OLD BONES BRING FAME TO FARMER

A CREATOR, neither age nor time, and believed to have lived 140,000 years ago, has been named after the Kenya farmer, Mr. Frederick Winkler, who discovered the site at Fort Lindsay where some of his fossilized remains were excavated.

The fossils (Kenya gibbons whom, together with others of "dwarf" dimension, inhabit pockets of the African tropics from India to Mauritius, and are exhibited at the Carnegie Museum between December 22 and January 15 by the man who discovered them. Dr. L. S. B.
Leakey, anthropologist and former curator of the museum, has said in the statement that the monkey creature was "found in the direction of east, much more so than anything we know of in the prehistoric period."

Dr. Leakey and his team are working to find the "dwarf" rhino site near Kericho and are hoping to recover more remains to add to the few already upper jaw and a lower tooth belonging to this new, Kenya Lower Pleistocene primate.
Many reports
"It is more advanced than the Proconsul (a primitive approaching that of the modern man) found at Kericho in 1948) and there is little doubt that when the general excavation season comes to an end next March, we shall have more information about the creature," he added.
It was building the fossil on site at this stage only because of the muddy rocks.

TWELVE FREE BOOKLETS...

OFFERED TO YOU BY THE OLD MUTUAL IN THEIR HEALTH AND WELFARE SERIES.

The publication of the series "Baby's Book" in April, 1959, marked the introduction of this series, which now deals with a variety of health topics.

The booklets form part of the Mutual's Health and Welfare Campaign, which has a fundamental concern, on all, for with a greater knowledge of health matters, people are better equipped to take care of their own health. To obtain any of these informative booklets, completed and return the coupon below. New postcards to the series will be announced at regular intervals through the pages of the press.

BELLS WILL RING OUT MESSAGE OF HOPE

THE Christmas bells pealing joyously from the tower of the church bell over the spot where Christ was born, will ring new years of total destruction. These aged-old messages of peace to all men of good-will will still ring over a troubled year, for and near.

In most countries will be able to rest over such a white making and devotion.

Pilgrims flock to town of Nativity

Christmas Around The World

By AVE HALLERSTEN

PILGRIMS, making their way to Bethlehem, are flocking to the town of Nativity, where the birth of Christ was celebrated.

The town is a small village, but it has become a center of pilgrimage for Christians from all over the world.

The pilgrims are flocking to the town of Nativity, where the birth of Christ was celebrated.

Carols all the way

DON'T BE SHOCKED: CRITICS CAN ALSO SING GOOD WILL

THE first play I ever attempted as a critic was a Christmas carol. It was a rather simple affair, but it was a good one. It was a Christmas carol, and it was a good one.

As a critic, I have often been asked to write a Christmas carol. It is a time when the radio is a busy place and the broadcast is a busy one.

FINDING OUT

a new magazine to help your child with exams

"Finding Out" is different from ordinary magazines. It has been designed with the special purpose of helping children — especially those in the 11-14 age group — with examinations. "Finding Out" is packed with easy-to-understand features and "question and answer" articles. Many articles, too, are based on the kind of facts used in many examinations.

Each issue of "Finding Out" is self-contained. But for best results your child should read "Finding Out" regularly each week. You can get handsome full-colour binders from your newsagent so that "Finding Out" can be collected and kept for future reference.

Finding Out produced in collaboration with leading educational authorities.

Finding Out packed with lively and stimulating articles in full colour.

KASHMIR TALKS SETBACK

Pakistan Agreement with China

TALKS between India and Pakistan, aimed at ending the 15-year-old Kashmir dispute, ended in a strained atmosphere at New Delhi.

The cause was the surprise overnight announcement that Pakistan and China had reached an agreement on their Himalayan frontier—that part of Kashmir in Pakistan's hands.

The news came in the Simla-Indian border district in the city of Simla, which is part of Indian-occupied Kashmir. Yesterday's first session of the two-day talks was adjourned after the breakdown of the negotiations. Sardar Swaran Singh, and the Pakistani Ambassador, the British had made opening statements.

Mr. CHOU CHIDES INDIA

Chinese Prime Minister Chou En-lai rebuffed the Indian offer of a meeting to discuss the Kashmir dispute. He said that the Indian offer was "not a meeting but a demand for a meeting".

East Africa Holiday was quiet

Christmas Eve was a quiet day in East Africa, with most shops and offices closed. The holiday was generally unremarkable, with some minor shopping and social gatherings.

UP-COUNTRY

The transport of goods to inland areas remains a challenge. Limited road infrastructure and scarce motor vehicles hinder the movement of supplies from the coast to the interior.

Kampala hotel to get new look

The Imperial Hotel in Kampala is undergoing a major renovation project. The new design aims to modernize the building while retaining its historical architectural elements.

Holiday parties in East Africa

Despite the quiet holiday period, festive parties and gatherings were held in various cities across East Africa. The celebrations were often characterized by traditional music and dance.

Serengeti Game Park

Wildlife sightings in the Serengeti National Park include lions, elephants, and various bird species. The park continues to attract tourists from around the world.

Sportsmen

Local sports events are in full swing, with football and athletics being the most popular. Competitions are taking place in various stadiums across the region.

Among friends by E.A.I.

East African Airways is expanding its routes and services. The airline offers regular flights to major cities in Africa and Europe, providing a convenient mode of transport for passengers.

Your child needs help

Parents are encouraged to support their children's education. The K.A.D.U. Election Committee is active in promoting literacy and skill development programs for youth.

Cunard

Cunard Line is operating regular services between the UK and East Africa. The company's fleet includes large, modern cruise ships that offer luxury travel experiences.

Queen Mary & Queen Elizabeth

These two iconic ships are being prepared for their final voyages. The Queen Elizabeth 2 is set to make a historic journey around the world.

WEEK END STANDARD ON MOUNT KENYA FOR 14,000ft. AIR DROP

By JEAN VAUGHAN

PARACHUTES landed in the early morning sky as the big air force's annual week-end exercise and camp — the climax of days of practice in the use of the R.A.F.'s big drop of material for low land operations.

BETTER TRAINING

The more common and difficult the exercise in which the troops drop their supplies, the better the training. This was the aim of the exercise, which was held on the slopes of Mount Kenya.

For the smile that lasts a lifetime—Amm-i-dent

Only with sound health teeth can you and your children enjoy the glorious sparkling smiles that make life so much more fun. How then to guard against the germ that causally work to cause dental decay?

This answer is Amm-i-dent toothpaste. In Amm-i-dent years of research have produced a formula which combats the germs of tooth decay. Many clinical tests have shown that Amm-i-dent reduces dental caries considerably. Yet Amm-i-dent is also smooth, rich in delicate flavors and is the most refined available in favour. For the future of your family's teeth and your own, buy Amm-i-dent toothpaste. Your dentist or your chemist will tell you how to avoid it.

It's Your Year party

It's time to celebrate your birthday with a special party. The "Year Party" is a new idea for celebrating your birthday. It's a party that's all your own. You can choose the theme, the decorations, the food, and the entertainment. It's a party that's all your own. You can choose the theme, the decorations, the food, and the entertainment. It's a party that's all your own. You can choose the theme, the decorations, the food, and the entertainment.

Carry your car, Miss?

There is nothing that university students like better than trying out a new sport—swallowing live gold fish, cranking into telephone boxes, wheeling "bowl" beds along the road—and claiming a new world record.

The latest, originating in Brazil, is "conquering" the sea. It's a simple. The athlete, preferably one with a perfectly good car, places the car on the back of a football field. Then the football team, with one exception, will carry the car to the end of the field. The exception is the driver, who will carry the car to the end of the field. The exception is the driver, who will carry the car to the end of the field.

AN AUTHOR SEEKS HIS IDENTITY

BY FIONA WHITCOMBE

JOHN WAIN'S autobiography, Spirally Down, is a rather obscure book. It is not a story, but a groping, unexciting—described so easily in the publisher's blurb, in psychological jargon, the author's "identity." The book takes into three parts. It was not necessary to read the book to know that the author had written it. The book takes into three parts. It was not necessary to read the book to know that the author had written it. SOBERS FOUL BY RAIN

M.C.C. avoid defeat in day of drama

By LESLIE SMITH, Star's Special Correspondent.

THE West Indian bowler, Garfield Sobers, was out at Glamis in an effort to bring South Australia a dramatic victory over M.C.C. in Adelaide yesterday.

He might have succeeded but for rain which caused a hold-up of 50 minutes, and finally ended play shortly.

The rain drove with South Australia 110 runs for at the close after being out to make 300 in 240 minutes. M.C.C. declared their second innings at 197 for six when Sobers' declaration was fairly generous — but only because South Australia had Sobers in their net.

It is notable of practically anything.

South Australia had a top score of 110 in 150 minutes. The first day of the match was a success for South Australia, who were bowled out for 110 runs in 150 minutes. The second day was a failure for South Australia, who were bowled out for 110 runs in 150 minutes.

SCORBOARD

First day: M.C.C. 110, S.A. 110. Second day: M.C.C. 197, S.A. 110.

Barrington on top

K. BARRINGTON was the star of the first day, taking 10 wickets for 47 runs. He was the only bowler to take a five-wicket haul in the match.

HONOURS OF COMMONWEALTH KNIGHTHOODS for G.O.C. and Minister

HONOURS for East African figures prominently in the Queen's New Year Honours List, published today. Knighthoods go to the G.O.C., East Africa, Maj. Gen. R. E. Goodwin, the former Deputy Governor of Uganda, Mr. G. B. Cartland, and the Kenya Minister for Agriculture, Mr. W. B. Havlock. (Full details of East African awards, and citations, in Page 5.)

They are among hundreds of the Queen's Commonwealth subjects of all races and from many walks of life who receive honours ranging from an oar-dism — which goes to the Labour Party veteran Viscount Alexander of Hillsborough, who started work as a 1/2-week office boy — to the British Empire Medal, one of the recipients of which is Mr. Modan Sata Singh, an East African roads inspector.

The Kenya awards are notable for their variety and for the number of women among them. These include Miss J. M. A. Stott, Principal of the Kenya Girls' High School (O.B.E.); Lieut. Col. Ann Nichol, Matron of the British Military Hospital (O.B.E.); and Miss M. C. B. Ratt, personal secretary to the Minister of Labour (M.B.E.).

Mr. C. H. Maule, better known as Donovan Maule, actor-manager of the Donorva Maule Theatre, is also appointed an O.B.E., and the same award goes to one of the most famous of Kenya chiefs, Chief Mbatia, of Nyero, who is praised for his fearless opposition to Mau Mau violence.

C.B.E. for former adviser

In the full list of honours one new Companion of Honour is created — Sir Keith Holyoake, Prime Minister of New Zealand, which is the highest honour in New Zealand which is valid only in that country. Sir Keith, aged 66, is a farmer who first came to N.Z. in 1912. He has been Premier of New Zealand since 1947.

The former constitutional adviser on Kenya, Prof. W. G. B. Ratt, personal secretary to the Government of Manchester University, is appointed a Commander-of-the-Order of the British Empire. His task was to advise the British Government on Kenya with a view to advising the participation in the 1950 conference.

President Sir Gerald Rennie, Governor Sir Philip Gurnea, Chief of Police Sir John Gurnea, and other senior officials are also mentioned in the honours list.

Other honours include Sir John Gurnea, Chief of Police, and other senior officials. The honours list also includes several knights and dames.

BOOST OVERSEAS AID—PREMIER

THE need to raise the living standards of the nearly 2,000,000,000 people in the 'less developed' countries was stressed by the British Prime Minister, Mr. Aneurin Bevan, yesterday.

Two in every three of the world's inhabitants lived in the less-developed countries, with living standards far below those of even the poorest among us, he said. To help raise poor standards is our Christian duty. It is also in our own interest, for poverty, ignorance and disease are fertile soil for Communism, infiltration and infection.

Mr. Bevan said that such people are in their millions, and that the world's resources are not being used to their full advantage. He called for a 'New Year message' to be broadcast in all the Commonwealth countries, and for the British Government to lead the way.

REVIVAL OF INTEREST IN FARMS

Message from K.N.F.U. leader

The departure from Kenya of those who had planted their fingers in the country's economy has been a tremendous blow to the farming population, the president of the Kenya National Farmers' Union, David Dabane, said yesterday. In a New Year message, David Dabane said he saw no reason to give back to the man who is expressed in a New Year message to the farmers.

One man that despite the undoubted difficulties that lay ahead there was a lasting future for the Kenyan farmer in Kenya, and that Kenya's postwar economy would suffer irreparable damage if it was deprived of the commercial and agricultural units which had been built up in the first half of the century.

The things were needed to make the best of Kenya's situation, and Dabane said. These were the training of men and women, and eventually a spirit of tolerance and tolerance of all races. It was his intention to achieve the second point, that the K.N.F.U. could be the leading force in this.

Finally, the official, from the European community of the past and shipped by only ten per cent - between 1950 and 1955, in the post-war years while Africa's economy was steadily increasing.

Many coming back

There are the most encouraging feature is the number of European farmers in the area of purchase for settlement who are returning to the country. This is a development from which the farmer can benefit. Many of these men are returning to the country to make themselves useful. They are bringing with them a lot of experience and know-how. Many of them had left Kenya to investigate the situation of the country in Kenya.

The Minister of Agriculture, Mr. Dabane, said that the Government was making every effort to assist the returning farmer. He said that the Government was making every effort to assist the returning farmer. He said that the Government was making every effort to assist the returning farmer.

Australian methods impress Kenyan

A lecturer at St. John's Teachers' Training College, Nairobi, has returned from a study tour in Australia, impressed by the methods used there.

Mr. Wambugi said teachers had a great responsibility to play in the training of Africa's youth. They are to destroy the three Africa's great enemies - ignorance, poverty and disease. The fight against ignorance is a great and it is, first, the lack of knowledge and secondly, the lack of the necessary skills and techniques which have to be developed before the continent can advance. To break this vicious circle, the continent must co-operate with the teachers' organisations in fighting the continent's three great enemies - ignorance, poverty and disease. To achieve this, the governments of Africa should co-operate with the teachers' organisations in fighting the continent's three great enemies - ignorance, poverty and disease.

FARMERS AVOIDING CLASH Party hatches men' jailed for locking up opponent

It was hoped that the Kenya National Farmers' Union and the Kenya National Teachers' Union would co-operate in the fight against the government's policy of closing the Government schools in the girls' high schools. However, the two organisations have failed to reach an agreement, and the government has decided to proceed with its policy.

Position changed The government has decided to proceed with its policy of closing the Government schools in the girls' high schools. This decision has caused a great deal of concern among the teachers' organisations, who are worried that this will lead to a loss of jobs and a decline in the quality of education.

IT'S WARM FOR SOME

It is now time to think of the winter season... The weather is becoming colder... It is time to get warm.

Teenager champion jockey of America SURGE TO FAME

His career rode a winner until successful in a little over a month in Maryland, on November 25, 1961. And now success. He has been riding winners at a rate averaging three a day and was now the 400 mark at the end of the year.

BERGMANN 'ENLISTS' WITH U.S.

Richard Bergmann, the former world champion table tennis player, has resigned from The English Table Tennis Association to join the American team.

U.K. weekend soccer threatened by snow

The Football Association has warned that the weekend soccer matches in the United Kingdom may be threatened by heavy snow.

ROY EMERSON SEEDED NO. 1 IN AUSTRALIA

Roy Emerson has been seeded as the number one player in the Australian Open tennis tournament.

TRIAL POSTPONED BY IGY WEATHER

The expedition to Antarctica has been postponed due to bad weather conditions.

Buy a still cheaper in London

Buy a still cheaper in London
 This is the only car in the world which is still cheaper in London than in any other part of the world.
 The reason for this is simple. The car is built in England and its parts are made in England. Therefore, the cost of transport and importation is saved.
 The car is still cheaper in London because of the high exchange rate of the pound sterling.
 The car is still cheaper in London because of the low cost of labor in England.
 The car is still cheaper in London because of the high quality of the car.

NO SPECIAL SOLUTIONS

Mr. Butler, speaking at a meeting in London, said that the government would not attempt to solve the problem of the Middle East by special measures. He stressed that the government's policy was to maintain a consistent approach to the region, focusing on the well-being of the people and the stability of the area.

The government's policy is to maintain a consistent approach to the region, focusing on the well-being of the people and the stability of the area. Mr. Butler emphasized that special measures would not be taken, as the government believed in the strength of the law and the principles of justice.

The grand aim of British policy

Mr. Butler stated that the grand aim of British policy in the Middle East was to ensure the well-being of the people and the stability of the area. He argued that this could only be achieved through a consistent and principled approach, rather than special measures.
