UNIONS WILL GET 'EVERY CHANCE'

Policy of Kenya Government ACTING LABOUR COMMISSIONER ON FUNCTION OF WAGES COUNCILS

The Government policy will regard trade unions in Kenya as clearly defined to a large measure and by the Acting Labour Commissioner, Mr. J. C. Carpenter, who has given an account of the new Regulations of Wages and Conditions of Employment Bill to the Council of Ministers. The Bill had been sent to Great Britain for general consideration by the authorized minister.

And that Bill makes it quite clear that we are going to continue in the manner which we have pursued of giving trade unions every opportunity to contribute to the process of making it clear that registration of a union will depend on whether that union, in fact, is able to fulfill the functions which it claims to perform.

We have asked that there shall be a preliminary period for three months before the registration of a union will be made.

If registration was refused the union should have the right to appeal to a court and the regulations would have to stand in the meantime.

In the new Bill Mr. Carpenter outlined the functions which would be expected of a union in the first three months of its registration.

These functions are: to elect a representative committee; to elect a representative committee; to elect a representative committee.

HEAVY RAINS BRING A TOUCH OF VENICE TO DUNDEE

THE SCOTTISH CHRONICLE

SCOTLAND'S rivers last few days have exhibited the special attributes of flood-rivers, transferred by rain, which seemed as though it could never stop, was fast enough, but Fife and Dundee were better off.

In the latter, streets become rivers—so that rival Venetian scenes were able to reflect that with Edinburgh calling itself the Northern Athens, and Aberdeen setting up as the Northern Paris, they might well wish to be the Northern Venice.

In some coastal Fife villages, rangers woke through the night to find that they were fast asleep in the cradle of the down, and were unable to get out of their beds, but it was not so generally estimated, as the flood-rivers were, for the reason that the water was not so high as in the other parts of the country.

A view of St. Andrew from the sea, showing the town and the sea.

It is a very beautiful view, and the town is very attractive. The water is very clear, and the sky is very blue.

HISTORY AND THE RAILWAY GO TOGETHER

RIGHT years ago a devoted team took to produce a history of the Kenya Railway. The intention was that publication should coincide with the Jubilee of the line in 1945, but the postponement of the war prevented this. The book is now published and has been well received.

The book is written by the late Sir J. H. M. Smith, who was the first Controller of the Kenya Railway. It is a comprehensive history of the railway from its inception in 1901 to the present day.

The book is written in a clear and concise style, and is well illustrated with photographs and maps. It is a valuable reference work for anyone interested in the history of the railway.

It is available in paperback for 10/- and in hardcover for 20/-.
