CONSERVATIVE MAULAGE PLAN

Demands from both sides

PROMISES TO TAKE INDUSTRY OVER AGAIN

ANTHONY CHURCHILL came under heavy fire both sides on Thursday after he had the Government's plans for selling the steel and haulage industry back to private owners, in the Labour Party, which nationalised the industry to re-nationalise it as soon as it is possible.

On the other British Road Federation, the vast of the road hauliers themselves, who strongly disapproved, have protested against the Conservative plan to make them pay a £4 million annual levy for 15 years.

Involved in road transport, the Government has got into a bit of a muddle. The week's business was a bit of a muddle.

Railways

The main work of the railway was to transport the coal and other minerals to the power stations. The railway is a vital link in the country's economic life.

The Government is planning to sell the railway to private owners, in the Labour Party, which nationalised the industry to re-nationalise it as soon as it is possible.

HOW THE RAILWAY IS FACING WHO'S WHO IN THE ELECTION

A Better Outlook

Broadening a few days ago, the Prime Minister, Winston Churchill, said that though there was great anxiety to come, he could not believe that the Government would be replaced. He had not shown improvement in the world situation, the Government was always to have such a comforting assurance. There are glad most of all to get it from Mr. Churchill who, whatever may be his weakness as a national leader in the domestic sphere (and they are opponent alike) is still the best judge of the international scene and the outstanding figure in the world whose statements can be accepted as based on knowledge and an unclouded perception of the facts and lessons of history.

Increases

To give a true picture, Mr. Ugahat said that the actual amount spent on development works in a total of £5,000,000 and £1,000,000 in 1951 and 1952. ### Grocers say margarine is selling better

SINCE the East African Standard published a report last week that sales of margarine had been slow because the profit margin remaining to the merchants after payment of Customs Duty did not allow for advertising, it has been ascertained that sales of margarine are now active and that no sign of competing in popular quantities is to be expected.

A shopper buying a 2-lb tin of margarine in the grocery store yesterday, answered the critic who in the course of conversation yesterday asked why import duty was charged on margarine.

"Why not?" she said "it is not unusual to charge Customs Duty on imported articles. It helps to pay the cost of transportation and also to protect local industry and still leaves the margarine cheaper than butter from those who want it."

"In my home we use both butter and margarine—the latter for sandwiches and cooking and it is used for frying, because it is so much cheaper. I use it in my monthly budget."

The shopkeeper was indignant at the suggestion that margarine should be allowed to cover the cost of transportation. "That is a very convenient suggestion," she said "if it were made a profitable line of goods by the exporting countries."

"The increased sales will help pay the cost of advertising," she said "if it is not made a profitable line of goods by the exporting countries, then it is not worth the cost of advertising. The increased sales will help pay the cost of advertising."

ANOTHER SATURDAY ST. LEGER

Date changed to September 13

THE St. Leger, last of the five English Classic Races, will this year be run on Saturday, September 13, instead of Wednesday, September 10.

At the request of the Government, the Stewards have decided to change the date of the race to a Saturday. The race will now be run on September 13, 1953.

SPORTSMAN OF WEEK: JAROSLAV DROBNY

His ambition is a Wimbledon title

A PAIR of dark sun glasses and a lightning service are the stock-in-trade of Jaroslav Drobný, former Czech Davis Cup star, now a naturalized Egyptian.

On a dusty day at Bourke's in the British hard court championships, the 31-year-old glasses were hardly necessary. The service was superb. He was very much to the form.

Amendment to Australian Banking Act

THE Australian Government is planning to provide £100,000 against its powers to put "credit control" on its trading. It is learned authoritatively in Canberra.

The Banking Act passed in 1945 by the Commonwealth Government is being amended to provide for a special account to be maintained by the Government for the purpose of providing credit control.

But as the Act, passed by the Government, would require that such deposits be made on the banks as a condition of their trading. The deposit to be made by the Commonwealth is a special account.

Ceiling

But the Liberal-Country Party Government is planning to amend the Banking Act so that the Government could require that such deposits be made on the banks as a condition of their trading. The deposit to be made by the Commonwealth is a special account.

AUSTRALIA IN 'BUMPER' CONTROVERSY

New South Wales attack under fire

RECENT moves in Australian cricket circles to place restrictions on "bumper" bowling may start a far-reaching international controversy. In the past, incidents in Test series between Australia and overseas countries—even to the inclusion of the over-constituting "bodyline" series of the 1930's—have drawn the attention of the International Cricket Council.

A recommendation on the subject has already been adopted in principle by the New South Wales Cricket Association. It is said that the New South Wales Cricket Association has already been asked to consider the question of restricting "bumper" bowling. ### LOCAL AIRLINES FACE FUEL CUTS

Result of oil strike
SERVICE CANCELLED—
AND OTHERS MAY FOLLOW

Several operators in East Africa may have to cancel operations because of the world-wide aviation curtailment caused by the strike of nearly a million men in the United States of America.

The African Airways is making preparations to deal with a 50 per cent cut in their high-grade spirit supplies.

Other airlines have already cut services to some extent.

The East African Airways general manager, Mr. G. S. Sorbie, said that the fuel cut had been expected by the airline and was expected to operate in the West Indies as well.

Court studies steel controversy

The hearing of an appeal to determine whether President Truman's seizure of the American steel industry is an unconstitutional exercise of executive power was legal within the President's authority.

The United States Supreme Court has begun in the District of Columbia to study the constitutionality of the President's seizure of the steel industry.

The steel companies have already obtained the release of a three-cent cut in their steel prices. The Government has refused to accept this offer.

Comment by Judge

Mr. Newman was closely questioned by several judges. He said that the seizure was a necessary measure to prevent a strike which would have paralyzed the country.

He said that the seizure was a necessary measure to prevent a strike which would have paralyzed the country.

More questions

In a further series of questions, Mr. Newman asked the Prime Minister of the United Kingdom, Mr. Clement Attlee, whether the British Government was in a position to supply the United States with steel.

Mr. Attlee said that the British Government was in a position to supply the United States with steel.

Decision of Supreme Court reversed

CONVICTIONS RESTORED

The Supreme Court in its decision today reversed the decision of the Court of Appeal for Eastern Africa, which had ordered the restoration of the convictions of a man who had been convicted of a crime in 1951. The man, who is now 60 years old, had been convicted of a crime in 1951 and had served a term of imprisonment. The Court of Appeal had ordered that his convictions be restored, but the Supreme Court has now reversed that decision.

Material words
The court's decision was based on the fact that the man had not been convicted of a crime in 1951. The court found that the man had not been convicted of a crime in 1951 and that his convictions should be restored.

Principle
The court's decision is based on the principle that a man who has been convicted of a crime should not be punished if he has not been convicted of a crime. The court found that the man had not been convicted of a crime in 1951 and that his convictions should be restored.

Concession
The court's decision is based on the fact that the man had not been convicted of a crime in 1951. The court found that the man had not been convicted of a crime in 1951 and that his convictions should be restored.

Opposition to French administration

The wall, with its towers, stands in its full medieval splendour. In the city of Sfax, in Tunisia, however, long centuries ago, it remains a living reality as a symbol of solidarity.

A wall dividing not just two places, but two ways of life, two standards of behaviour and two sets of national habits, not two nations, but two nationalities, not so much between French and Tunisian, since neither the European nor the Arab nations are homogeneous, but between the homogeneous, but between Christians of the West and Muslims of the East.

On one side of the wall, the French colony lives under the full cooperation of the Tunisian Government, steeped into the French life.

Living and material progress seem to flourish here. The French colonial life is more advanced than the Tunisian. The Tunisian is more backward. The Tunisian is more primitive. The Tunisian is more feudal. The Tunisian is more feudal.

On the other side, the Arab quarter is a poor, narrow, and overcrowded place. The Tunisian is more backward. The Tunisian is more primitive. The Tunisian is more feudal. The Tunisian is more feudal.

STEPS AGAINST THE MAU MAU

Government declaration MORE POWER GRANTED TO DISTRICT COMMISSIONERS

STEPPING up their fight to stamp out the proscribed Mau Mau movement, the Kenya Government has granted to eight District Commissioners the powers of a Supreme Court Judge so they can deal with the class of persons favoured by Mau Mau adherents more severely and without delay.

The District Commissioners at Kiambu, Fort Hall, Meru, North River, South River, Nakuru, Nairobi and Laikipia—all First-Class Magistrates in their own right—are to exercise the powers of a Supreme Court Judge in dealing with the following offences. Unlawful oaths to commit crimes, compelling another person to take an oath, making an unlawful society, arson, attempted arson, setting fire to crops and standing plants and attempting to do so.

All the eight areas have been declared special districts by the Member for Law and Order, Mr. John Wiyoyi. The effects of the declaration—published in their respective Official Gazette—can be traced by all in this State.

Offences which can be punished in this week's Special Gazette—any normal powers, a First-Class Magistrate cannot impose a sentence of more than three years' imprisonment. Under his normal powers, a First-Class Magistrate cannot impose a sentence of more than three years' imprisonment. # THE SOUNDABOUT OF NATIONALISATION

Industry at mercy of politics

BY PHILIP WOODS

THE British Conservative Government has announced its plan for nationalising the railways, the transport undertaking. The details—even if they were to be made public—do not matter for the main reason. The important fact is that this is one of the few Acts in British political history where a Conservative Government has decided to undo the work of its predecessor in office.

As Mr. Winston Churchill, the Premier, proposed in the recent broadcast will follow—some time this summer.

Already the Labour Party has publicly announced that it is ready to support the Government in its decision to nationalise both road and transport. In other words, these two major British industries are for the first time to be administered by political representatives of the real needs of the industry. The Conservative and Labour parties are thus supporting the same basic ideas about nationalisation. It is not a happy prospect.

Taking it back

The decision of the Conservative Government, as the Conservative Government, is all very well, but it is not a happy prospect. It is not a happy prospect. It is not a happy prospect.

Even worse

This is all very well, but it is not a happy prospect. It is not a happy prospect. It is not a happy prospect.

THE BRITISH RACING STORY

Combining promotes new 'industry'

Combining is an integral part of life. However, most of us may be, there is not one who can claim to have taken a track which can be expressed in terms of a complete story.

Through Britain, for although he may be aware of it, taking a track has been a part of his life since he was a child. In a motor accident he may have been killed, or in a motor accident he may have been killed, or in a motor accident he may have been killed.

Great plumpers'

It is estimated that the Government will spend £100 million on the new road programme in the next five years. This is a very large sum of money, and it is expected that the programme will be completed by 1957.

The Government has announced that it will spend £100 million on the new road programme in the next five years. This is a very large sum of money, and it is expected that the programme will be completed by 1957.

Other facilities

The new facilities will be provided for the benefit of the public. This includes the provision of new roads, bridges, and other infrastructure. The Government is committed to providing the highest quality of services to its citizens.

Formation

The formation of the new organization is a significant step towards the development of the industry. It will provide a platform for the industry to voice its concerns and to work towards common goals.

Britain's 'hope' Rain curtains for Olympic Marathon race

WHEN in 1950 Jack Holden won the British European and Empire Marathon championship, he was the first to win the title in the 4th year. It was thought it would be a long time before Britain found his successor.

But his discovery that James was one of the most dramatic moments in the history of the sport.

Understandably the proposed race for the 1952 Olympic Games was cancelled. However, the British European and Empire Marathon championship was held in 1951. It was won by James, who was the first to win the title in the 4th year.

THE GOVERNOR OF KENYA DISCUSSES RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN CHURCH AND STATE

THE relations of Church and State to the Government in Kenya at the present time were discussed by the Governor, Sir Philip Mitchell, at a public meeting in Nairobi on Monday night.

The Governor began by saying that in view of the increasing number of Christians in Kenya it had often seemed to him that the Church and State were becoming more and more intermingled. He said that the Church and State in Kenya were not yet in the position of being intermingled as in some other countries. He said that the Church and State in Kenya were not yet in the position of being intermingled as in some other countries.

He said that the Church and State in Kenya were not yet in the position of being intermingled as in some other countries. He said that the Church and State in Kenya were not yet in the position of being intermingled as in some other countries.

He said that the Church and State in Kenya were not yet in the position of being intermingled as in some other countries. He said that the Church and State in Kenya were not yet in the position of being intermingled as in some other countries.

Misnomer

There were, nevertheless, some special problems from the very beginning. The Church was a mission for the people of Kenya. In an earlier day, missionaries and the Church were not yet in the position of being intermingled as in some other countries.

Same pattern

"As far as the past is concerned, the greater part of the Church in Kenya has been developed in a way which is not very different from that which has been developed in other parts of the world."

Personal action

The issue is of course, often confused when an individual, perhaps a distinguished one, takes personal action. The issue is of course, often confused when an individual, perhaps a distinguished one, takes personal action.

Public opinion

As both Church and State are bound to be concerned with public opinion, it is not surprising that there should be some overlap between the two. The Church and State are bound to be concerned with public opinion.

Inter-lock

"As far as the past is concerned, the greater part of the Church in Kenya has been developed in a way which is not very different from that which has been developed in other parts of the world."

Cause of anxiety

Returning again to his suggestion that the Church and the State in the past had been intermingled, he said that he was not sure that this was a desirable thing.

Labour

"About the time that I first came to Kenya in 1919, the most important industry was agriculture. The Church and State were not yet in the position of being intermingled as in some other countries.

Changes

"The Church, at first of all, was a mission for the people of Kenya. In an earlier day, missionaries and the Church were not yet in the position of being intermingled as in some other countries.

The crux

"Compulsory laws used to be a problem. The Church and State were not yet in the position of being intermingled as in some other countries.

National Servicemen may have choice of naval career

KENYA'S National Service vicemen, who must continue their service on a Reserve after their active service training in Rhodesia, will probably be able to choose a naval career if they wish. They will be able to elect to serve their 18 days a year with the East African Naval Force at Mombasa. The East African Naval Force is one of the responsibilities of the East African High Commission and it is the High Commission that is responsible for the direction of the Force, for giving it orders when required, and maintaining it in a state of efficiency. Proposals are also about for reorganizing the lists of a Volunteer Reserve of the Force, to take the place of the Kenya Royal Naval Reserve detachment which offered training to Europeans, as well as Africans, before the last war.

Refresher courses During the war the value of this training was fully demonstrated and the R.N.R.V.R. was a valuable adjunct to the Kenya Navy's establishments in the Indian Ocean. With its own responsibilities for specialist jobs. It is with the idea of maintaining this valuable tradition of service that a High Commission officer has been placed before the East African Governments for a recapitulation of the various Governmental and voluntary European training. The various Governments are asked to review this in due course after a study of the proposal. Several letters from ex-servicemen have arrived at the High Commission office, asking for facilities for the training of new volunteers and for refresher courses for those still liable to service to the extent of war.

Today's East African Naval Force comprises seven European Officers, headed by the Commanding Officer, Commodore J. S. Mober B.R.C. (who is also Resident Naval Officer at Mombasa) and six Chief Petty Officers, all Europeans, and six staff rates, and 16 Africans of all ranks. The Force possesses the R.M.S. Ship 'Rhodesia', a miscellaneous trading of 370 tons and a motor fishing vessel, for training purposes. African recruits go to Mombasa from all over East Africa and the first job of Commander Mober and his staff of instructors and officers is to introduce them to the traditions and discipline of the Naval Service.

Many of these African sailors straight from their life in the interior and have never seen so much as a live fish before they reach Mombasa with its swimming baths, traps and lighters and the Naval establishment and training vessels. They take to it all remarkably. Earlier this year the Commander-in-Chief, East India (Vice-Admiral Sir Geoffrey Cleverly) inspected the East African Naval Force and reported on the state of efficiency of the East African High Commission. The target was impressed by the success of the training given at Mombasa, the African "permanent nucleus" of the Naval Force, the discipline, cleanliness and promptness of the African personnel who were impressed by the precision of the African training which was given to the African sailors in a number of ways. The African training was given to the African sailors in a number of ways. The African training was given to the African sailors in a number of ways.

LABOUR COMMISSIONER ANSWERS COMPLAINTS

Registration system for Africans The Labour Commissioner has answered frequent complaints, especially from up-country employers, that the present registration system for Africans and the use of the buff card for employment and discharge are ineffective. Complaints are that so few Africans applying for work carry either "spreads" or buff cards referring to previous employment that both become valueless. The Kenya Election
Sir, I was not a little shocked to see the first part of your issue of the 12th May, 1952, of your editor's comments on the election of Mr. W. B. Harcourt (Kisumu) to the Legislative Council. His election was a result of the vote of the African members of the Legislative Council. His election was a result of the vote of the African members of the Legislative Council. His election was a result of the vote of the African members of the Legislative Council.

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard"
Sir—Could the Minister for African Affairs please clarify the following points in view of the fact that the price of maize has risen to 100/- per bag, and the Government is subsidizing it at 40/- per bag?

Human Rights in the Colonies
To the Editor, "E.A. Standard"
Sir—During the last year we have seen a number of reports of human rights violations in the colonies. It is a pity that the United Nations Commission on Human Rights has not taken any action to deal with these violations.

The Kenya Election
The Kenya election was a landmark event in the history of the country. It was the first time that African candidates were elected to the Legislative Council. This was a significant step towards the realization of self-government for Kenya.

Kenya's Progress
Kenya has made great progress in many fields since its independence. The economy has grown, and the standard of living has improved. The government has also made significant investments in education and health care.

Kenya's Progress
The progress of Kenya since independence has been remarkable. The country has achieved a high level of economic growth and has made significant improvements in social services. The government has also worked hard to maintain law and order and to promote national unity.

Maize
The price of maize has risen to 100/- per bag, and the Government is subsidizing it at 40/- per bag. This is a significant increase in the price of maize, and it is a pity that the Government has not taken any action to deal with this problem.

Human Rights in the Colonies
The United Nations Commission on Human Rights has not taken any action to deal with human rights violations in the colonies. This is a pity, as these violations are a serious threat to the peace and stability of the world.

WILL THOSE LAST 1,000 FEET DEFY 'EXCELSIOR' AGAIN?

The story of the Mountain that, so far, has beaten Man by GEOFFREY WAKEFORD

A Swiss expedition, the first since 1938, set out to reach the top of the snow-capped mountain, which is 29,000 ft. above sea level. The team reached below the top.

No man has ever reached the summit of Everest. But brave men have made the attempt. Everest is an endevour to conquer Everest. It is a mountain which has been tried by many men.

With or without oxygen the last 1,000 feet has so far proved unscalable. In 1924 Leigh-Mallory and Bruce went to their deaths on the snow-capped mountain. In 1938, two men went to the top of the mountain.

At each height, the climber's weight is increased by the weight of his oxygen tank. On five days the men were on the mountain. They were on the mountain for five days.

Agony to climb

The agony of the ascent of the mountain is a physical and mental struggle. The men who attempt to reach the top of the mountain are in a state of physical and mental agony.

Every second may be a matter of life and death. The men who attempt to reach the top of the mountain are in a state of physical and mental agony.

RUSSIA AND THE STRAITS

Ever since Catherine the Great secured the Black Sea coast for Russia by finally driving out the Turks, Russian politicians have looked to the Bosphorus and the Dardanelles not only as a key to their Black Sea empire but also as a route to the Indian Ocean. The Russian government has been active in the Balkans and the Middle East.

THE ISLAND IN THE LAKE

By Margery Mendelsohn

HOW many of Kenya's lovers of the outdoors are comparatively ignorant of the island of Lake Naivasha which may have seen, since the beginning of the century, more motor on the road to Naivasha than all the other roads put together? It is surprising as it has been in private ownership since the beginning of the century.

Wild life
IMAGINE a park of more than 400 smooth rolling hills, up to 100 ft. high, with a few scattered trees and many thousands of bunnies and many thousands of bunnies and many thousands of bunnies...

Variety of birds
WHAT about the island's other residents? Without even raising our eyes we see some of them: domestic fowls, geese, ducks, guinea fowls, turkeys, guinea fowls, turkeys, guinea fowls, turkeys...

Sacred hippos
THE first hippos seen in the island were those of the late Mr. Maund who was killed in 1911. He was a keen sportsman and he had a special interest in hippos...

When Winston Churchill went back to No. 10 Downing Street
The Prime Minister returned to No. 10 Downing Street on the 22nd of May. He was accompanied by his wife and two children...

Longont
THERE is much Longont to be seen in the island. It is a small, dark, bushy tree with a thick, woody trunk and a dense canopy of small, dark leaves...

TWO CENTURIES AGAINST TOURING TEAM

India meet the M.C.C. at Lord's

COLORIUS, sunny weather greeted the Indian touring team when they began their match against the M.C.C. at Lord's on Saturday. They lost the tour and the M.C.C. went to bat.

India, obviously enjoying the sunshine, boy and girl, refused well but this did not prevent Stimpson, the Northamptonshire batsman, from taking a fine innings of Gloucester, from making a century.

Stimpson's century, his eighth right back into the century, was a fine one in the first innings, but the M.C.C. made 101, with only one batsman, Stimpson, who had made just over 40 at the interval, was left to help the bowlers.

Well-caught

Stimpson, who had made just over 40 at the interval, was left to help the bowlers. He was well-caught at Lord's by Lord's bowlers.

Seven 100s in County games

With perfect cricketing weather, seven county batsmen generally dominated Saturday's county championship programme.

Earlier results

The draw at Birmingham, Hampshire, was dismissed for the M.C.C. in the first innings.

Closing scores

Match of 30 runs. M.C.C. 101, India 40.

Author sums up challenge to Britain

CHESTER WILMOT, Australian war correspondent and author of the best-seller 'The Struggle for Europe', has written a book on the challenges to Britain in the future by Britain and her possessions.

Addressing the Royal Engineers' conference in London, Mr. Wilmot said: "The challenge of Communism and the Arab-Communist lobby at the United Nations Assembly, and eventually a challenge from the United States."

Moderation

The Anglo-Perian oil dispute has caused a great deal of concern here. It is a pity that the oil companies are not more moderate in their demands.

PAKISTAN CONFERENCE MAY UNITE MUSLIMS

Aims of Foreign Minister

BY her recent invitation to Muslim Prime Ministers to meet for consultation in Karachi, Pakistan has opened a little closer to her ideal of a Muslim "third force" in world politics. It is too strong a word for what Pakistan wants—in the past few months Sir Zafrullah Khan, Minister of Foreign Affairs and Commonwealth Relations, has privately and publicly rejected the idea of a Muslim "third force".

Advantage

Mr. Zafrullah Khan, however, does not see more than just a political advantage in the establishment of a Muslim "third force". He is convinced that such a force would be a useful weapon in the hands of the Muslim countries.

Offer of Cypriot labour

THE National Chamber of Commerce has just received an offer from the Cypriot Government to supply a complete list of all the Cypriot labour force which would be interested in acquiring the services of Cypriot labour.

New liner said to be torpedo-proof

AMERICA'S new transatlantic liner, the United States, which underwent trials last week, is a super ship with a compartmented hull reportedly built to resist torpedoes.

It is a super ship with a compartmented hull reportedly built to resist torpedoes. The liner is expected to be launched in the near future.

Impressed

During the six years of war the Cypriots have learned a great deal about the value of a strong and efficient defence force.

Import Licensing

In continuation of the Government's policy of import control, the Ministry of Commerce has issued a notice regarding import licensing.
