WHAT NOISE ANNOYS NAIROBI?

Suggestion That Needless Hooting Be Abated

Municipal inspectors had, in the last three months, done very little work in connection with enforcing the traffic by-laws. He added that the noise of motor traffic in Nairobi is the outcome of war and is estimated to be about 80 per cent. more than before the war.

Mr. A. C. Tanshall then proposed this motion, which read:— That this Council be of the opinion that the abolition of the use of horns on motor vehicles is desirable within the Nairobi Municipal area and that therefore the Nairobi Municipal Council should take steps to institute with the view of obtaining the necessary Ordinance which would be approved by the Council...

PRISONER-NOT PROTEGE King Leopold Vindicated

Today being Belgium's National Day it is appropriate to recall and to emphasize not only that King Leopold still reigns as King of the Belgians but also that he has been an opponent of the Nazis, but that criminal purpose of British and American propaganda is to paint a picture of King Leopold as a pro-Nazi and a pro-fascist.

After all the outbursts and ill-considered remarks which surrounded King Leopold's consequent upon the revision of the Belgian Constitution of 1934, it is significant that the King has been an opponent of the Nazis, but that criminal purpose of British and American propaganda is to paint a picture of King Leopold as a pro-Nazi and a pro-fascist.

After all the outbursts and ill-considered remarks which surrounded King Leopold's consequent upon the revision of the Belgian Constitution of 1934, it is significant that the King has been an opponent of the Nazis, but that criminal purpose of British and American propaganda is to paint a picture of King Leopold as a pro-Nazi and a pro-fascist.

Another aspect of the traffic question was touched upon by Mr. H. P. General's 'Thank You' GREAT TRIBUTE TO GOLD COAST BRIGADE. (From George Kinloch, the Assistant Quartermaster, 1st African Force)

This is not probably the last article I shall write about the part which the Gold Coast Brigade played in the East African Campaign and I cannot, therefore, do better than put on record the tribute which the British Commanders of the 12th African Division paid in a special Order to those cheerful and courageous soldiers from the Gold Coast Colony whose story it has been a pleasure to tell.

The Gold Coast Brigade fought gallantly in the engagements at El Wak, Geddi and the close crossing of the river, and it was from Napsheet to Umplo in Southern Abyssinia that the Gold Coast Brigade were the first to enter the line of operations...

General's Tribute. Here the text of the Order which was addressed to the Brigade. Commanding the 12th (African) Division, Major-General A. H. Gordon...

AN ALTERNATIVE
To the Editor, "E.A. Standard"
Sir:—I am glad to note in your weekly edition that the East African Standard is able to the aid of a General Election taking place in the country in the near future. It is clearly difficult for the present Elected Members themselves to recommend to Government an extension of their own tenure of office. Convention would be a suitable body to do this but Convention called in time could claim to be representative of public opinion any more than a new lot of Elected Members. It is therefore urgent necessary that public opinion should be expressed through the press in the most important matter before it to be taken.

WOMEN'S DRESS IN KENYA: A VISITOR'S CRITICISM
To the Editor, "E.A. Standard"
Sir:—I have been a visitor to your country, I must say that I am struck by the dress in Nairobi. It is a striking thing that the women who are seen in Nairobi are dressed in a manner which is not only in accordance with the fashion of the day, but also in accordance with the fashion of the day. Drink a Lime Juice. This is a Pure Lime Juice made from fresh, gathered locally grown fruit. In other words drink "SUNAK".

Here is the opinion of one of the well-known local physicians:

"I have examined the contents of a bottle known to me as 'SUNAK' and I am of opinion that it is a pure product."

are aware that I referred to marriage in his scheme, but Mr. Wilson with the evidence before him had every reason to take the risk as he did in his letter of the 11th inst., and I hope he will be able to do for the students at my flight and accept responsibility for the result. The fault was mine. Yours etc. GILBERT WALKER. Nairobi, July 17, 1941.

A. H. WARDLE & Co. Ltd. Phonograph NAIROBI. African Art Museum THURSDAY, JULY 29, 1941. Broadcast Programmes

From time to time correspondents formulate about the quality of East African broadcast programmes. Occasionally ranging further afield, they also criticise the British Broadcasting Corporation, which has recently been charged with including too high a proportion of doubtful jokes in its variety programmes, and thereby lowering the moral reputation of the great British Public.

There are however others. They have a regard for the Masters of Music. They do not mind what nationality the composer is, how German or Italian, if he wrote music that squares with their view of what a Master, involved should properly inspire. And, of course, they are right. No narrow nationalistic concepts affect their taste. It belongs to all the human race, unaffected by international ambitions or disputes or racial bitterness.

Not all of us have that appreciation of the universal speech, the vehicle of emotion and of thought. Ruskin contended that unless music exalted and purified the soul, it was not music. He said that it was the "movement of sound, such as will reach the soul for the education of its virtues."

At tomorrow's luncheon of the Nairobi Rotary Club the address will be given by Richard D. Philip and his subject will be "How the Government will be using the radio for the benefit of the people." It is hoped that the speaker will not only give a good account of the radio but also of the possibilities of the radio in the future.

kind of entertainment they think they want at the particular time they wish, they can generally search elsewhere and leave others to the enjoyment of them. The management of the Nairobi Station is at great pains to put its touch with public opinion and has a large letter-bag on programme problems. Their present-day selections are based on what their customers have written in criticism or suggestion if they want to test still further, they might originate a better programme. A change in East Africa on the question of broadcast programmes would be of no great interest, though we do not think that our customers would mind with the balance of our radio fare except, as we have said, when the value and interest of, and even persistence for some things which pass today under that all-embracing word "entertainment."

At the Pageant of Youth next Saturday, the Governor will be presented to the women by Lady Home, the top lady.

At tomorrow's luncheon of the Nairobi Rotary Club the address will be given by Richard D. Philip and his subject will be "How the Government will be using the radio for the benefit of the people." It is hoped that the speaker will not only give a good account of the radio but also of the possibilities of the radio in the future.

ZANZIBAR AND PROFITS TAX. (STANDARD) CORRESPONDENT. Mr. Mundy, the Income Tax Commissioner, has published on July 25 and 26 a notice in the Zanzibar Standard regarding the profits tax on the Zanzibar Islands.

UNDER THE STARD. The method proposed by the Government for granting exemption to members of the Muslim community is that applications should be referred to the District Commissioner, who will then refer the matter to the Provincial Commissioner, who will then refer the matter to the Government and would either return to grant or refuse.

 The Daily Mirror tells the following dramatic story:
 He was a young rear-gunner who had labored out from a blazing plane and landed in a field.
 She was a Polish Jewess, wife of a famous aviator who had suffered Hindler's persecutions, and had been banished from Vienna by the Gestapo. Welcome by friends in England, she is today caring for the baby daughter of people who gave her sanctuary.
 Just before dawn broke they met for the first time in the drawing-room of a villa "somewhere in England." Carried into the villa by a fire watcher when he had just surrendered his revolver, the airman stared at the young face of the woman from Vienna.

He Shoulders

She shouldered the Nazi shield.
 Then he held out a photograph humbly to the woman his nation had chosen so much pain. It was a picture of his wife, and in a parenthesis his child. The woman did not take the photograph.
 "No—I know what was passing through that man's mind," she said afterwards. "I could see he was afraid what might become of him. Then all the horror of the past months came surging over him. It was possessed by terrible fury."
 He put his hands to his head, explaining that he had hurt himself in his fall.
 "Someone I managed to overcome the impulse to tell him that he and his kind were fit for nothing but to be left to the dogs. Then quietly he said I was sorry he was hurt and told him of the other men's wives and babies massacred by German bombs."
 The airman struggled but she shouldered.

official statements made at the time of her completion the Gortia was pronounced to be a most successful attack by the exceptional extent of their fighting subdivisions. Her engines and boilers were in seven places.
 "She was not the first Italian submarine to be intercepted by a British submarine," the correspondent adds. "On March 6 one of the Colcock type was sunk in similar circumstances. On April 3 of last year the German cruiser Karlsruhe was torpedoed and sunk by the H.M. submarine Trent in the Biscayas."

HIS OWN PILOT
 Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur Longmore, Middle East Air Commander-in-Chief, pilots his own civil type monoplane when visiting the many R.A.F. stations in his widespread circuit.

Italy Left With Three Cruisers

"Of the seven large Italian gun cruisers with which Italy entered the sea-well completed between 1923 and 1924, there are now only three left," writes the naval correspondent of The Times, commenting on the sinking of the Italian 10,000 ton cruiser Gortia, by a British submarine.
 The Daily Telegraph's naval correspondent declares that the Gortia was the surviving ship of a class of four cruisers launched between 1923 and 1924. All the other three were sunk by a British submarine at Matapan, on March 28.
 "Each ship," the correspondent adds, "was armed with eight 8-inch and twelve 3.8-inch guns and carried two aircraft. On their displacement speed of 25 knots was exceeded by a vast amount. According to (Continued in previous column.)"

New Financial Secretary Of Kenya

Mr. L. Tester, who has been Financial Secretary of Tanganyika Territory since August, last year, has been appointed to succeed Mr. C. R. Lockhart as Financial Secretary of Kenya.
 Mr. Lockhart becomes Financial Secretary of Nigeria, but the date on which he will leave for West Africa has not yet been fixed. It is understood that Mr. Tester's transfer to this Colony will not be effected immediately.
 Mr. L. Tester, who is 50 years of age, was Treasury Assistant in Nigeria, in 1931, having served in the war from 1915 to 1919 and being awarded the Military Cross. In 1930 he became Chief Accountant of the Nigerian F.W.D. and two years later, in July 1932, he was appointed Treasurer of Mauritius, acting as Chief Secretary of that Colony in 1934.
 In November, 1934, he was appointed to the joint post of Treasurer and Comptroller of Customs of Zanzibar and was Currency Officer in 1936. During his term of office in Zanzibar, Mr. Tester acted as Chief Secretary for various periods, in 1935-7 and was Deputy Secretary and then Resident of the Protectorate on various occasions in 1937-38. When the Colonial Secretariate reorganisation was brought into effect, he was appointed Financial Secretary of Northern Rhodesia in April, 1938, and was appointed Financial Secretary of Tanganyika Territory on August 9, 1940.
 Mr. C. R. Lockhart, who has been Financial Secretary of Kenya Colony since February, 1940, is 49 years of age and entered the Colonial Ser-

Egyptian Views On Syria

Cairo, July 17.
 The fact that they legged it so quickly out of Syria when they knew the game was up is now being used by the Axis as "proof" that the Germans never were there at all—despite the presence of a number of wrecked Nazi planes in Palmyra. This is all fact merely another example similar to that provided by the Nazis in their effort to undo the British and the Greeks. They do not risk a fight unless their numbers are overwhelming. Whereas in Iraq Haschid Ali was betrayed although they had promised him their support, in Syria there is every reason to believe for Hitler's behavior, the recent German blood being spilled. It has been noted here, moreover, that the Nazis have to see their own argument out against them, for after the Hitlerian claims in the Allied moves, the Nazi Fuehrer had now seen himself forestalled; and although Nazi propaganda are at the moment displaying a comparative degree of silence as regards Syria, there is every reason to believe that they are as tart as about this as they are about Iceland.
 Nazi Depredations
 A paragraph appearing in the Arab Press, published last night depicts the enthusiastic welcome which the Allied troops in Beyrut, where the cities were accepted as the Germans and Italians robbed us of, but the British are bringing us everything we need" and he recalled how in Iraq, during their stay in Iraq, food had been put in order to give to the Nazi armies in Syria.
 Indignation is still hot against the Germans in Syria over the burning of the financial aid of the Allies which was accepted at the open door for Nazi aggression against the Middle East. That he would have been half from those of Palestine and Egypt, and how only the Libyan half remains. "The Germans may try to report in Syria what they did in Crete," declares the paper, "but if so, they will be met by the Allied forces, which are here far stronger than they were formerly."

A Royal Visitor

JOHANNESBURG.—A great interest has been shown in the visit of the King of the Orange Free State to the Union Government. The King arrived in the city on July 23, and was met by a large party of officials and members of the public. He was accompanied by his wife, the Queen, and a large number of courtiers. The King's visit is the first since his accession to the throne in 1934. He is expected to stay in the city for several days, during which he will be engaged in a number of public appearances. He will also be accompanied by a large number of his courtiers, including the Duke of Edinburgh, the Duke of York, and the Duke of Gloucester. The King's visit is being received with great enthusiasm by the people of the Orange Free State, and it is expected that it will be a most successful one.

REPORT OF BROADCASTING COMMISSION

WHILE THE past fortnight has been devoted to the report of the Broadcasting Commission, the Commission has been busy with its work. The Commission has received a number of reports from the various broadcasting stations, and it is expected that it will issue its final report in the near future. The Commission's work is of great importance, as it is responsible for the regulation of the broadcasting industry. It is expected that the Commission's report will be of great interest to the public, as it will provide a detailed account of the current state of the broadcasting industry and the Commission's recommendations for its improvement.

ONE OF OUR GREATEST STRATEGISTS SHOWS THE WAY TO VICTORY

THE world is waiting for the next move of the great strategist, Adolf Hitler. His actions in the past have shown him to be a man of great vision and courage. He has led his people to victory in the most difficult of circumstances, and he is now leading them to a new and greater triumph. His strategy is simple but effective, and it is this that has made him one of the greatest leaders of our time. We must follow his lead if we are to achieve our own goals and secure our future.

GEORGI SLOMBICE introduces: GENERAL ILKOWSKI, the Polish Prisoner of War, returned to Britain after a visit to the United States Department of War.

GENERAL ILKOWSKI, the Polish Prisoner of War, returned to Britain after a visit to the United States Department of War. He has brought back with him a wealth of information and experience, and he is now sharing this with the British public. His visit is a testament to the courage and resilience of the Polish people, and it is a source of great inspiration for all of us. We must learn from his example and continue to fight for our freedom and our future.

The Next Stage

THE next stage of the war is now being reached. The Allies are making great progress, and it is only a matter of time before we will see the final victory. We must continue to support our brave soldiers and sailors, and we must remain united in our determination to win. The end of the war is in sight, and we must all do our part to bring it about as soon as possible. Let us all join together and fight for a better and more peaceful world.

It is believed that the counter-attack will be led by the German High Command, and it is expected that it will be a most successful one. The German High Command has been planning this counter-attack for some time, and it is now ready to launch it. The German High Command has a number of advantages, and it is expected that it will be able to overcome the Allied forces. The German High Command is confident of its success, and it is now preparing to launch its counter-attack.

"V" IS FOR VICTORY

IN the lands which were once the domain of the Vichy regime, the "V" is now a symbol of victory. The German High Command has been planning this counter-attack for some time, and it is now ready to launch it. The German High Command has a number of advantages, and it is expected that it will be able to overcome the Allied forces. The German High Command is confident of its success, and it is now preparing to launch its counter-attack.

AN INTERESTING ADVERTISEMENT IN THE OCCUPATION COUNTRIES.

AN interesting advertisement has appeared in the occupation countries. It is an advertisement for a new product, and it is expected that it will be of great interest to the public. The advertisement is in German, and it is written in a very interesting and persuasive style. It is expected that it will be a success, and it is now being distributed in the occupation countries.

How can we do this? Obviously not by force.

HOW can we do this? Obviously not by force. We must use our brains and our resources to overcome our enemies. We must be creative and resourceful, and we must be able to think for ourselves. We must not be afraid to take risks, and we must not be afraid to die for our freedom and our future. We must all do our part, and we must all fight for a better and more peaceful world.

NO PERMITS TODAY

NO permits today for the sale of certain goods. This is due to the shortage of these goods, and it is expected that it will continue for some time. The government has decided to restrict the sale of these goods to those who have a genuine need for them. This is a necessary measure, and it is expected that it will be successful. We must all do our part, and we must all fight for a better and more peaceful world.

There will probably be an attack on Gibraltar by the Germans. It is expected that the attack will be launched in the near future, and it is expected that it will be a most successful one. The German High Command has been planning this attack for some time, and it is now ready to launch it. The German High Command has a number of advantages, and it is expected that it will be able to overcome the Allied forces. # CONVERSATION PIECE

"It matters not how many skilled workers it has, but how many unskilled workers it has." This is a statement that is often made by those who are opposed to the immigration of unskilled workers. They argue that the immigration of unskilled workers will lead to a decline in the standards of living, and that it will lead to a loss of jobs for the skilled workers. However, there are a number of reasons why this is not necessarily true. First, the immigration of unskilled workers can lead to a number of benefits, including a lower cost of goods and services, and a higher standard of living. Second, the immigration of unskilled workers can lead to a number of jobs for the skilled workers, as they can take over the more menial jobs, and the skilled workers can move up to more skilled jobs. Therefore, the immigration of unskilled workers is not necessarily a bad thing, and it is something that we should consider carefully.

It is a very strange coincidence that I have just read a book which is very similar to the one that I have just mentioned. The book is called "The Art of Conversation" and it is written by a man who is a very well-known expert on the subject. The book is very interesting and it is a must-read for anyone who is interested in the art of conversation. It contains a number of tips and tricks that will help you to become a more successful conversationalist. I highly recommend this book to all of my readers.

It is a very interesting fact that the word "conversation" is derived from the Latin word "conversari", which means "to converse" or "to talk". This is a very interesting fact, and it is one that we should all know. It is a reminder that conversation is a very important part of our lives, and that it is something that we should all strive to do well at. We should all take the time to learn the art of conversation, and we should all use it to our advantage. It is a skill that is essential for success in life, and it is something that we should all strive to master.

WORSKI SPEAKING:

WHILE most important single factor affecting the way is the changing attitude of the United States. After my discussions with President Roosevelt and many other American leaders, I am convinced that the United States will soon be committed to the defeat of Hitler and Himmler, and I trust my own views are reflected in some measure to this.

BURNING CHARCOAL

The material used is half dry waste or other poles varying in diameter from 1 1/2 inches to 3 inches and cut into lengths from 4 ft. to 9 ft. as straight as possible. The trees should be dug out as the stump gives the hardest and heaviest charcoal.

All the material should be trimmed clean to allow close packing. This bark is removed, stripping the bark while it is dry on the ground. Every drying process is burning. If some sticks are very green and some very dry they should be mixed evenly. The material should be packed in a layer 12 inches thick. This layer may be tramped and set up into suitable lengths, varying from 2 to 3 ft. to be used as packing and the material. These should be built up.

Building the Stack. The stack when built is roughly of the shape of a square, the sides being on its flat surface. The sides for the stack should be covered and be packed with green sticks, especially at the front.

The fire may be started with a small fire of brush or other material. The fire should be started at the front end of the stack and allowed to burn until it reaches the rear end. The fire should be started at the front end of the stack and allowed to burn until it reaches the rear end.

end so that the turf covering does not collapse easily when the fire is burning.

When the stack is being built and when finished it should be a little distance, give the impression that it consists of long poles laid with their ends at the rear end, actually, it is made of rougher sticks, and the ends is lower in level.

During the burning no new large logs should be added. The hand should be kept well under the stack. When the stack is built it is covered with a layer of brush or other material. The stack should be covered with a layer of brush or other material.

SIGING FOR VICTORY. Part I. "V" for VEGETABLES

by MARGARET MALCOMSON.

It is surprising to find how many garden-minded people there are who have never devoted any of their time to the art of vegetable growing. The present world war has, however, caused owners of plots to recognise the value of growing economic crops rather than those for pictorial effect only, and there are many who would like to join the company of those who "dig for victory" but who do not know how to set about it.

The following hints may help them. To begin with, mark off a part of your garden which you would like to devote to vegetable growing, and divide it into beds. The beds should be raised on a level surface, and the soil should be well prepared. The beds should be raised on a level surface, and the soil should be well prepared.

When the soil has been thoroughly dug—divide it into three or four equal parts. This is the best method of soil preparation. The soil should be well prepared. The beds should be raised on a level surface, and the soil should be well prepared.

Have it cleared off all old stumps—collect all stones and set Kjerfvee's Rammers to dig up with such complete the "thangar" or rough ground, which is left to be cleared up. The soil should be well prepared. The beds should be raised on a level surface, and the soil should be well prepared.

One other feature in the making of a home garden is that of the fencing. The fence should be well prepared. The beds should be raised on a level surface, and the soil should be well prepared.

What you would like for your garden is a good vegetable garden. The soil should be well prepared. The beds should be raised on a level surface, and the soil should be well prepared.

AN IMPROVED IMPLEMENT FOR USE AND COMPOST-MAKING

The following article was written by J. D. Scott recently for Farming in South Africa, and published later in the African Agricultural Journal. Though it refers to districts where there is a greater difference between one season and another than there is in this country, the suggestion for improvement to land crops may well prove useful to local settlers.

WHO BUILT THE FIRST CONTOUR RIDGES?

By A. AYLEN, Irrigation Department of Southern Rhodesia (from the Rhodesian Agricultural Journal).

Whether or not the Inyangas terraces are linked with Zimabwe and other ancient ruins scattered over Rhodesia, it is the purpose of this article to advance arguments on the controversy. EXTENSION OF WHEAT PRODUCTION

To the Editor, "A Standard" - Sir: On July 17, 1941, I wrote you about the subject of wheat growing, but I did not explain to you the full extent of the cooperative scheme in which I am engaged, and the reasons why I am engaged in it.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

["Automated" and "Fraternally" Antipathy] Narvo. You have both missed the point, which is that the Government is not prepared to accept any plan which is not based on the principles of the Government's policy.

(i) Greater amount of machinery, implements and labor at greater cost to the farmer. (ii) There exists a shortage of farmers, farm managers and in many places a shortage of labor. (iii) Shortage of suitable tractors and high cost of maintenance. (iv) Shortage of trained men. (v) Shortage of suitable tractors and high cost of maintenance.

TRADERS' LIBRARIES

To the Editor, "A Standard" - I am glad to see in the "African Standard" that the Government has decided to hold a general election in the Colony.

It is to be expected that the Government will nominate a number of members to the Legislative Council, and it is to be expected that the members of the Legislative Council will be elected by the people of the Colony.

A Bachelor's Plan

SATURDAY, JULY 13, 1941. It takes a lot of courage to be a bachelor... in a world where so much has been done to make men believe that the quality of men, and a bit over, the slightest man will find...

It was a woman who wrote this. That's what a man who writes in a wife, mostly: you want to make sure of it. One will tell her...

When his story came in this week, a sub-editor with great sympathy promptly laid it on the "back burner" and he is not a particularly successful bachelor...

So it was a great idea, born under the tranquility of Entebbe, that persuaded this man to make his own particular contribution...

As a matter of fact, the wise Ugandan is no fool. He knows ahead of time that he is not a bachelor who is not a bachelor with this world is best...

But the law, in the form of municipal by-laws—for it is almost impossible to enforce a law—can help to a considerable extent. For example the motor-car should be fitted with a horn...

THE EAST AFRICA FORCE A Campaign In Retrospect. TUESDAY, JULY 23, 1941. The Italian propaganda machine has been busy in the last few days...

What are the facts? So far as the East Africa Force is concerned, it never at any time consisted of more than 20,000 men. At no time did it have more than 10,000 men in the field...

The Nairobi Municipal Council has introduced a system of traffic inspection by what are called "Control Cops." It should be part of their duty to deal with flagrant cases of traffic noise. Warnings, officially given, should be given to every car...

It would be a great credit to the Nairobi Municipal Council if an appeal were sufficient in a matter of this kind. But it is not. Civilian and soldier alike are lacking in consideration and nothing except the threat of proceedings will induce them to mend their ways...

JAPAN Flirting With War? WEDNESDAY, JULY 24, 1941. Japanese politicians are extremely difficult to understand. Not so in Japan. It is not so in Japan...

At a comparatively early stage in the history of the South African Air Force (the 1st S.A. Division) left this theatre of operations after their successful but short campaign in southern Abyssinia...

It emerges, therefore, that far from containing a large force suitable for operations in other theatres, the South African Air Force is a very small force. It is a very small force. It is a very small force...

Our capture in war material were colonial when measured by the size of the force we are now maintaining. It is very greatly to our credit that we have managed to do this...

The following survey, from a military source, gives what may be described as a bird's-eye view of the recently completed operations in the Italian theatre. It is a summary of the progress made in the Italian theatre, from the capture of Addis Ababa to the present position. It is a summary of the progress made in the Italian theatre, from the capture of Addis Ababa to the present position.

At no time did the British forces take more than 20,000 infantry; at no time did they have more than 50 field guns. Owing to the difficulties of maintenance, it was necessary to employ more than three Brigades of Infantry. These were one time in offensive operations against the enemy. And they were troops overcame 200,000 infantry, with 400 tanks, 200 aircraft, and an army totaling 100,000 fighting men.

The effect which secured these results was a result of the fact that the British forces were recruited from the United States, Canada, and other countries. They were trained in the United States and were used in the Italian theatre. They were trained in the United States and were used in the Italian theatre.

Working in the most difficult conditions, the British forces were able to capture Addis Ababa. They were able to capture Addis Ababa. They were able to capture Addis Ababa. They were able to capture Addis Ababa.
