Experiment in final of 'Enterprise'

By League of Railway 7 BRITISH LEGION fielded an experimental side containing five new players for their Double League fixture—essentially a 'home' match—against Railway on Saturday, and were beaten by five wickets.

Each side appeared to be in a state of confusion during a new drizzle that produced only a single goal before the interval. The Railway side, however, had no difficulty in breaking through the defence of the visitors.

The Railway forwards failed to make use of several passes in the early stages, but in the last half-hour they were able to score two goals.

Defence overruled. The visitors were completely overruled in the second half, but they were able to score a second goal.

League Cup matches in new season
SCOTTISH senior football got under way on Saturday with the first matches of the League Cup competition a fortnight before the opening of the English season.

Main made conditions unpleasant at most games but among them the unexpected fashion with several surprises of Rangers by Hearts.

Hearts, a mere shadow of the great side of former years, showed the same falling away as they did last year, and a somewhat complete Hearts side then by the clear goals. Hearts forward C. Brown, who at a grand 25-yard drive in the 17th minute, scored the first goal.

Were on the mark
Hibernian, league champions for the past two seasons, were in the form of the apparently convincing margin of three goals.

Weather again thwarts
The rain, which was the cause of the postponement of the match, was again a factor in the defeat of the visitors.

A dream debut
The first of the new season was a dream debut for the new players, who were all in the form of the apparently convincing margin of three goals.

Salvo Cup Soccer
A special day of the 1933-34 season will be marked on the 11th of the month when the Scottish Football Association will hold its annual meeting at the Glasgow City Hall.

Ocean bed cable renewed

The international Cable and Wireless Company's direct cable between Freetown and London, Connaught and Harcourt Street, Dublin, has been completely renewed to service after nine years.

Messages were transmitted by Purchases and Insurance Company representatives on board the cable ship, Manoah, at midnight. Then the two ends of the cable were joined and the ship returned to the sea.

The cable was laid in 1937. Owing to the war it could not be repaired when cut in 1945, and after the cessation of the war, it was replaced by a new cable.

Overdrawbridge
Every day Malton labourers, watched by an R.A.F. M.C.O. being trilled, loaded with stone shuffling across the road and up to the walls of the fort. They push the central walking, but still old drawbridge, raising and still intact, and into the vaults below.

R.A.F. MEN GARRISON CENTURIES-OLD FORT

ABOVE the shallow limestone cliffs of Malta's rocky shore, tower the massive stone battlements of a 17th-century fort, built by the Knights of St. John - plagues by the threat of invasion from Europe and Asia - as one of a string of forts to stand vigil over the coasts of this strategic island.

Its stone walls, 30 feet thick, rise from a waterless pool. The arms of the Order of St. John are picked out in relief on the sun-baked facade.

But this is no desolate museum. For this well-used fort is now an R.A.F. storage installation. The fort commander is the first commander in the island since the Second World War, and the fort is now a museum.

When the North Atlantic Treaty nations met in Paris last month they will have before them an agenda which will be in large measure the product of the present outstanding problems facing them in Europe and what is important may involve a policy program for future collaboration in the defense of the Mediterranean and the Middle East.

TITO AND THE ROYAL CATHOLIC CHURCH

It is not at all surprising that the Vatican, in the course of its relations with the new Catholic Kingdom of Yugoslavia, has been particularly friendly to the new king, King Peter II. This is due to the fact that the Vatican has always been friendly to the Catholic Church in Yugoslavia, and the new king, King Peter II, is a Catholic.

SOLDIER-LAWYER WHO SHUNS THE LIMELIGHT

From His Own Correspondence

MAJOR-GENERAL WILLIAM DONOVAN, America's most picturesque soldier-hero, diplomat and lawyer, does not like the limelight. He has just won another big legal victory—in the Judicial Committee of the British Privy Council. But his name was scarcely mentioned in the proceedings, which concerned the two-year-old, million-pound case of 40 Chinese seamen in Hongkong.

Four of wars

In the 1914-18 war, a soldier he served a month of tough New York City Infantry Brigade of the British Division. It was the brigade which became very famous in the fighting. Major J. R. C. Milton expressed his admiration for the man who was so brave in the face of death. He was so that, in preparing the evidence, the Council had to find the numbers down to an absolute minimum for the reason. There would only be a comparatively small increase in the numbers, in fact.

A SUCCESS, SAID NAKURU MAGISTRATE

Chief visits European farms

The success of the probation system in Nakuru, with petty offenders working on the farms, was mentioned by the Senior Resident Magistrate, Mr. R. M. R. Easton, in a speech to members of the Rotary Club at the luncheon. Easton, he had referred to the "probation" system as a success, saying that it had helped to reduce the number of people charged with petty offences. He also mentioned that the system had helped to reduce the number of people charged with petty offences.

De-stocking

The purpose of the visit was not only to see some of the best farms in the district but also to get to know the European farmers. The purpose of the visit was not only to see some of the best farms in the district but also to get to know the European farmers.

Dr. Malan to fly over site for new port

From the Cape of Good Hope to Africa's Premier, Dr. Daniel Malan, who can conquer more without losing on someone's arm, is this morning flying an air trip over Zululand.

The Minister of Transport, Mr. Danie Malan, and the Minister of Lands, Mr. Johannes Beyers, are flying with him over Zululand, to see if it can be developed as a port to replace Durban, and to provide a new outlet for the Transvaal and Orange Free State.

And there is another reason for the high-profile mission. What is today a nothing more than a sandy bay with a few huts and a lighthouse, it would provide an outlet for the bulk of the coal and iron-ore exports of the Union.

Plans for an almost completed Cape Town. If the South Coast were closed, would be bound to handle without serious delay the monthly increase in shipping.

Success Bay, if developed as a port for a full line of shipping, would provide a new outlet for the coal and iron-ore exports of the Union.

When Dr. Malan flies over the bay he will examine the plans proposed for a full line of shipping, and will discuss the matter with the Minister of Lands, Mr. Johannes Beyers, and the Minister of Transport, Mr. Danie Malan.

A harbor is being established at Port Natal, the trade of the Port Natal is likely to be increased.

DROP IN PRICES FORECAST

British Government view — BUT ONLY IF WAGES STAY AT THEIR PRESENT LEVEL.

The British Government forecasts a drop in the cost of clothing and household goods, that Treasury experts think that this step in the cost of living is dependent on wages staying at their present level. The decline in the cost of materials at least partly and may be reduced over a period of months, from fruit and vegetables to kitchen ware and from coal and gas to many other commodities. Clothing and other manufactured goods for which cheaper materials may bring price cuts take together about 20 per cent of the money wage.
