Denial of life sentences on Kenya girls

GOVERNMENT REFUTES SOCIALIST CHARGES

ALLEGATIONS that African girls of 11 and 12 were sentenced to life sentences with hard labour, Kenya was refuted yesterday by a Kenya Government spokesman. The statements were made in the British Socialist weekly newspaper by a former rehabilitation officer in the Colony.

Writing in Tribune, Miss Helen Fletcher said: "I have known African children in British jails, sentenced to life sentences for possessing arms, and I have seen the children in the possession of ammunition. In a woman's prison, I have seen a young prisoner, including a girl of 12 years-old, who were all sentenced to life sentences with hard labour."

She said that the punishment for supposed Maoist activities was not as harsh as it was reported to be. She said that the girls were not sentenced to life sentences with hard labour, but to 10 years in the women's prison, and that they would be at least given a chance to work for their own living.

Work and discipline

Further work that will aid the rehabilitation work of the children was done for them beyond the usual work of the women's prison.

The Colonial Office spokesman said the article was "a gross distortion of the facts."

CYPRUS STAYING BY TO PREVENT RACE RIOTS

Cyprus village battle after murders

CYPRUS woke yesterday to its first Sunday since the Emergency began. British troops with Sten guns patrolled Nicosia to prevent race riots between Greeks and Turks in the village 12 miles east of the capital, in which two died and eight were injured.

SOMBRE REPORT LIKELY FROM THE GOVERNOR

THE trouble in the village of Amodia began last week when a Cypriot Turkish policeman was killed. Then on Saturday, Greeks from hamlets near by forced on parties and rained the village. They murdered a Turk on his motor-cycle, burned corn and barley crops and set fire to houses.

Baton charge on mob

THE Turks retaliated and hand-to-hand fighting with knives broke out. The usually sleepy hamlet was alive with the sound of gunfire as rioting mobs attacked each other in the night. One Greek was killed and most of the injured were Greek.

Strike causes train crash

Strike-poles were taken down in the vicinity of the railway station there and the train derailed. The train was carrying a large number of passengers and the crash caused considerable damage to the train and the station.

NEW NAKURU CENTRE DESIGNS

DESIGNS of murals depicting development in the Rift Valley to decorate Nakuru's new railway station will be open to public competition, the President of the Kenya Arts and Crafts Society, Lt-Col. R. B. Harcourt, told members at the society's annual meeting in Nairobi. The competition, sponsored by the East African Railway and Harbours Administration, will offer £200 in prizes.

Col. Harcourt stated that he was the hope of Mr. A. F. Kirby, the administration's general manager, that through this competition the murals would record not only the history of the indigenous population, the growth of farming and the development of transportation in the Rift Valley and the expansion of Nakuru as the centre of the farming community, but also examples of the work of a talented contemporary artist of East Africa.

£600 payment
There will be three prizes—£200, £300, £100 for the designs considered to best portray the development of the Province. In addition, £500 will be shared as payment to the person whose design is chosen for the murals. This person need not be the winner, as it is possible that the winning artist may not be in a position to carry out the work. The murals will form part of the décor of the Upper Class carriage and will be painted by the artist of his department and for the finished murals Mr. R. H. P. Robertson, and Mr. J. G. Robertson, will be in charge of the work. The designs will be sent to the East African Railway and Harbours Administration, Nairobi, for consideration. U.K.A.R. Mr. S. F. Stevens, secretary, P.O. Box 22, Nairobi, will be in charge of the work.

KENYA RAILWAY ENGINEER WINS U.S. AWARD

MR. D. M. S. FALGOUTER, assistant mechanical engineer in the chief mechanical engineer's office, has won the American Railway and Harbours, which has been awarded a Walter Schuchman Scholarship by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, for his design of a new type of engine for the railway.

Mr. Falgouter, who is currently on a tour of duty in the United States, will be visiting the U.S.A. and will be in the U.S.A. for a period of six months. He will be in the U.S.A. from June 1st to November 1st, 1956.

Herds of game - or

I WOULD like to make a few points in relation to the letter-press of wild life.

Obviously many people get killed or maimed for reasons and motives which are not understood. It is a pity that many of these people are not given the same consideration as the animals which are killed for their skins.

The land of game for game reserves is not a simple matter. It is a matter of the land which is available for the game, and the land which is available for the people. It is a matter of the land which is available for the game, and the land which is available for the people.

I can assure "Clare" that no letter of wild life, least of all the game reserves, are sent to the National Trust. It is a matter of the land which is available for the game, and the land which is available for the people.

I am sure that a herd of game is a herd of game. It is a matter of the land which is available for the game, and the land which is available for the people.

Finally, I am a farmer whose herd of game is a herd of game. It is a matter of the land which is available for the game, and the land which is available for the people.

Mr. Falgouter, who is currently on a tour of duty in the United States, will be visiting the U.S.A. and will be in the U.S.A. for a period of six months. He will be in the U.S.A. from June 1st to November 1st, 1956.

him were rather discouraging when we heard that he was not going to Africa. It is a pity that many of these people are not given the same consideration as the animals which are killed for their skins.

Could we have any explanation of the reasons for this? It is a matter of the land which is available for the game, and the land which is available for the people. It is a matter of the land which is available for the game, and the land which is available for the people.

The Government of China has launched a new campaign to win the allegiance and loyalty of 10,000,000 overseas Chinese settled in Southeast Asia. The Chinese Government would like to confirm this happy country by having its citizens have their legal status changed to "citizenship numbers" of the Republic of China. The Chinese Government has sent representatives to East Asia and the West Indies, and it is there that most rigorously are working.

AUSTRALIAN BATSMEN IN FORM AGAINST THE M.C.C.

England pace bowlers fail to subdue cavalier Harry

From LEN HUTTON, Lord's, Saturday

The Australians gave their toughest test of the 1956 tour at Lord's in a valiant effort to stem the M.C.C. tide which included seven men who have represented England in international cricket. It was they who lost the wicket of Ken Mackay with only four runs on the board. The Australian openers, facing the fastest double attack they have ever encountered on the test, found the opening overs really hostile from Loader and Miles.

Most particularly impressive was Harry's match-improved bowler since he came with the West Indians in 1954. He is faster, more bouncer and much more accurate.

Rutherford confident

The technique of Rutherford and Harvey in adapting themselves to the pace bowlers until they are completely comfortable allowed them to get on top of the attack. Rutherford, who had stridently settled down and played with more confidence than he has shown at any previous time on this tour.

Harvey, meanwhile, had come off the stool and was showing the stroke that was his specialty. He was in a class of his own when he was hit by a fast bowler and was delighted cricket lovers all over the world.

His overnight score made him the first Australian batsman to be hit by a fast bowler in the test. He was hit by a fast bowler in the test. He was hit by a fast bowler in the test.

Quins maintained their progressive lead by leading the match throughout, but Harlequins were able to score a goal, one try (8 points).

RESTIGINATION OF GREEK FOREIGN MINISTER

Moderate policy in Cyprus criticised

TURKISH LEADER REFERS TO MILITARY FORCE

A MEMBER of the Greek Cabinet, who recently returned Britain in protest against the resignation of Michael Karamalis as Premier, has today appointed Foreign Minister in place of Spyros Theotokis, who has resigned.

Mr. Theotokis had been criticised as a moderate in his policy of Opposition politicians and the Cypriot Community of the Greek Orthodox Church. He submitted his resignation on Sunday night and the Premier, Mr. Karamalis, announced its acceptance yesterday. The new Foreign Minister is Mr. Theotokis, who has a background in Agriculture, who returned British awards conferred on him by the British Ambassador, Sir Charles Freese, two weeks ago. He was sworn in yesterday.

Wart violence for year

On Cyprus yesterday British troops stood guard in Nicosia, Famagusta and other centres to keep Greeks and Turks apart after hand-to-hand fighting at Famagusta. The incident in the Turkish community in Cyprus, Dr. Padi Kutuch, said: "I most certainly believe that any wholesale attempt to annihilate the Turkish community in Cyprus will be met by military force from the west." He added that the situation in the island was "most critical."

Last week's violence was the first in Cyprus since the start of the year's start of violence in support of union with Greece. Eight people were killed and 69 wounded. The British were among the dead and 20 of these wounded were also British. The week also saw a series of clashes between the Greek and Turkish communities. The Greek community in Cyprus, Dr. Padi Kutuch, said: "I most certainly believe that any wholesale attempt to annihilate the Turkish community in Cyprus will be met by military force from the west." He added that the situation in the island was "most critical."

VIOLATION OF RIGHTS ALLEGED

Several observers in Athens believe that the Premier had decided to resign. Mr. Theotokis, who has been appointed Foreign Minister, is said to have been in London for several days. It is believed that he will be sworn in on Monday. The Greek community in Cyprus, Dr. Padi Kutuch, said: "I most certainly believe that any wholesale attempt to annihilate the Turkish community in Cyprus will be met by military force from the west." NAKURU HOUSING SHORTAGE PERSISTS

Influx of Asian artisans

SHORTAGE of housing in Nakuru, particularly for Asians and Africans, remains throughout 1958. The Medical Officer of Health, Dr. H. M. Arnell, comments in his annual report. She stated that the completion of 16 flats constructed for the Municipal Council and other housing being built by private developers under the supervision of Government, in which would have been done, relieves the European housing shortage.

The situation would further improve with the withdrawal of British Army units from the area. Dr. Arnell states that the considerable expansion of the town has attracted Asian immigrants from other parts of Kenya, accentuating the housing shortage. Only 20 dwellings were built during the year, whereas the actual need was about 200.

Rise in rents

The increased pressure on external accommodations has resulted in higher rents, an increase in the number of families living in single rooms, more overcrowding and an increased tendency to make use of unsatisfactory accommodations.

Little change had taken place in the African housing situation, for only 45 African quarters had been constructed in 1957, and only 45 in 1958. The Asian dwellings, together with a few flat quarters built by a private employer.

Housing programme

However, construction had begun on the third phase of the Municipal Authority's housing programme of 316 flats. (Just over half the buildings will be used to provide alternative accommodation for the rehoused by the Council next month).

BOOKS TO INSPIRE YOUR COOKING

by Muriel Penn

COOKERY book as a novel or as a book of short stories. This is how Clement Freud writes in Prudy, introducing this translation of L'Arenaria (English title, Clay) by G. G. Cichini, and from which I am quoting.

Recipes

More conventional, in the sense that it is a book of recipes, is the new and most original of Mrs. Prewer's Prudy, published by the Penguin Press's Fish Cookery Book, edited by Anthony Booth for Hutchinson & Co., London.

Revolutionary

This book contains many ideas which may well appear rather revolutionary to an English cook, with its serving-chemistry with rice, hard-boiled eggs, whose cooking is done in a special, mangled plastic, and a chicken sauce, a fish and a lobster sauce.

J. A. Stone and P. J. C. Hughes kept in their scorecard at Nairobi Control on Sunday, after completing the Coronation Safari course in their Ford Anglia, K4, with no loss of points to come first in Class "A".

Ford V8, K92, driven by J. Boys and R. N. Boble, comes in winner of Class "D" for the second year running. A victory well earned by this veteran of astronomical mileage against strong competition from modern cars.

Out of a total of 17 Ford entries, all completed the course, including K7, the 20-year-old Ford 10. In Class "A" the Ford Anglia took first and third places, Class "C" Ford Zodiac, K72, took second place in a highly competitive field, and Class "D" was won by the veteran Ford V8, K92, illustrated above.

BRIEFING MARKED START OF A RISING SPIRIT OF TENSION.

Final checks

The Coronation Safari finally begins the night before the cars moved off with little briefing of crews.

The interest of the public was obvious and long before 11 p.m. a number of spectators gathered outside the safari headquarters in Nairobi to watch the cars presented for inspection.

Some were bright and shrewd others looked as if they were guessing. It was a long time before the cars were driven on trials. Many drivers on teams who knew how to handle their machines got the starting test first by appeal.

There was an air of tension and excitement, the fine-tuning of petrol fumes and the thrum of individual engines as cars moved into position for acceleration on the expansion of concrete floor waiting to receive them.

As true next year

Around almost every competitor's car there was a cluster of positions men making final adjustments. In the Fiat 1100A driven by Mr. D. C. King and Mr. C. H. Little, the car was checked for oil, water, petrol, and the engine was started. The driver, Mr. P. C. Fitch, addressed the competitors.

His talk to them was worth recording for what it will be the true test of the year. It was this, he pointed out, that was the test of the year. It was the test of the year. It was the test of the year. It was the test of the year.

On Sunday morning 79 of the 90 competitors were still in the Safari. Additional retirement were K54, a Fiat 1100, which drove out at 10 p.m. through all pressure troubles. The car was driven by Mr. D. C. King and Mr. C. H. Little. It was followed by K55, the Fiat 1100A driven by Mr. D. C. King and Mr. C. H. Little. It was followed by K56, the Fiat 1100A driven by Mr. D. C. King and Mr. C. H. Little.

The expected deterioration in the weather during Saturday night had not materialized and drivers, on the whole, had an easier time of it than expected. The Coronation Safari standards, the Kampala-Isiama-Karimo stretch proved difficult and it was here that nearly 50 cars were retired and a fairly early return of the majority of the starters.

Route a 'proving ground' for production cars

PRaise BY MR. GATSONIDES

THE AFRICA's Coronation Safari was described by Mr. Maurice Gatsonides as a proving ground for production cars which with the possible exception of the Australasia, is second to none in the world. In an interview, he offered suggestions for improving the Safari, described his own experiences in a "proving ground" which he had visited in the past.

Mr. Gatsonides said he had been asked by the secretary of the competition committee, Mr. J. W. Mason, for subject matter suggestions for improving the Safari. He mentioned his recommendations that there should be two intermediate aviation stops on the route over east Africa for this and one for East Western, with about a five per cent difference between them.

He would suggest, also, that the question of including full details of a speed test over a stretch of road, such as the one mentioned from Gerties to Nakuru, should be proposed. This would enable the driver to be timed on the road and not, as had happened this year, on the road track.

SAYING that he had enjoyed the safari immensely, Mr. Gatsonides said he hoped to return to East Africa next year. He said that the organization of the safari was of a satisfactory

Accuracy of clocks

REMARKS were made regarding the accuracy of the timepieces used by the competitors at the end of the race. Mr. Gatsonides said, "The clocks were regularly corrected before the start. By the two accurate timepieces used to my regret, the cars were the clocks were the most accurate out of the two."

Radio gave the full story

A N exceptionally good job of covering the Coronation Safari was carried out by the Forces Broadcasting Service, which supplied the public with an up-to-the-minute commentary of every phase of the competition.

Listeners there were 11 commentators, over 14 and 15 minutes. A good coverage of the race was provided by the Forces Broadcasting Service, which supplied the public with an up-to-the-minute commentary of every phase of the competition.

FOR THE Forces programme, an R.E.A.A. commentator, Mr. Lambert, was one of the most popular. He was heard throughout the race, from the start to the finish. He was heard throughout the race, from the start to the finish. He was heard throughout the race, from the start to the finish.

SPEED TESTS AT NAKURU PARKS

The toughness of modern cars, particularly the smaller British and Continental models, was shown by the speeds they attained at the Nakuru Park motor racing circuit on Sunday immediately after they had completed a grueling 200-mile trip over some of East Africa's most trying roads.

Many of the cars still appeared to be in 100-100 mechanical condition and the Fiat 1100, the smallest car of the trial, flitted round the finishing pole in 4 min. 58.5 sec. The speed and excitement of the race were far from over, with the cars still plenty of interest in the efforts of drivers to knock off the odd second from their race-try time.

Experience counted
Those of the Ford Anglia, K21 K2 and K3, driven by C. P. P. and T. J. McClellan, J. A. Stone and C. C. Hughes and T. Brooke and W. C. F. Thargan, had strong feelings they set the track pace for the other cars in Class D. The first six rounds were well handled by the operator, the first time of 1 min. 54.4 sec, which would be good enough to take the honors in that class. Experience and knowledge of the Nakuru track probably favoring them to take the lead in the circuit in 1 min. 52.8 sec, after a few more laps had completed. It became obvious that no one else was likely to beat on better.

The Austin 12 returned once at 1 min. 55.8 sec and this was better by 502 mm of the - the Daimler LP 500 (W. D. McKelvie and T. J. Norton), which clocked 1 min. 51.4.

Competition keener
The smaller cars, such as Morris Minor, and the Austin A20, found it a little too much for the circuit, and several retired after a few laps. The latter were not covered by the K and D. The first 12 in 2 min. 12 sec.

Competitive in Class E was keener, but here again experience told and the car which beat the line set up by E. C. W. R27 (1 min. 43.8 sec), J. R. Manning and D. Christie beat with 1 min. 47.8. The car which lost to the other Fiat when he clocked at 1 min. 51.1 sec, and everyone was surprised when the Fiat in K23 drove at the fraction of the second and was able to set far more experienced rivals.

The fastest 1000cc class in 1 min. 22 sec, respectively.

Class winner for second year in a veteran car

The winning car in Class D, eight-year-old Ford V8, driven by J. Boyes, with R. H. Noble as navigator, taken a brand at speed during the speed trial at Nakuru. It covered the circuit in 1 min. 48.2 sec. BELOW: A winning semi from Mr. Boyes after leaving Class D for the second consecutive year.

NEWSPAPERSMEN on safari have to cover events such as the Coronation Safari from the dining room, but a number of the crews of U.S. & Simca Acrodes from Kampala 1 was able to see this East African motorizing classic from the competitor's point of view.

The first stretch, 104 miles from Kampala to Mwanasa, was very shimmering in the sun, but it was not so rough since surface and finish was very good. It was possible to get caught out in the middle of the night when the mileage was 191 - the 100000 mile station - the 100000 mile run to Arusha - was a good test for a car. It was a very easy and successful run for the first 100 miles.

Propaganda
Two issues have been raised by the Government in Kenya Legislative Council. One was the appointment of a sub-committee with authority to coordinate the requirements of the political warfare; the other who will disseminate information. The second party to be blamed for recent events is being removed from the Chief Press Officer in particular, because they are the confidence of various correspondents and have their own information on the practical problems of their reporting activities. The danger inherent in the P.R. officer (the Chief Press Officer) and an auxiliary department of the Government, charged with an agency for information, Press and Publicity, contacts between accredited Press and Publicity officers and a propaganda medium, is that the P.R. officer will be a "marginal" person, not a member of the staff, and will be a "marginal" person, not a member of the staff, and will be a "marginal" person, not a member of the staff.

They Envy To Beat

The Tax Man

By ALAN MASON

ONE of the inescapable facts of modern life and progress is that low as prices continue to rise—and they are rising in every country—their whole-income tax seems to rise proportionately.

As long as people are made to pay higher and higher taxes, they will continue to look for legal ways to evade them. This has led to the development of a vast and intricate network of tax avoidance schemes, many of which are now being used by the millions of people who are subject to income tax.

It is pointed out from many sources that the tax man is not so much a villain as he is often portrayed. In fact, he is a man who is often misunderstood and who is often the victim of the very schemes which he is trying to prevent.

The reason for this is that the tax man is often the only person who is able to see through the various schemes which are devised to evade the tax. He is the only person who is able to see the whole picture and who is able to see the consequences of the various schemes.

All schemes being used to evade the tax are based on the fact that the tax man is often the only person who is able to see through the various schemes which are devised to evade the tax. He is the only person who is able to see the whole picture and who is able to see the consequences of the various schemes.

IT MAY NOT HELP YOU

HOUSEHOLD bills which appear to be paid from time to time, but which are in fact being paid by the tax man, are a source of much trouble to the taxpayer.

In other words, the value of the money is being lost to the taxpayer. This is because the tax man is often the only person who is able to see through the various schemes which are devised to evade the tax.

FASHIONED IN LONDON

Dressed For The Holidays

By Dorothy Barkley

THIS is the time of year when everyone seems to be planning holidays. Overseas visitors are already arriving in town for the opening season and Londoners themselves are on the move.

What kind of clothes designers suggest for travel and the off-duty year, this year? The answer is that they offer two distinct, the first is the classic, which has been repeated in various forms, and the second is the more modern, which is a feminine, practical, and in a word, the most useful of all.

The informal styles which are in vogue in London are of a type which are particularly well suited to the needs of the traveller. They are of a type which are particularly well suited to the needs of the traveller.

When it comes to creating fashions, designers have turned towards the informal and have again the first and the most popular. One designer who shows how the informal style can be just as grand as the formal style is the French designer, who has shown how the informal style can be just as grand as the formal style.

A clean pair of heels

THAT'S what you see of the Ford Anglia - particularly in heavy traffic. Drivers of larger cars watch carefully as the responsive, manoeuvrable Anglia slips in and out, taking full advantage of its compact size and quick pick-up.

On the open road, the Anglia handles perfectly. Its pulling power on hills is really surprising, and whatever the speed, whatever the conditions, the Anglia holds the road like a strapping young man.

In passenger comfort, the Anglia is practically a big car. Wide opening doors, the front windows, ample legroom and comfortable foam rubber seats that give both front and rear passengers a sense of freedom on the open road.

Finally, a very important point - the low purchase price, and from the day the car is yours, you continue to save on petrol, engine running costs and maintenance. Why not go down to Hughes and test-drive an Anglia now?

P.S. The light handling Anglia is making it top favourite among the British.

TOURISTS STAGE BATTING REVIVAL AGAINST M.C.C.

But illness and injuries strike down seven players

From LEN HUTTON, Lord's, Monday

NEW life and confidence has come into this 1956 Australian side as a result of their batting revival in the form continues. English bowlers are going to have to do a tremendous amount of work this summer, particularly in the world power hitting this century.

The tourists, particularly the bowlers, were disappointed to find that the tourists' batting revival was not as long as they had hoped. The Australian batsmen were not as well as they had hoped. Room for improvement

Quaker repeats 'children in prison' charges

ANSWER TO KENYA COMMENT

MISS EILEEN FLETCHER, a Quaker who worked as a rehabilitation officer in Kenya, reiterated her criticisms of conditions for African girl detainees at a meeting of Members of Parliament and reporters in London. She was replying to a Kenya Government comment on her criticisms.

Replying to the Government comment that "female juveniles are under the special care of the available officers," she said: "I was in the camp at Kamiti, she said, whenever good food and pleasant weather is particularly heartening to know that Dry Monopole is still awarded the highest award by these boards and because whose guests drink in character and sophistication though they may have no mind to a sense of value and the possession of a truly distinguished taste."

She said that the girls were not given any rehabilitation work and that they were not allowed to see their families and were not allowed to work. She said that she had resigned after a month, and was now a rehabilitation officer who worked half time and whose only qualification was that she spoke Kiswahili.

"For the three months during which I was working out my notice the department was unable to find anyone to take my place."

Worked 12 months

Miss Fletcher continued: "I worked 12 months and was willing to stay on had any of the three schemes for rehabilitation work which I put forward been accepted."

"I would not agree to work under the command of the prison because of the conditions that exist there," she said. "The girls are not given any rehabilitation work and are not allowed to see their families and are not allowed to work."

She said that she had resigned after a month, and was now a rehabilitation officer who worked half time and whose only qualification was that she spoke Kiswahili.

Antenna report

Col. Baillie said the Foreign Office had received a report from the East African Governments regarding the girls in the prisons. He said that the girls were not given any rehabilitation work and that they were not allowed to see their families and were not allowed to work.

It is to be hoped that the authorities will take due notice of the plea of warning that is voiced in your editorials. plan by F.I.P.

AIM OF CO-OPERATION
THROUGH SEGREGATION

FREEDOM from the continually recurring crises which have beset Kenya for many years is claimed by the F.I.P. plan for Kenya. The party states in a pamphlet issued yesterday that the only way to achieve this is through co-operation through segregation.

The overall aim is the security of the European and the welfare of the indigenous African. Under the plan, the Colony would be rearranged geographically into a number-five suggested provinces.

The Government of the proposed provinces would be responsible for the welfare of the people within their respective areas. The plan also provides for the establishment of a central authority to coordinate the activities of the provinces.
