FOUR WICKETS DOWN FOR NO RUNS

Trueman helps to write Test history

TEST history was made at Headingley, Leeds, on Saturday. India facing a first innings arrears of 41 runs on the second day of the opening match in the present series against England, lost their first four wickets in the second innings without a run being scored. Nothing more dramatic has happened in modern Test cricket.

Their captain, Trueman, came to the rescue for the second time in the match. First with the midget and then in a century partnership with Phadke he helped India to stage a gallant rally.

At the close of the first day, England were 149 runs ahead of India. Trueman and Phadke were the only batsmen left on the field.

The day's play started with Trueman and Phadke, who were the only batsmen left on the field, scoring 100 runs for the sixth wicket. Phadke was out for 100 runs and Trueman for 100 runs.

Drama starts

It began when Trueman, after the second delivery, opened the England attack, and tried to bowl, but was out before the ball had reached the back of his leg for Conington to field in the middle.

Trueman opened the batting and scored 100 runs. Phadke followed him and also scored 100 runs. The two batsmen were out for 100 runs each.

When play started there was plenty of opposition as to the way the match would play. Trueman and Phadke were the only batsmen left on the field.

A pronounced bowler, Trueman, was out for 100 runs. Phadke followed him and also scored 100 runs. The two batsmen were out for 100 runs each.

ENGLAND WINS WICKETS TO SPARE

Another two-man innings for India

Another two-man innings for India in the first Test in the present series by 10 wickets by seven wickets on a day and a half to spare—Hendingsley, Linds, Underwood. The final scores were India, 228 and England, 243 and 129 for three wickets.

Three quick blows

Not more than 5,000 people were present when the match was re-started. England quickly regained the initiative when in another 20 minutes opened three Indian wickets off at the same total of 141. Two of them to succumb to batsmen from leg-spinners Jenkins, Graham Trueman and Freddie Lyon opened his attack with an aggressive Labour and Jenkins topped a splendid first over.

India lost their fifth wicket in the fourth over when Gonsky played back and across what looked to be a top-spinner.

With his next ball Jenkins threw a bouncer, and Trueman whipped off the ball for a smart straighter.

This bouncer was not without effect in the sixth, as he first in the second ball, on one batsman and his first in the other.

Jenkins, like Trueman on Saturday, had a change of pace, the back-cut that thimble-jacks a dead ball in the ball.

On Saturday, however, they are money-shaves, And because they just do not lose, they are money-shaves too. Use a Blue Gillette Blade in a Gillette Razor—they're made for each other.

When Blue Gillette Blades shave the gay Spanish face they clearly reveal the world's handsome race.

THE up-to-date, well-groomed men of Spain, in fact men all over the world, know that Blue Gillette Blades are the smoothest, shaves, And because they just do not lose, they are money-shaves too. Use a Blue Gillette Blade in a Gillette Razor—they're made for each other.

TONIGHT'S big fight at the White City between Randolph Turpin and Don Cockell for the latter's British and Empire superweight championship, is one fraught with vital consequence for Cockell.

Turpin, if he wins, will relinquish his middleweight title automatically. But even if he loses his future prospects will be brighter than they have been for some time.

TURPIN FAR TOO GOOD FOR COCKELL

Holder was outfought, outclassed

BEFORE a crowd of 50,000 at the White City on Tuesday night Broadway Turpin became New Britain heavyweight champion by decisively routing Don Cockell, the holder, in the 11th of a scheduled 15-round fight.

Turpin, reigning middleweight champion, won by weight, height, and skill. He was 11½ inches taller than Cockell, weighed 12 st. 10 lb. (174 lb.) to Turpin's 11 st. 8½ lb. (162½ lb.). But the difference in weight and height was not the only reason for Cockell's defeat. Turpin was more powerful, more aggressive, and more skillful than Cockell. Turpin's jab was particularly effective, and he was able to land it with accuracy and force. Cockell's defense was poor, and he was unable to withstand Turpin's attack.

QUALITY THE KEYNOTE OF NAIVASHA SHOW

Ayrshire buyers 'discriminating'

BUYERS' CLASSIFICATION... QUALITY, not quantity, was the keynote of the seventh annual show and sale of pedigree and improved Ayrshire cattle at Naivasha last week.

The Government, Sir Philip Mitchell, who is a patron of the Ayrshire Cattle Breeders' Society, said that the animals were very good. He thought that the show was better than the last one he had attended two years ago.

Improving standard... The standard of Ayrshires in Kenya is rapidly improving, said Mr. Henry Benson, vice-chancellor of the show.

Two weeks and only 100... The show was held at Naivasha from June 10 to 12. It was the largest show of its kind in Kenya.

A NEWSLETTER FROM IRELAND THE IRISH LANGUAGE

THE INSTITUTE FOR THE BLIND AT THIKA

THE Kenya Appeal for the Blind, launched by the Committee of the Kenya Branch of the Royal Empire Society for the Blind, is part of the effort to deal with the Commission to attack one of the biggest of colonial social problems. It is not generally appreciated that blindness, and the eye diseases that lead to it, constitute one of the gravest of the medical problems in most Colonies and that in East Africa, the incidence of eye diseases as well as of blindness, is believed to be high.

There is, unfortunately, so far too sparse information about the range of causes of blindness, practical steps to alleviate the situation, by financing a mobile clinic, equipped not only to treat eye diseases and advise and help clinics and dispensaries set in the country areas, but also to survey eye diseases and blindness in the field.

Such a survey would, of course, make available the much needed information about the size and type of problem with which Kenya is faced, so that plans made to deal with it are based on certain knowledge.

Another chief of the appeal is to provide for extensions of the work now being done by the Salvation Army's school for the blind at Thika, known as the Institute for the Blind. There, under the able direction of Major O'Brien, an effort is being made to equip blind Africans for normal, healthy and productive life, to make it possible for them to be self-supporting, and useful members of the community.

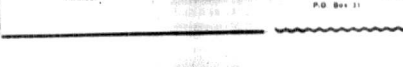

These pictures illustrate some of the aspects of life at the Thika Institute. Taken by a staff photographer, they show the physical help and moral support of the Government of Kenya is endeavouring to give with this difficult process of rehabilitation of blind persons.

Unfortunately, even such work as this, humanitarian and practical as it is, touches only the fringe of the immense field of demand for assistance. At Thika there is room for 100 male pupils—and for 50 women or girls. It is well known that such a number as this is but a fragment of the whole and that most blind Africans are not only living in darkness, but are economically absolutely dependent on the charity of their friends.

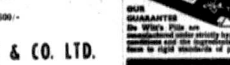

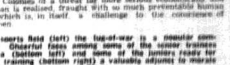

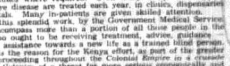

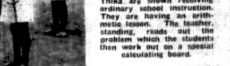

It is an aim of this work, enabling the handicapped to fulfil in every way his function of making the blind of Kenya due to find for themselves, how to play a full part in ordinary workaday life and to help.

Work such as this is designed to help those who are irremediably blind, for whom there is no treatment: open blindness, which can restore sight. The preventive field of work is able to attack the cause of blindness—the ignorance and bad social conditions the physical causes of eye diseases—on the spot.

A promise has been given that the survey, which it is hoped the Kenya Appeal will be able to finance, will be followed up by the Government by an extension of skilled work through training.

Above, the Braille book opens the way to a new world for the blind, who make their daily lives, as they are trained, in such activities as Sewing, Clerks, in the classroom young pupils at Thika, are shown. Right, they are having an orthopedic lesson. Below, the students then work out on a special calculating board.
