FOREIGN POLICY STUDY OF TRADE BARRIERS OF REPUBLICANS

Comment on draft plan for Council

The reason for the inclusion of the Council in the proposed new Government is the subject of much discussion. The Council has been criticized for its lack of independence and its failure to represent the interests of the people. It is argued that the Council should be reformed to ensure that it is truly representative of the people and that it has the power to make decisions on behalf of the people.

RUSSIA INTEGRATING SATELLITE HEAVY INDUSTRIES

By RICHARD LOWENTHAL

RUSSIAN policy concerning the development of satellite heavy industries in the satellite countries of Eastern Europe is undergoing a considerable change in the last two years. Originally, while the Communist leaders of the satellite nations wanted to develop their own heavy industries to accelerate modernization, the Soviet Union was loath to let them do this. Russia is now trying to keep them from developing their own heavy industries.

The first problem has been that the Polish and Rumanian satellite nations were to be developed through the aid of the Soviet Union. The second problem was that the satellite nations were to be developed through the aid of the Soviet Union. The third problem was that the satellite nations were to be developed through the aid of the Soviet Union.

BISHOP EXPOSES LESS OBVIOUS SINNERS

Harming well-being of Kenya

REFERENCE to the recent speech of the former Governor of Kenya Sir Philip Mitchell—in the United Kingdom—was made by the Assistant Bishop of Mombasa, the Right Reverend L. T. Seebohm, when he reported the state of Kenya at the annual dinner of the Kenyan branch of the Royal Society of the Geographical Society of the United Kingdom.

Seebohm said the Bishop had no monopoly of sinners but there are a few sinners about the place who, quite erroneously, are doing this country a tremendous amount of harm. He added that Philip he mentioned had referred to the sinners who were doing harm by their sinners. He said that some of the sinners who were doing harm by their sinners were those who were doing harm by their sinners. He said that some of the sinners who were doing harm by their sinners were those who were doing harm by their sinners. He said that some of the sinners who were doing harm by their sinners were those who were doing harm by their sinners.

Third Test Match

RAIN HOLDS UP THE FIRST DAY

Hutton reins in and decides to bat

RAIN held up play when the third Test match in the present series between England and India started at Old Trafford, Manchester, yesterday. It had threatened from the start of the match and settled to a heavy down-pour for the first time after a 20-minute respite.

For the first time in the series so far Len Hutton, the England captain, relied on his batting to get the team out of its predicament and decided to bat himself throughout the first day. He was not out at the close of play.

After a 300-pace start, Hutton was out for 100 runs in the first hour of play. He was then out for 100 runs in the second hour of play.

The batting gradually grew as the rain stopped again between noon and 2.30 when Hutton made 100 runs in the first hour of play.

Luncheon scene

After a luncheon scene at the hotel, Hutton and his team went to the ground for the second day of play.

'Make-Do' of lamp lore

By J. M. Venning

MANY people regard their present lamp as a makeshift, a makeshift which, however good, is not the best. They are right. It is a makeshift, and a makeshift which, however good, is not the best. They are right. It is a makeshift, and a makeshift which, however good, is not the best.

Perfume that enhances personality

By Patricia Compton

PERFUMES are like medals. Etoning back over the years, their fragrance like a stretch of song, recall memories of happy, romantic and even gloomy occasions. The first ball, an anniversary or a change of quarters and the boy who sets it.

THE first and most important rule is to choose a note which suits you personally. Also it should be appropriate for the time and place, an overpowering oriental perfume would not suit a hot day, and a crisp morning perfume would not suit a hot day.

HAVING made your choice, suffer it faithfully. The idea that a dab now and then is sufficient is wrong. As your clothes and make-up are part of you, so should your perfume be.

It is possible to buy soap, bath salts, toilet water and powder that ideally harmonize with your perfume. This way you can ideally invigorate your chosen fragrance all day and every day.

THE EVOLUTION OF ETIQUETTE

By D. J. Beeman

IT is not surprising that early man, little better than an animal, ate his food by tearing off strips of raw meat, cramming it into his mouth and growling savagely if any other hungry primitive approached.

WOMEN WITH A PROBLEM

By Josephine Banks

The Nation's City Club is going to help the city's "women with a problem." They are going to build the hostel you see in the picture on this page.

It will be a building for women who are unable to find a home. It will be a place where they can get a room for a few days or a few weeks. It will be a place where they can get a room for a few days or a few weeks.

What it is

It has 100 rooms. It is a building for women who are unable to find a home. It will be a place where they can get a room for a few days or a few weeks. It will be a place where they can get a room for a few days or a few weeks.

It will be a building for women who are unable to find a home. It will be a place where they can get a room for a few days or a few weeks. It will be a place where they can get a room for a few days or a few weeks.

PROPOSED HOSTEL FOR WOMEN: KIRK ROAD

They also had plenty of the old-time slugs.

It will be better. It will be a building for women who are unable to find a home. It will be a place where they can get a room for a few days or a few weeks. It will be a place where they can get a room for a few days or a few weeks.

In Memory Of A Wood

By LORD DUNSANY

THERE is an old wood on the North Downs which died and the taxes have given over to what was probably called at first the Demolition Commission, but which, perhaps for the sake of euphony, is now known by the more melodious name of the Forestry Commission. And there I went one day to say farewell to the survivors of the old beeches and, as grim tracked through all through the wood, I went only just in time.

I am going to be forty

By John Cherry

I'm going to be forty. And I hate the idea. Up to now I've never thought much of age or aging. Some days I've felt 70. But I've always known that really it was just a name and that in actual fact I was still young.

WHEN I PUFF

When I puff and puff after a cigarette, it isn't a puff of smoke, it's a puff of life. It's a puff of life that keeps me going. It's a puff of life that keeps me going.
