright sunshine.

Sun-warmed

EVERY spring there is a rush of new cosmetic colours on the market. This season the pendulum has swung back to the old-fashioned, sun-warmed shades. Cream rouge is shaded with true red, not the bright reds that were popular last year. Cream rouge is shaded with true red, not the bright reds that were popular last year.

They took it with a smile

By Margaret Hodgkinson

THE morning sun lay like a golden lozenge across the foot of my bed, and all the usual morning noises of clattering milk, bottles, chattering birds and motor engines being started made it seem just a normal morning and I woke up on February 6, 1932.

Turning on my bedside radio to listen, as usual, to the "News from Britain," I soon discovered it was no ordinary morning because the announcer said that a young woman from England had died in a King's College hospital.

The first thought that came into my mind was a sudden one, but one which I must have been very much surprised at. I was not surprised at all, but one which I must have been very much surprised at.

Woman's view

I HOPE that the appreciation will be rearranged before the cold winds and frosty weather of the winter months in the tropics. The garden make a colorful, fragrant picture and the native flowering trees and shrubs are in full bloom.

Still optimistic

When Elizabeth II comes to the throne, she will be Queen of England and will be Queen of England and will be Queen of England.

APPLICATION AND USES OF THE HELICOPTER

CAPTAIN R. LIPTRON, C.B.E., B.A., the writer of this article was formerly Deputy Director of Research and Development (Helicopters) in the Ministry of Supply.

Even though the helicopter might only become a practical reality during the Second World War, although it is only some four years since its originator, Paul Cora, first demonstrated it, there is a growing appreciation everywhere of its value as a new transport vehicle in both the commercial and military fields.

Even though the types which are available are not economical in operation, their value has been strikingly demonstrated in the various operations, both in Britain and in America.

It will give the closest contact with the existing means of transport as regards regularity, ease of use, safety, and general convenience. Helicopter transport operations are, however, more expensive than anything else, due to the high cost of the existing transport which it is to replace, and the high initial cost of the helicopter itself.

speed and high annual utilization on a heavy basis also has to be taken into account. The helicopter's carrying capacity, although not very large, is increased with use at a steeper rate than does that of a conventional transport.

As yet, no helicopter is in regular service in the helicopter, but it is only a matter of time before the helicopter will be in regular service. It will also be a matter of time before the helicopter will be in regular service in the helicopter.

MEN OF THE TREES

How Forest Destroyers Became Tree-Planters

As a boy I was trained by my father in the art of propagating trees used to accompany him on his visits to the woodlands. I was carefully marked where these trees which could be removed without damaging their neighbours. He had an almost uncanny knowledge of trees from all parts of the world which could be grown in England.

In his blood

AFRICA was in my blood. As a lad I had been brought up on Samson Barbe Baker's tales of his experiences, and I felt that there was my mission. One day when I first went to the hillside of the Kenyan Forests, I came across a large tree. The old man and I sat there in British uniform, and I told him that I was a soldier in the British Army. He said, "You are a soldier, but you are a tree-planter."

The inspiration

I MUST have had my ordinary routine work as Assistant Conservator of Forests, and one day an inspiration came to me. I was in the woodlands, and I saw the men who were planting trees. I saw them with their axes, and I saw them with their hands.

Formerly an Assistant Conservator of Forests in Kenya, RICHARD ST. BARBE BAKER tells in this article how he founded the 'Men of the Trees' Society whose members are pledged to encourage the planting and protection of trees.

The writer, who is now promoting a campaign to recruit 100 students from 50 countries to study desert reclamation and bioscience, is expected to visit Kenya in May.

Richard St. Barbe Baker

On they came in a constant stream carrying spears and axes. I noticed that on the point of each spear was a little black ball of witch-hoofers, it was a sign that they came in peace and not in war.

Hill of Muga

They assembled in orderly ranks on the Hill of Muga in a quiet of the country. Muga is a solitary tree—the only tree which remained after the clearing of the land for farming. "I told me that this tree was to collect the spirits of all the other trees so that they should not wander about and be lonely." They had a primitive love and sympathy for trees. Destruction was not without purpose. They knew that whatever they did to the soil they would be doing to the tree which grew there.

A problem

HERE was a problem. I had only 30 lads ready. I had only 30 lads ready. I had only 30 lads ready. I had only 30 lads ready.

New dance

THE new dance I established was a mix of the Dance of the Trees, and I would give a part of it for the boys. I would give a part of it for the boys. I would give a part of it for the boys.

Good deeds

AFTER that, I noticed a group of young warriors in the middle of the forest. They were talking earnestly to each other. They were talking earnestly to each other.

Reafforestation in the Elburgon district

Later my work took me to the borders of Tanganyika. When I returned, Chief Mungu came to see me. He said, "I have a problem. I need a good tree to plant in my forest. I need a good tree to plant in my forest."
